County To Reduce Pay of Employees To Prevent Deficit

Fulton Commissioners Decide on Program of Strict Economy at Meeting Held Friday.

AID GIVEN ATLANTA WILL BE LIMITED

Donations Usually Made by Board for Entertainment of Conventions Will Be Discontinued.

Fulton county next year will be operated on a program of the strictest economy, expenditures for city projects, charities and civic enterprises will be curtailed, and salaries of employees will be slashed to the extent of approximately $200,000 in order to maintain the credit of the county and thus prevent a tax raise.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the Fulton county commissioners held Friday afternoon, when plans were made to reduce anticipated revenues from the $2,400,000 of the present year to at least $2,000,000 in 1929.

Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the commission, declared the county is in no financial peril, and that a raise in taxes can be averted by adherence to the program as mapped out by the commission Friday afternoon.

Will Cooperate With City.

"We took this stand to prevent imperiling the credit of the county and to prevent a tax hike," he said. "Necessarily in the program, we must cease appropriations to certain civic enterprises to which we have contributed to heretofore. This, however, does not mean that we will cease to cooperate with the city government or that we will fail to assist wherever we can. It does mean that we must adopt, temporarily at least, a program of retrenchment."

"This year we donated $100,000 in cash and $50,000 in labor to assist the city in making a large appropriation to the schools of Atlanta. We also assisted financially on several other important projects, bringing the total to about $600,000. In the future we must confine our contributions to labor, which we can supply with convicts. Under the law, we are required to feed, clothe and guard a certain number of convicts. It will be our purpose to supply work on city projects instead of making money contributions."

Tax Rate Unchanged.

The commission set the same tax rate for 1929 as prevailed this year, $1.10 on city property and $1.85 on county property lying outside the city limits. It is estimated that the income from these taxes will be $3,262,000 and that the county's revenue from all sources will be $4,118,868.64.

An extensive survey of the salary schedule of the county has been under

GRAND OLD MAN OF MISSISSIPPI DEFENDS TAMMANY

Indianola, Miss., September 7.—(AP) The south owes Tammany Hall "a deep and ineffaceable debt of gratitude" John Sharp Williams, former senator from Mississippi, told Otho C. Stubblefield, Indianola, in a letter made public today.

"It (Tammany Hall) was our friend in our hour of need when we had mighty few friends north of the Mason and Dixon line," the former senator said.

"Although Tilden had Boss Tweed put behind the bars, it voted for Tilden," Mr. Williams said, "and although it opposed Cleveland and Bryan, it supported both.

"It opposed the 'Force bill' and stood by the southern white people from the day Lee surrendered to now.

"It is a political machine and, of course, is not composed of angels and has some very black spots in its record, but it is an angel of light compared with the foul republican machines of Philadelphia, Chicago and half a dozen other large cities."

RIVERS PLEDGES NATIONAL TICKET SUPPORT IN RACE

Candidate Tells Atlanta Audience Entire Campaign Machinery Is at Disposal of Democracy.

Governor L. G. Hardman "is still pussyfooting" concerning his support of the democratic national ticket, while his opponent, State Senator E. D. Rivers, not only has announced his adherence to the democratic ticket, but his campaign manager, Roy V. Harris, more than six weeks ago turned over the entire Rivers campaign machinery to John R. Slater, chairman of the state democratic committee, to be used in support of the national ticket, according to statements made by Senator Rivers in an address delivered Friday night at the Atlanta theater.

In clear-cut language Senator Rivers denied categorically Hardman charges that he is not supporting the ticket and, in turn, charged that Governor Hardman "not only is pussyfooting," but also "is double dealing" on this question. The governor has two campaign managers, one of them supporting Al Smith and the other supporting Herbert Hoover, according to Senator Rivers. The governor "is trying to ride two horses and is going to get thrown from them both," according to the speaker, who also charged that the governor's brother, T. C. Hardman, is writing Hoover editorials for a religious publication of Atlanta "with the governor's knowledge and approval."

Rivers Assails Governor.

Senator Rivers spoke before a crowd that packed the first floor of the theater to capacity and overflowed into the aisles and lobbies. The crowd heard him assail the governor because of various campaign charges which, he branded as being in many instances "slanderous." It heard him attack men whom he characterized as "speakers and professional writers hired by the week to conduct a political campaign" for the governor. And it heard him take up six questions which his opponent asked him "through advertisements that cost him $6,300."

Walter Stewart, chairman of the Fulton county commission, presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker. He declared that Senator Rivers is a young man "who has the laudable ambition to become governor of Georgia.

"He is honest, capable and sincere, full of energy, and when he is governor he will make a record of which we will all be proud," Mr. Stewart said.

Senator Rivers declared, in beginning his speech, that he had hoped to have his opponent divide time with him at his Atlanta engagement. He said he had written the governor an invitation and the governor had declined. He said there might have been some reason why the governor could not leave his office to meet him in debate in other parts of the state but declared that "here under the shadow of the capitol with no duty to be shirked and no expense to be incurred" the governor had no excuse for failure to "meet him face to face."

"Any man who cannot meet his opponent face to face in a political campaign at least one time and defend or sustain his charges is not worthy of election as governor of Georgia," Senator Rivers said.

Answers Hardman Questions.

Taking up the six questions asked him recently by Governor Hardman through the Hardman campaign committee Senator Rivers said the governor did not ask these questions "in good faith," asserting that the governor had unlimited money to spend and was inserting the charges in newspapers" knowing that I have no

STOCK PRICES HIT NEW HIGHS AS BULLS BUY

Fifty Issues Raised to New Levels in Wild Day on Wall Street; Steel Advances.

4,782,000 SHARES SOLD IN DAY

Third Largest Turnover in History Recorded as Chrysler, Sears-Roebuck and Oils Advance.

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL.
Associated Press Financial Editor.

New York, September 7.—(AP)—The New York Stock exchange today was the scene of one of the wildest "bull" markets in history.

The "bull" movement gathered such terrific momentum from the unexpectedly small increase of $54,000,000 in brokers' loans that prices were whirled upward $2 to nearly $20 a share before the usual week-end profit taking checked the advance, and cut down some of the early gains. Fifty issues crashed through to new high records, including such popular shares as Chrysler, U. S. Steel common, Sears Roebuck and Tidewater Associated Oil.

Average Is Lifted.

The average of 20 leading industrial issues, compiled by the Associated Press, was lifted more than 1 1-4 points to a new high record for all time. Total sales of 4,782,000 shares have been exceeded only twice before and both times in the "bull" market of last spring.

So great was the avalanche of buying orders that poured into the floor from all sections of the country, and even from ships at sea and from foreign capitals, that the ticker quickly fell half an hour behind the market and remained that way all day. Relays of operators, using the abbreviated quotation system, tried desperately to keep pace with the trading.

Wild Confusion.

Wild confusion developed in many of the leading commission houses because of the inability to get prompt reports of orders from the floor.

From time to time word was flashed that active stocks were selling on the floor several points away from the prices being printed on the tape. For instance, when Montgomery-Ward was setting a record high price at $242 a share on the floor, the stock quotation on the tape was still being printed at $229. U. S. Steel common sold above $158 a share on the floor when the price was being printed a points or more lower on the tape.

District Crowded.

Street, hallways and building elevators in the financial district were crowded with messenger boys and broker house runners trying to make stock deliveries within the stipulated time. Many houses pressed additional

WILLIAM M'BRIDE COMMITS SUICIDE

Former Atlanta Public Accountant Shoots Himself Through Heart at Home in Miami.

Miami, Fla., September 7.—(AP)—William J. McBride, 52, former public accountant of Atlanta, Ga., and the manager of a fashionable apartment building here, shot and killed himself tonight in the bedroom of his apartment while his wife was entertaining guests at a bridge party in an adjoining room. He had been ill more than a year, friends said.

Mrs. McBride and her guests, who included two prominent Miami attorneys and their wives, heard Mr. McBride move about the bedroom 15 minutes before the shot was fired. They investigated and Mr. McBride told them that he was looking for a match. They resumed the bridge game and shortly after heard the shot. When they entered the room they found McBride lying on a bed with a bullet through his heart, police said. The revolver had dropped from his hand to the floor. He died immediately.

Mr. McBride came here three years ago from Atlanta. He studied law at the University of Georgia and was a member of the Chi Phi fraternity. He was a member of a prominent Atlanta family. The body will be sent to Atlanta for burial.

Mr. McBride was a well known Atlantan and for many years was connected with the New York Life Insurance company. He left Atlanta three years ago to enter business in Miami.

In addition to his widow he is survived by a daughter, Miss Leila Mae McBride, of Miami, and two sisters, Mrs. George Adair and Mrs. Frank Mitchell, both of Atlanta.

Flood Warning.

Washington, September 7.—(United News.)—The United States weather bureau tonight ordered flood warnings posted for the Oconee, Ocmulgee and Altamaha rivers of Georgia.

Depleted Treasury Of Baptist Board Is Aided by Gifts

ATLANTA BAPTISTS OFFER LARGE LOAN

Every Effort Is Being Made To Apprehend Clinton Carnes; Reorganization Plans Pushed

Voluntary contributions to the depleted treasury of the Baptist home mission board probably will assure enough funds for temporary operation of the board, Dr. Arch C. Cree, acting executive secretary, declared Friday, as checks and money orders poured in from all over the south—the first response to an informal appeal of the board to its constituency for financial assistance.

Each mail Friday helped to swell the much-needed fund to carry on the work of the board whose treasury was paralyzed through the reported shortage of $1,000,000 in the accounts of Clinton S. Carnes, its treasurer, who has been missing since August 15.

A fervent appeal to all Atlanta Baptists to make a special contribution to the mission fund to offset the Carnes shortage was made following a conference of pastors and laymen late Friday afternoon in the offices of the mission board. This special contribution will be taken up Sunday in all Atlanta churches or may be made at any other time through the various pastors.

At the meeting of the Atlanta leaders, Dr. L. S. A. Fuller, pastor of the First Baptist church, announced that the board of deacons at a meeting earlier in the day voted to advance as a loan to the mission board the sum of $40,000 for the purpose of paying the August salaries of the office force and missionary workers of the board.

In responding for the board, Dr. Cree, the acting executive secretary, said that although he received the offer with pleasure and much thanks he felt confident that it would not be necessary to accept the loan inasmuch as he believed it certain that members of the Atlanta Baptist churches would more than supply this amount by their special contributions. Dr. Cree informed Dr. Fuller that in the event that the special contributions did not realize enough to pay the office force and missionary salaries he would be glad to accept the offer of the First Baptist.

"Our people will not permit the misdeeds of any one man to stop the great work of the home mission board," Dr. Cree said. "We have met only a temporary setback and the operations of the board doubtless will not be hindered. Of course there are some who will refuse to give because of the cause for the special contributions, but the great majority of our people realize that this calamity was

PARTY'S INCOME $456,000 IN MONTH

Four Gifts of $50,000 and Many Smaller Amounts Reported by Raskob to Congress.

New York, September 7.—(AP)—Colonel Herbert H. Lehman, treasurer of the democratic national committee, tonight issued a financial statement showing August campaign contributions of $455,797.14 and disbursements during the month of $438,919.55.

The report showed a balance of $220,815.52 at the end of August after all monthly expenses had been paid. The balance carried over from July was $192,752.70.

Of the total expenditures, $109,181.78 was for publicity and advertising; $143,130 for advances and contributions to state committees; $59,733.97 for salaries, and $125,873.80 for rentals, traveling expenses, telephone and telegraph equipment.

The last item included also expenses incidental to notification ceremonies of Governor Smith and Senator Robinson, including payment for radio hook-ups on both ceremonies.

The report showed four $50,000 contributions, six of $10,000, one of

SOUTH'S SHIPPERS PLAN CAMPAIGN

"The South, Incorporated," Will Seek To Increase Trade Through Ports.

Biloxi, Miss., September 7.—(AP)—A unique plan to sell the south to itself and, if successful, sell it to the world, was advanced here today in the tentative formation of "The South, Incorporated."

This corporation is expected by its founders to become a driving force to stimulate the southward movement of industry and to increase the flow of foreign commerce through southern ports.

The infant organization was placed on its feet today by P. E. O'Dell, general manager of the Gulf, Mobile and Northern railway and father of the idea, at a joint meeting of supporters of the plan and delegates to the southeast shippers' advisory board.

Penny-Wise Mind.

In unfolding his plan, Mr. O'Dell declared there was no need of going into it in a penny-wise frame of mind as its success would depend upon money, organization, work, zeal and imagination.

The plan, he asserted, provides for an organization to operate at least ten years with capital of $5,000,000, of which $500,000 would be spent annually in placing representatives in the trade centers of the world, advertising and generally promoting southern industry.

"The South, Incorporated," he added, will have six departments, industrial, legislative, advertising and trade extension, general development, statistical and transportation, all designed to increase business.

Mr. O'Dell warned against jealousies and suspicions of communities and urged development of an international state of mind.

Machine Empire.

"We do not want a machine empire," he continued. "We do not wish to sacrifice our culture, creeds and happiness, but we do want the prosperity that is rightfully ours. A close union of the south can accomplish this."

After his address a steering committee was appointed to perfect the

LOOKOUT MOUNT GUARDS 7 STATES FOR DEMOCRACY

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 7.—(United News.)—Looking into seven states from Lookout mountain today, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, democratic candidate for vice president, said, "we will carry them all."

The states are Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Virginia and North and South Carolina.

ROWLAND SPEEDS OVER SOUTHWEST TO LEAD DERBY

Fort Worth, September 7.—(AP)—Speeding southward across southern Oklahoma and northern Texas, at the same gruelling pace he has set since Wednesday, Earl Rowland, of Wichita, Kans., led class A, transcontinental air racers across the finish line here today to maintain his advantage for the third successive day. Rowland's maroon-nosed Cessna monoplane landed at municipal airport at 1:07 o'clock, 25 minutes in advance of Robert Dake's American Moth.

"Alky" Racket Chieftain Is Slain in Loop as Thousands See Assassins Make Escape.

HOME OF POLICE OFFICER BOMBED

Killing Is Renewal of Struggle for Supremacy in Beer War; Bombing Is Reprisal for Raids.

Chicago, September 7.—(United News.)—Boldly defying the law today, the underworld spoke with bombs and bullets in two separate outbursts which resulted in damaging a police captain's home and in the death of Tony Lombardo, reputed liquor "king" and former henchman of Al "Scarface" Capone.

The shooting of Lombardo in the center of the loop district was the most daring affront the underworld has made to the law in many months. Thousands of persons en route to their homes were thrown into a frenzy when two men drew revolvers from their pockets and shot down Lombardo and Jimmy Ferraro, a companion.

Ferraro is in a critical condition in a hospital. The shooting occurred at State and Madison in the heart of the loop.

The shooting occurred a few hours after the home of Captain Luke J. Garrick, commander of the Des Plaines street police station, was bombed. The bombing caused police heads to fear the underworld was preparing a resumption of reprisal attacks such as occurred here a few months ago.

Garrick had lead a squad of men armed with axes to crash the doors of the Minerva Inn, a noted gambling dive, and the bomb was believed to be the underworld's reply.

Lawrence "Dago" Mongano, owner of the gambling house, was arrested and booked for the bombing when witnesses told authorities he had boasted

Robinson Promises Early Disposition Of Muscle Shoals

Senator Pledges Sympathetic Action; Denounces Hoover's Stand on Prohibition.

ACCEPTANCE SAID TO BE AMBIGUOUS

G. O. P. Candidate Had Opportunity To Define Stand and Failed; Shows Democratic Position.

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 7.—(AP)—A promise that the democratic party, if placed in power, would make immediate disposition of the Muscle Shoals problem was made tonight by Senator Robinson, democratic vice presidential nominee.

Departing from his prepared address, the senator declared the Muscle Shoals problem should be worked out at once for development if shoals properties might be expected to bring incalculable benefits.

"Governor Smith is concerned with water-power development," he said, "and he, like myself, is in accord with the party platform declaration on this question.

"If the democrats are placed in power," the senator declared, "I pledge you quick and fair disposition of Muscle Shoals will be made in accordance with the democratic platform."

Herbert Hoover's utterances on prohibition were fired upon tonight by Senator Robinson who declared the republican standard bearer could have "readily relieved the subject of an ambiguity by a frank statement such as has been made by Governor Smith."

The democratic vice presidential nominee said that "national prohibition" had not been made an issue by either the republican or democratic platforms as both declared for enforcement of existing laws on the subject and that Mr. Hoover's reference to the "subject of modification requires explanation."

Defines Own Position.

Defining his own position on prohibition as a supporter of "all important prohibition measures brought forward during my services in both houses of congress," Mr. Robinson said Hoover in replying to the questionnaire sent out last winter to prospective candidates by Senator Borah, of Idaho, had declared against repeal of the eighteenth amendment, but "omits all reference to the question of modification."

"His characterization of national prohibition as an economic experiment that must be worked out constructively," the senator continued, "has provoked much discussion as to the meaning of the candidate.

Hoover Given Chance.

"Ample opportunity was afforded Mr. Hoover to make clear his meaning in his speech of acceptance. The general concensus of opinion seems to be that he failed to do this. His reference to the subject of modification require explanation."

The senator, who was welcomed here by a crowd upon his arrival in mid-afternoon for his second speech in Tennessee, also quoted in part Hoover's reference to prohibition in his acceptance speech and declared that "no one proposes to so modify the enforcement laws as to 'permit that which the constitution forbids.'"

"Governor Smith's suggestion for modification of the Volstead act," he

AUTOISTS PICTURE FIGHTS WITH MUD ON GEORGIA ROADS

Practically All Prohibition Work North of Atlanta at Standstill, Due to Impassable Highways

More stories of trouble experienced by motorists in coming through north Georgia roads in the past few days over highways which have been transformed into mud-holes and slippery surfaces by this week's rains were told Friday by local garage men and by travelers.

Practically all north Georgia prohibition work, especially in the mountain section, has been held up by the rains, according to Howard P. Wright, deputy administrator for north Georgia. Mr. Wright said that his men are unable to reach the places where violations of the law have been reported, and that it is impossible for his agents to handle work of a definite character.

All of the roads in the mountain section of north Georgia have been reported to him as being in an impassable condition, as the least bit off the center of the road means trouble, and in large numbers of instances the agents are held up for hours because their cars are stuck in the mud, Mr. Wright said.

The Dallas-Rockmart-Cedartown road has been reported impassable for the past three days. The Carrollton road was said to be barely passable, while the Athens road was reported in bad condition because of a detour. The roads to LaGrange and Thomaston were said to be in good shape, as both of these routes are permanently surfaced.

Large Adds to Reports.

Postmaster E. K. Large, who reached Atlanta Friday morning after a motor trip to New Jersey, was asked for his opinion of the Georgia roads over which he traveled, and he said that the road from the Georgia line to Atlanta via Athens is in "pretty bad shape." Mr. Large said that he experienced no trouble until he struck the Georgia line, as all roads north of Georgia are in good shape.

Battle Mud and Holes.

Reports of the virtual impassability of north Georgia roads were borne out Friday night by Atlanta hotel men and commercial travelers who reached the city after battling mud and holes on several highways.

One salesman, from Asheville, N. C., reported that he left the Carolina city Thursday in ample time to reach Atlanta Thursday night, but that he was able to get only as far as Gainesville by midnight Thursday. Spending the night at Gainesville, he left shortly after breakfast for what is normally a two-hour ride and arrived in Atlanta at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, after what he described as a terrific battle with the mud.

Another traveler reported that the Neal's Gap road, a portion of the Scenic highway, was in bad condition. The Macon-Savannah road is reported passable, but extremely slippery, from Macon to Dublin, and almost as bad from Dublin into Savannah, with one particularly bad stretch. The direct route to Jacksonville, through Hawkinsville, Eastman, McRae and Lumber City, has been almost completely abandoned, it is reported, on account of the road condition, and travelers are forced to go by way of Cordele, Tifton, Valdosta and Lake City and then to Jacksonville, an out-of-the-way route.

Route Practically Impassable.

It is reported that the unpaved portions of the route from Barnesville to Americus, Albany and Thomasville are practically impassable, though the stretches which have received a permanent surface are said to be in excellent condition.

An Atlanta hotel man stated Friday night that a traveling man, reaching his hostelry, reported the Macon-Jacksonville road in "horrible shape." Because of his experience with mud and water, this particular traveler is planning to store his automobile in Atlanta and travel to his next destination—Alabama—by airplane. He is reported to have said that the Atlanta-Macon road is the only Georgia highway he would attempt to traverse with the roads in their present condition.

At Bell Brothers garage, where numbers of travelers arrive from all sections of the state every day, it was stated that the reports of Georgia roads show the highways to be in bad shape, except for those with permanent surfaces.

The road from Atlanta to Alabama via Rome is passable, though the lower route, to Montgomery, is in awful condition, it was said at the Bell Brothers garage. The Chattanooga road was said to be in a "half and half"

HUTCHESON MAKES ANSWER TO LETTER

Jonesboro, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Judge John B. Hutcheson, of the Stone Mountain circuit, indignantly denied today that any supporters of his, with his knowledge, consent or approval, have circulated any reports to the effect that his opponent is a candidate of the bootleggers, gamblers and immoral element, as was stated in recent news stories from Decatur.

Judge Hutcheson's statement follows:

"The letter written by the pastor and board of stewards of my opponent's church, which was published this morning, prompts me to make a brief reply and comment.

"Reports which come to me from every militia district in the circuit indicate I will carry avery county by a large majority, and I wish to thank friends generally for their cordial support of me.

"In the letter, signed by my opponent's pastor and the board of stewards of his church, comment is made upon the fact that reports have been circulated throughout the circuit that he is a candidate of the bootleggers, gamblers and immoral element, and the letter gives my opponent a cerificate of his good character and denies the truth of these reports.

Denies Knowledge.

"My only knowledge of these reports comes from having heard this letter read at political meetings and from having seen it published in the newspapers. I have not conducted any campaign of calumny; have circulated no reports of any sort about my opponent; and I want the people to know that such reports as have been circulated about him, if such has been done, come from persons acting upon their own responsibility and initiative, and without my knowledge, consent or direction.

"Some untrue reports have been circulated about me in this race, but I am not parading the fact before the public, as they are too absurd upon their face to require any comment. I do not wish to annoy the public with a recital of these unfounded reports, or with any answer to them, as those who know me place no credence in them. I do not feel that I need to present to the people of the Stone Mountain circuit any certificate of my character from any person whatsoever. If my holding the position of judge for nine years has not informed people of my qualities, no letters of indorsement could do so now.

"I want to conclude by saying that the support which I am getting comes from all parts of the circuit and from people in every walk in life."

Funeral services were held in the home at Chattahoochee Friday morning with Rev. T. B. Tribble officiating. Interment was in Salem cemetery.

FINDS PHILA. HUB OF BIG RUM RING

Philadelphia, September 7.—(AP)—Nation-wide ramifications of a Philadelphia rum ring were revealed by District Attorney Monaghan today.

He said he had evidence ready for presentation to the grand jury investigating the activities of bootleggers and gangsters showing that within the last two years the bootleg ring of which Max "Boo Boo" Hoff is alleged to be the head, had diverted more than 350,000 gallons of alcohol from a single distillery in this city "to all parts of the country." Hoff is a manager of prize fighters.

The prosecutor's announcement shared interest with an eight-page statement alleged to have been made by Edward S. Goldberg, dealer in machine guns and ammunition, declaring that Hoff had purchased from him three machine guns and a number of bulletproof vests such as were used by bootleggers and gangsters in their warfare for the control of the liquor business.

Goldberg Out on Bail.

Goldberg was released in $10,000 bail on a charge of perjury after he had dictated and signed the statement. After reciting his alleged dealings with Hoff and furnishing other names and dates to the investigators he was again taken before the grand jury.

The perjury charge was lodged against him after his first appearance before the jury on Wednesday. Assistant District Attorney Schofield, speaking for his chief, said Goldberg had "lied" because he was "afraid of gang revenge."

"We have evidence," Mr. Monaghan said today, "of bootlegging on an immense scale, of enormous sums paid for corruption of policemen and police officials. And we now have further evidence that violence, machine guns, bulletproof vests and intimidation go hand-in-hand with alcohol and murders on the highways.

"Documents in this office disclose diversion of more than 350,000 gallons of pure grain alcohol from a distilling plant in this city. It was shipped by railroad and truck to all parts of the United States, and this diversion was carried on by the bootleg ring which has been named throughout the grand jury investigation.

"The records tend to indicate that Philadelphia was one of the pivotal points in the country for the manufacture, on a large scale, and for the national distribution of alcohol."

Hoff was before the grand jury last night for the eighth time and when he was excused he was handed a subpoena to appear again today. He declined to comment on Goldberg's statement or to say whether the jurors had questioned him along that line.

Police answered Mayor Mackey's demand or a city-wide vice clean-up by raiding 17 speakeasies, cabarets, opium dens and saloons last night and early today.

In the Club Lido, one of the city's most popular cabarets, police found only one pint of liquid in the cloak room.

PRESIDENT'S SON TO BE R. R. MAN

New Haven, Conn., September 7.—(AP)—John Coolidge, the president's son, is going to be a railroad man. His job is with the New York, New Haven and Hartford—perhaps in the freight department—and he'll start at the bottom and work his way up.

News that young Coolidge had decided on his career came first today from Superior, Wis., where the executive offices of the summer white house are situated. It was quickly confirmed by E. G. Buckland, vice president of the road.

John himself was rather noncommittal. At the family home in Northampton, Mass., where he went earlier in the week, he said the report of his railroad job was "true as far as it goes," adding that any further comment by him might be embarrassing to the New Haven.

Mr. Buckland, however, made this statement.

"The matter of employment of John Coolidge is having favorable consideration. It is his desire to begin at the bottom and, depending solely upon his own efforts, to work his own way up and learn railroading. What kind of a job he will have or where he will be located is not yet determined."

The Superior dispatch said John expected to make his start in the freight department at Hartford, Conn., near the home at Plainville of Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of the Connecticut governor.

Coolidge came east to meet Miss Trumbull on her return from Europe. He probably will be a guest of the family in Maine before reporting for work.

The president's son was graduated last June from Amherst college, his father's alma mater.

NINE ALABAMANS MAY ESCAPE TRIALS

Hamilton, Ala., September 7.—(AP)—The possibility that second-degree murder charges against Robert Lancaster, of Tuscaloosa, and eight other former members of the Alabama national guard would not be recalled for trial, was being discussed unofficially here today following the third mistrial in Lancaster's fourth appearance before a jury in connection with the lynching in 1921 of Willie Baird, a Walker county coal miner.

Support to the belief that the now famous case would not again be called was given in the action of Judge E. B. Almon, in indefinitely postponing trials of the eight other defendants. No indication was given of when the Lancaster case would be reentered on the criminal docket. All the defendants were admitted to bond.

Attorney General Charlie C. McCall recently said his office would take no part in the trial of Lancaster. He was in Washington today and could not be reached for an expression of his attitude on future conduct of the cases.

Baird was being held a prisoner in the Walker county jail at Jasper for the murder of a national guardsman when he was taken from the jail by three men. His bullet-ridden body was found near Townley shortly afterward.

State witnesses identified Lancaster as being one of the three men. The defense confined its efforts to introduction of character witnesses, among them Governor Bibb Graves, under whom Lancaster served in France, and rebuttal testimony concerning his identification.

The trial ended today was the third time Lancaster had heard a jury foreman announce in court inability of the jurors to agree. His third trial resulted in a prison sentence of 15 years but this was reversed on a technicality through an appeal.

COOLIDGE MAY TAKE STUMP FOR HOOVER

Superior, Wis., September 7.—(AP)—Although still believing his best contribution to the republican campaign is to continue to so conduct public affairs that his administration may commend itself to the electorate, President Coolidge is willing to be guided by future developments and, if necessary, to deliver a speech or two before election day.

It was indicated the first opportunity for such an address might present itself during a visit to Vermont which the chief executive is planning to make shortly after his return to Washington next week.

Representative Newton, of Minnesota, head of the republican campaign speakers' bureau, conferred at length with Mr. Coolidge today regarding his party's plans to flood the country with republican stumpers, and sounded out the chief executive regarding his willingness to lend his voice to the aid of the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

After the conference Mr. Newton said he could not reveal the exact outcome of his conversation with Mr. Coolidge but stated that his call had been successful.

President Coolidge is at present engaged in correspondence with Governor Weeks, of Vermont, regarding details of his projected trip to his state, and is awaiting advice as to a suitable time to undertake the journey. It was indicated the chief executive would choose some special occasion giving him the opportunity to deliver an address to coincide with his presence in Vermont.

Representative Newton said he expected intensive republican speaking programs to begin about September 20 and to continue until election day. For this purpose he has the whole cabinet and a large group of prominent republicans signed up whom he will send throughout the country as the circumstances may require.

TURKS TO RETRY THREE U. S. WOMEN SCHOOL TEACHERS

Broussa, Turkey, September 7.—(AP)—Retrial of three American women teachers charged with religious propaganda in the American school here, has been set for September 17.

The first trial resulted in a sentence of three days' imprisonment against Miss Edith Sanderson, Berkeley, Calif.; Miss Lucille Day and Miss Jennie Jilson. The verdict was set aside by the court of appeals.

The upper court held that the local tribunal, in failing to provide an interpreter, had virtually tried the women's knowledge of the Turkish language as well as the propaganda charge. Also it found that some of the testimony should not have been admitted and that the court ignored essential points offered by the defense.

Miss Jilson, directress of the school, will probably be the only one to appear at the new trial. Miss Sanderson has returned to the United States and Miss Day is teaching at Saloniki, Greece.

GOVERNOR HORTON, SUDDENLY ILL, CANCELS HIS TRIP

Nashville, Tenn., September 7.—(AP)—Governor Henry Horton suffered an attack of acute indigestion at the mansion early today and was forced to cancel his planned trip to Chattanooga with Senator Joe Robinson and his party, where tonight the democratic vice presidential nominee is to deliver the second of his prepared addresses in Tennessee.

Contrary to the wishes of his physician, Governor Horton announced that he intended to meet Senator Robinson's party at Knoxville Saturday.

Governor Horton's condition is improved. Mrs. Horton said this morning.

THREE ARRESTED IN HOTEL SLAYING

Montgomery, Ala., September 7.—(AP)—Three persons were held by the police tonight in conection with the death of Mrs. E. A. Vaughn, wife of a transient waiter, who was found strangled in the woman's rest room of a local hotel Wednesday night with a belt drawn tightly about her neck. Her husband, who said his home was in Columbia, S. C., was one of those held.

Proceeding on information which they said was furnished them by the couple's five-year-old son, Billy, the police today procured the arrest in Birmingham of V. L. McDaniel, a traveling salesman, who occupied a room adjoining that in which the Vaughns were registered, and his return here on a charge of murder.

McDaniel declined to discuss the charge and Vaughn has denied any implication in his wife's death.

James McCall, a negro bell boy in the hotel, was also placed in the county jail, charged with implication in the murder. E. A. Vaughn, the woman's husband, has been in jail since the body of his wife was found in a kneeling position in the room with a belt drawn tightly around her neck. He denied having been implicated in the murder.

A coroner's verdict of suicide was changed Friday to death by strangulation after the lad had recounted to police movements of his father and mother Wednesday night.

:: CARELESS ACT TURNS ON DEADLY GAS ::

Without That Intention

Chicago, September 7.—(AP)—This is an account of the strange passing of John Buddesk, at the age of 40, and of the pair of pants that caused his death.

Peter Sazymonski was telling the police about it. He owed Buddesk money for rent and Buddesk pressed him for it.

"I'm sorry," said Sazymonski, "I cannot pay today. Tomorrow, perhaps, but not today."

"Tomorrow," replied Buddesk, "will not do." Whereupon he snatched a suit of clothes belonging to Sazymonski.

"When you pay me what you owe," said Buddesk, "you may have the suit." He tossed the clothes across the room. They fell on a small gas stove.

Sazymonski went back yesterday to pay his rent and get the suit. There came no answer to his knocks, he pushed the door.

There was a strong odor of gas in the room. Buddesk was dead.

Lying where they had been tossed were Sazymonski's clothes. A belt strap of the trousers had caught on the lever that turns on the gas.

AMBASSADOR MORROW TAKES SHORT VACATION

Mexico City, September 7.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, the United States ambassador, left the capital today for a ten days' "loaf" on the ranch of Hal Mangun near the Texas border in the state of Coahuila. He was accompanied by General Manuel Perez Trevino, governor of the state, who has been put forward as one of the chief candidates for provisional president. The British minister, Esmond Ovey, was also in the party.

Mrs. Morrow, who is returning from her summer sojourn in the United States, will meet her husband at the railroad station at Sabinas, near Eagle Pass, Texas.

The military attaches of the United States and British legations, Colonel Alexander McNab and Colonel William Osbaldeston Mitford, accompanied their chiefs.

FLORIDA MAYOR DIES OF INJURIES RECEIVED IN FALL

Jacksonville, Fla., September 7.—(AP)—Funeral services for Mayor Walter M. Phillips, of Jacksonville Beach, who died here today as the result of injuries sustained several days ago in a fall, will be held from the Main Street Bautist church here Sunday afternoon.

Mayor Phillips' death was caused by a fracture of a cervical vertebrae, suffered last Sunday night at the Jacksonville Beach Golf club when he fell 30 feet to a concrete floor, from a balcony.

He was born in Cadillac, Mich., June 27, 1882, and had practiced as a chiropractor in Deland, Fla.; Valdosta, and Macon, Ga., before moving to Jacksonville Beach. He was elected as mayor several weeks ago.

He is survived by his widow, mother and one son.

SAYS MRS. KNAPP MAY COMPLETE 30-DAY SENTENCE

Albany, N. Y., September 7.—(AP)—It was the impression at the county penitentiary today that Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp would serve the remainder of a 30-day sentence imposed for the theft of state census funds while she was secretary of state.

Her physician has advised her to do so, saying that a new trial, if her efforts to obtain one be successful, would be too much of a strain on her health.

Mrs. Knapp has been moved from the sheriff's home to the hospital room at the penitentiary.

Luck Changes.

Providence, R. I., September 7.—(AP) Mrs. Lillian Curran, matron at the railroad station, whose husband has been out of work a year, found gems worth $15,000. She reported the discovery promptly. The owner has rewarded her with $700 in crisp new bills.

TWO GIRLS LOST FROM SEMINARY

Northfield, Mass., September 7.—(United News.)—Two missing seminary girls were being sought tonight by police of Massachusetts, Vermont and New York.

Marian Mullen, 15, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mary Shapleigh, 14, of Buffalo, N. Y., students at Northfield seminary, have been missing since Wednesday night.

Seminary officials doubt they have been victims of foul play. The fact that the girls, who had been roommates at the school last year, had been assigned to separate dormitories at the beginning of the present term, was believed by authorities to have propmted them to leave.

It was believed by authorities they are making their way west through Vermont to New York state. It was learned the girls had not returned to their homes.

They were last seen Wednesday night leaving the campus dressed in regulation school clothing. Because of the threatening weather, the Mullen girl was wearing a green trench coat and her companion a blue rain coat.

G. O. P. Keynoter Disagrees With Herbert Hoover

New Haven, Conn., September 7.—(AP)—The kenyoter of the Connecticut republican state convention disagrees with Herbert Hoover on prohibition.

Congressman Schuyler Merritt, of Stamford, said in a convention speech last night:

"I do not agree with Mr. Hoover because in my opinion special social legislation should have no place in the constitution."

Merritt said he felt prohibition had not worked out well, but added "its abandonment ust be left to further experience and to public opinion." He said he hoped a "searching investigation of facts and causes of the abuses will develop means for carrying on this great experiment without disregarding other and more basic sections of the constitution, such for example, as the fourth amendment."

Governor Smith's observations on prohibition, Merritt said, "are interesting," but so far as having any effect on prohibition and the eighteenth amendment, "he might as well discourse on astronomy or any abstract question."

In a comparison of the administrations of Governor Smith in New York and John H. Trumbull, republican governor in Connecticut, the congressman said that while public debts in this state have been almost entirely paid, the New York state debt under a democratic administration had been "nearly trebled and a staggering load of taxation produced."

EFFORT IS MADE TO END EASTERN TEXTILE STRIKE

New Bedford, Mass., September 7—(AP)—The New Bedford textile council today formally accepted an invitation from the citizens' mediation committee for a conference between labor and manufacturers with the citizens' committee in another attempt to end the long textile strike here.

Charles Mitchell, citizens' committee chairman, suggested that the conference consider a plan for more efficient employment of labor. The textile council reply says in part:

"The New Bedford textile council believes that the interests of workers, management, stockholders, consumers and community are most secure where industry is scientifically and efficiently operated.

"We welcome the opportunity to do our full share toward reconciling the interests of the workers with the needs of industry, and sincerely hope that the proposed conference will accomplish that object in the greatest possible degree."

REED WILL FINISH HIS FISHING TRIP THEN WORK FOR AL

Minocqua, Wis., September 7.—(AP) Being nominated for vice president by the farmer-labor party means absolutely nothing in the life of Senator James A. Reed, Missouri.

"I am a democrat," he told reporters while resting from his work of assembling a fish pole. "Everybody knows I am a democrat. As soon as I have attended to this fishing I am going out to campaign for Al Smith."

Mr. Reed remarked: "If I had been there I would have nipped it in the bud, plenty quick." He added that he was not even certain what the farmer-labor party was when he was informed of his nomination.

MOBILE AND OHIO VALUATION FIGURE SET AT $43,879,815

Washington, September 7.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today placed a final valuation on the Mobile & Ohio railroad for rate naming purposes of $43,879,815 on total owned property, and $45,011,800 on the total used property, as of June 30, 1915.

The valuation on the owned and used property was placed at $45,829,997.

The railroad owned and operated on the date of the valuation a main line extending between Mobile, Ala., and East St. Louis, Ill., totaling 645 miles, and branches from this line. By trackage rights it reached St. Louis, Mo., said the commission's report, and the total length of main line and branches owned and used was 923 miles.

Says Administration Neglects Louisiana In Flood Relief

New York, September 7.—(AP)—Charging that the republican administration is neglecting Louisiana in flood relief, Dudley J. Le Blanc, of La Fayette, La., member of the Louisiana Public Service commission, predicted at democratic national headquarters today that Hoover will not receive more than 7,500 votes in that state.

With Commissioner Le Blanc at headquarters were Robert Louis Moutin, mayor of Lafayette, and J. Maxime Roy, Lafayette banker. They had attended in Boston a meeting of the Society of the Assumption, which represents almost 1,000,000 descendants of the Acadians who in 1755 were uprooted from their homeland and transported to Louisiana. They are all of French ancestry and, Commissioner Le Blanc said, would be for Governor Smith on the prohibition issue alone.

Class B Plane Race Postponed By Bad Weather

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., September 7.—(AP)—On account of unfavorable weather the class B races of the New York-Los Angeles air derby were again postponed today. Weather permitting, the planes will attempt to get away tomorrow morning at 6 a. m.

Twenty planes were at the field, with motors running, ready for the word to go when Lieutenant W. B. Clark, manager of the field, announced he had received a final weather report showing low visibility and generally poor flying weather over the eastern mountain regions.

While Lieutenant Clark made the definite announcement of the postponement, Referee James Taylor held out some hope of making a start later in the day if further reports should indicate clearing weather.

The rules of the race provide that the ships must get away before 10 a. m., eastern standard time, and when that hour passed, the pilots, disgusted with the forced delay, resigned themselves to another wait.

CHICAGO THEATER MUSICIANS END FIVE-DAY STRIKE

Chicago, September 7.—(AP)—Movies in 250 outlying theaters flickered tonight to the music of jazz and sentimental ballads played by peaceful musicians whose Labor day walkout was terminated today with an agreement that both the exhibitors and the musicians hailed as a great victory.

The musicians agreed to cancel demands that certain outlying theaters employ orchestras of at least four members and that orchestras of six members be retained in houses where talking movies were used and the exhibitors agreed to employ musicians for a stipulated period each year and some of them that had not been hiring orchestras reconsidered.

TWO SEEK OFFICE OF MEX. PRESIDENT

Mexico City, September 7.—(AP)—A civilian and a general today appeared to be the principal contenders for the office of provisional president.

One bloc of the congress, which will choose a successor to President Calles, is supporting Emilio Portes Gil, a lawyer now secretary of interior and former governor of Tamaulipas. General Manuel Perez Trevino, governor of Coah[illegible], has the backing of other deputies.

Assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon has created a political situation subject to almost constant change and another contender may come forward at any moment. There is gossip in political circles that a third bloc of congressmen may trot forth a dark horse.

There has been less talk lately of Aaron Saenz, governor of Neuvo Leon, who once seemed destined to head the nation.

Congressmen, army generals and other political figures gather daily in the lobby of one of the principal hotels which has thus become unofficial headquarters for political movements and maneuvers.

"Pussyfoot" Johnson Says Smith Will Not Carry New York

Milwaukee, Wis., September 7.—(AP) William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson, militant dry crusader from Governor Smith's own state, said today that the democratic presidential nominee would not carry the state of New York in the coming election.

"If I were given to betting I'd bet a crate of little apples that Hoover will carry New York," he told reporters. "Governor Smith never did carry New York anyway; he carried two or three counties and New York city. That's what made him governor."

BLEASE DECLARES CAROLINA WILL GO 100,000 FOR SMITH

Washington, September 7.—(United News.)—Senator Cole Blease, South Carolina democrat, predicted today his state would not give the Hoover-Curtis ticket more than a thousand votes at the forthcoming presidential election.

"My state," Blease said, "is virtually solid for Smith and Robinson. We have no political problem down there—we are just for Governor Smith and the democratic ticket."

He said he believed the south would remain loyal to the democratic party, adding "I don't believe a single state in the south will break away in November and predictions made by republican propagandists to the contrary is just talk."

BEATEN IN G.O.P. RACE FOR SENATOR, FRANK FOR HOOVER

Washington, September 7.—(AP)—Nathan C. Frank, of St. Louis, who was defeated for the republican senatorial nomination in Missouri, on a wet platform, announced here today he would give his "whole-hearted support" to Herbert Hoover and the entire republican ticket.

"Southern Bread is twenty per cent richer than any bread I've ever seen —no wonder people prefer it!"

THE head of a large northern baking company was visiting in the South. The bread he was served so attracted his attention and interest that he wanted to know how it was made. It was Southern Bread.

When he called at the bakery he was invited to see Southern Bread made. With practiced and admiring eye he watched as each ingredient was measured and mixed—the same flour, the same brand of salt, the same yeast, the same famous shortening you yourself buy at your grocer's.

However, it was the amount of full, rich milk that astonished him and led him to exclaim on the richness of Southern Bread—the richness he had immediately noticed when he was eating it. The richness you can have every time you buy Southern Bread.

Sealed in its inviting lavender-and-white waxed wrapper, Southern Bread comes freshly baked to your grocer's twice every day. It could not be fresher if you made it in your own kitchen. Nor could it contain better ingredients.

It is bread any hostess may serve with pride . . . that anyone may relish. Children, especially, enjoy it. Your family deserves this richer bread.

Eula Thompson Must Die In Chair September 21st For Murder of Osborne

Murray County Judge Resentences Young Woman To Die Within Fortnight; Executive Clemency Only Hope.

Chatsworth, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Eula Mae Thompson today was resentenced to death in the electric chair September 21 for the murder more than a year ago of Coleman Osborne, Murray county storekeeper. Sentence was imposed by Judge C. C. Pittman and the doomed young woman received it calmly.

Her husband, Clifford Thompson, and Jim Hugh Moss, a negro, were electrocuted at the state prison last August 3 for their part in the slaying of Osborne. The night before their electrocution Mrs. Thompson, in her cell in Fulton county jail at Atlanta, made what she termed the "true confession" of the slaying, in which she absolved both her husband and the negro. Later she repudiated this and still another sworn statement.

Before sentence was passed the young Tennessee mountain woman repeated to the court her latest story of the slaying. She stated that only the negro, Moss, was guilty of the slaying; that she and her husband and the negro were hauling moonshine liquor from Murray county into Tennessee and had run out of gasoline.

Moss, she told the court in a low voice, went back to Osborne's store. She and Clifford Thompson, she said, heard loud talking, followed by two, then five shots. The negro came running back to the car and said, "Let's go," she asserted.

Courtroom Crowded.

The courtroom was crowded. Approximately 2,000 spectators jammed the auditorium of the court and strained forward eagerly to catch the faint words of the woman who, in her first confession, named a prominent Murray county farmer as the man with whom she had become entangled in an illicit love affair and who had conspired to "get Osborne out of the way" because he knew of their relations.

There was no excitement among the spectators. The doomed woman previously had told newspapermen she was afraid to be taken back to Chatsworth because she feared "they will kill me up there."

Following the sentence she was taken back to her cell in Murray county jail. There she faced her aged mother and father. The mother and daughter wept hysterically; the father stood by, dry-eyed and grim. She will probably be taken back to Atlanta and placed in Fulton county jail prior to her final removal to the state prison at Milledgeville, court attaches said.

RIVERS PLEDGES SUPPORT OF TICKET

money to pay for advertisements to answer them."

"If the governor was acting in good faith why did he spend $6,300 to ask me six questions which he could have asked here on this stage without spending a dime?" he said. "It was because he knew that I would meet him face to face and answer them and because he knew that after I had answered him I would ask him a few questions myself."

Senator Rivers answered, at length, each of the questions. The first relating to the liquidation of banks in which Senator Rivers was asked why he has opposed the Kelley resolution providing for submission of certain information concerning the state banking department, Senator Rivers said he opposed this because he supported another resolution which called for a "sweeping investigation of the banking department from cellar to garret." He said this was a measure introduced by Senator Key, "Governor Hardman's own floor leader." He denied receiving unreasonable fees for liquidating the bank of Adel and said his fee was 4.7 per cent of the money involved. He said the people of Adel, where the bank is located, were not complaining about his fee.

Oil Inspectors Cut.

Question two, relating to his vote to cut down oil inspectors, Senator Rivers said he voted for a bill cutting the number of oil inspectors down to 12, instead of six, and said he still thinks there should be twelve oil inspectors, one for each congressional district.

Senator Rivers said the Hardman question about his vote on the "self-rising flour" bill was "an insult to the intelligence of the people of Georgia." He said he supported this bill because it simply required that ingredients of self-rising flour be plainly printed on the flour sacks, a bill, he said, to protect the people of Georgia who are not able to buy the best flour. He said he had no apology to make for supporting this bill, but declared that any insinuation that he was actuated by any ulterior motive he branded "as false with all the emphasis that polite language can convey."

Question five, as to his support of "a bucket shop bill," Senator Rivers said this bill did not legalize bucket shops. He said if it did the governors campaign committee would have printed the bill and distributed it all over Georgia. He said the Atlanta cotton exchange had answered the governor on this measure. He said it simply provided that certain laws now preventing Georgia from getting delivery points on cotton be changed. He stated further that the bill itself was not to become effective "until two actual cotton delivery points were actually established in Georgia." He said the governor knew this when he made the charge.

Campaign Fund Source.

As to the governor's question concerning the source of the Rivers campaign fund Senator Rivers said the "little" he was spending came from friends and relatives and from his own pocket.

"I've mortgaged everything I've got but my wife and children and my conscience, but I'm going to win," he said.

He declared that one friend sold a cow and calf for $30 and contributed it to his campaign fund, that a woman from his home county sent him $2 as a campaign gift, and that numerous friends were working in his behalf without any charge whatever. He then charged that the governor spent $33,000 in his last campaign, "more than twice the emoluments of the office." He charged further that the governor is spending large sums in this campaign and said "any person can look at his advertising campaign and get an idea of the size of his campaign expense." He said Governor Hardman in his last campaign told some leaders in a certain Georgia county to "carry the county for him and he would send them a check." He stated the county was carried and the check was sent and said if the governor disputed this charge he would name the county.

The governor's charge relative to the Western and Atlantic railroad lease extension, he called "ridiculous." He said he voted for this measure, which was recommended by the Western and Atlantic commission. He declared it only provided for the appointment of a commission, "consisting of the governor himself, the state auditor, C. Murphy Candler, a member of the house and a member of the senate," to make a survey of the railroad properties and to report back to the legislature. He said this bill was approved by the governor himself before it was introduced in the legislature.

Senator Rivers then ridiculed the governor for declining to grant a respite to a condemned murderer "because he looked at his picture in The Constitution and from the phrenology and the physiognomy of the case knew the accused persons were guilty." Senator Rivers said reputable physicians ranked "phrenology" with "palm reading and gypsy fortune telling," and he added that "people now are hiding their photographs in their trunks for fear the governor will see them and judge them guilty."

Senator Rivers discussed at length his idea of state government, his recommendation that state departments be cut from 80 to 14 and reviewed other issues of the campaign which he has discussed in speeches and statements which have appeared heretofore in newspapers.

Position on Al Smith.

Concerning his position as to the national ticket, Senator Rivers said the governor did not have the nerve to face him and make the statement that the senator was not supporting the democratic nominees. He said he left this for some of his "paid-by-the-week speakers" to say.

"I'm not running against all his little paid speakers," he stated. "But no man in the state has misunderstood my position on the national ticket. I have never contended that I was for Smith before he was nominated by the Houston convention. I fought him before the convention and I fought him hard. But since he was nominated I have not said one word that would give any person the right to question my democracy. When I entered the race for governor I wrote to the secretary of the state democratic executive committee that I was an adherent of the democratic party in both state and national politics and that letter is now on file. More than this, when John R. Slater, chairman of the state democratic campaign committee, came to Atlanta to open the state democratic campaign headquarters, one of the first places he visited was the Rivers campaign headquarters. He went to Roy V. Harris, my campaign manager, and Roy Harris, weeks and weeks ago, turned over the entire Rivers campaign headquarters to Mr. Slater to be used in supporting the democratic national ticket.

"For the governor to talk about something I said or may not have said away back before the Houston convention simply shows the desperation in which he finds himself. He is pussyfooting himself, one of his campaign managers is for Hoover and another for Smith. His brother is writing Hoover editorials for an Atlanta religious newspaper with the knowledge and approval of the governor. The governor is riding two horses and he is going to get thrown from both. When the titular head of the democratic party resorts to such tactics, if double-dealing does not describe it, then try and find me a definition for it."

COUNTY TO REDUCE PAY OF EMPLOYEES

way by experts for the past several weeks, according to Mr. Stewart. While no definite percentage of a cut has been decided upon, it was tactily agreed that the county should take steps to save $200,000 by a sweeping revision of the salaries which are now paid.

If the present rate of anticipation of county revenues should be continued, it was estimated that the anticipation at the end of 1929 would reach $3,000,000, according to Commissioner Paul S. Etheridge, and while the county would have sufficient funds to meet it when taxes are collected in the fall, it was decided best to keep anticipations well within the $2,000,000 mark.

Every one of the commissioners expressed opposition to a tax raise, and the only other way to reduce anticipations is by economizing. Dr. W. L. Gilbert and other commissioners supported the stand of Mr. Etheridge at the meeting and insisted that steps be taken to curtail expenditures next year and to wipe out at least $400,000 of the anticipations.

Anticipations Not Deficits.

"These anticipations have been called deficits," Mr. Stewart said. "That term is wrong, because under the laws of the state we are given authority to anticipate a certain amount which is to be retired when taxes are collected in the fall of each year. I think it would be unwise to attempt to operate a great, progressive and prosperous county like Fulton, the richest in the entire state, without some anticipation, but I do think we should not extend our anticipations beyond a reasonable and safe figure. That, in brief, is the action we took this afternoon. If we continue to increase our anticipations, the inevitable result will be that we will be forced to raise taxes, and that is what we do not want to do."

Many donations by the county which do not come within the authority of the board and, therefore, are not legalized, will be discontinued under the new program. More than $50,000 has been contributed for various convention entertainments, and these also will fall under the ban.

The recent survey of auditors will be taken as a foundation on which the proposed salary slashes will be based. It also is proposed to eliminate positions where it is practicable.

'Loew's Polly C' Wins Prize In Parrot-Naming Contest

Here's Loew's "Polly C" sitting on the arm of Miss Julia Collins, of Cascade Heights, who won the ten-dollar prize for suggesting a name for the famous Loew parrot just transferred from Loew's Grand to Loew's Capitol theater.

Loew's famous Atlanta parrot is now officially yclept "Loew's Polly C," this name being selected by the judges in the unique naming contest conducted by Loew's Capitol theater, and Miss Julia Collins, of Cascade Heights, suggester of the name, is now richer by ten dollars, the prize offered in the event.

After the first story about the contest appeared there was a rush of mail received by Loew's Capitol and more than 600 suggestions were entered. Everything from "Peachtree Polly" to "Loew's Cracker" was submitted.

"Polly C" came into Miss Collins' mind immediately after she read that Loew's Polly as well as Loew's policy would be transferred from Loew's Grand theater to Loew's Capitol theater under its new Loew management.

Miss Collins said that the "C" part would stand for the Capitol theater, that "Polly C" is a pretty name anyway, and that it can be hooked in with the parrot trade-mark of the Loew organization by its suggestion of "policy" which is just exactly what has been transferred from Loew's Grand to Loew's Capitol theater.

Among the names suggested were "Albertina Smith" (since Polly is that kind of a parrot), "Loewrraine," "Capitola," "Polly Cracker," "Loew's Cracker," "Pollyana," "Min Gump," "Helloew Polloew," "Loew Price," "Loew-Cap," "Polly Metro," "Marcus," "Greta Garbo," "Dixie," "Cappy" and dozens of others.

Miss Collins, who suggested the winning name, is a popular member of the office staff in the secretary of state's office at the state capitol.

SUSPECT IS JAILED AS FALSE ALARMS IRK CITY FIREMEN

Following an epidemic of false alarms turned in at fire department headquarters Friday night from call-boxes near the city auditorium, police were holding L. J. Melton, 26, of 420 Newport street, on suspicion, while detectives investigated the source of the false calls.

When Call Officers Higgins and Cartwright went to answer a call at the box, at the intersection of Gilmer and Butler streets, they saw Melton loitering about and after questioning him took him into custody. They reported that in response to their questions he said he had just been to Grady hospital to visit a sick cousin, but an investigation failed to show any record of a man by the name given. Detectives Blair and Whatley were assigned to the case.

OLDFIELD PREDICTS COMPLETE VICTORY BY THE DEMOCRATS

Washington, September 7.—(AP)—Representative Oldfield, of Arkansas, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee, today claimed that Governor Smith not only would be elected president in November, but that the democrats would gain control of congress. Mr. Oldfield has just returned from a tour of the south.

"Governor Smith is gaining strength," Mr. Oldfield said, "and the reaction against the 'whispering campaign' being waged by auxiliary republican organizations is already being felt."

Md. Oldfield said that he had found the democratic organizations in Missouri and Kentucky functioning at high speed, and that upon his return to New York he would confer with congressional candidates from Pennsylvania, where, he said, conditions were "encouraging."

EX-SENATOR HARDWICK TO SPEAK IN FLORIDA

Sarasota, Fla., September 7.—(AP)—Information was received here today that Thomas W. Hardwick, former governor and United States senator of Georgia, will speak in Sarasota on October 2 on national political issues.

Invitations will be sent to all the cities in southwest Florida in hopes of making the gathering here a sectional one as Mr. Hardwick is available for only a few speeches in the state.

L. D. Reagin, state democratic committeeman from Sarasota county, has wired inviting Dr. John Roach Straton, New York minister, to debate with the Georgian here on the date.

Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., September 7.—(AP)—A Fokker super-universal plane, carrying five passengers in addition to the pilot and mechanic, left Teterboro airport today for Los Angeles to take part in aircraft demonstration there in connection with the transcontinental air races.

Griscomb Haynes, pilot, expected to make the trip in two flying days, with scheduled stops at Cleveland, Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne and Salt Lake City. After the demonstration in Los Angeles, the plane will be used in the mail service between Salt Lake City and Great Falls, Mont.

The passengers were Ivan Gates, president of the Gates Flying circus, and Mrs. Gates; J. E. Horsdall; William J. Ruffing, deputy motor vehicle commissioner of New Jersey, and F. W. Barker, of the aeronautics division of the department of commerce.

TURKEY RECOGNIZES ALBANIAN REGIME

Geneva, September 7.—(AP)—Word was received from Tirna today that Turkey has recognized the new monarchy of Albania.

FORMER REPUBLICAN WILL SUPPORT SMITH

New York, September 7.—(AP)—Chairman John J. Raskob, of the democratic national committee, today announced that Edward S. Harkness, New York philanthropist, had given $10,000 to the campaign fund. He said Mr. Harkness had been a republican.

It a letter to the committee Mr. Harkness said his contribution was made because of his "great admiration" for Governor Smith and "especially for his splendid courage and rugged honesty in his stand on the prohibition question."

At his daily press conference Mr. Raskob was asked whether he had noticed any effect of the campaign on the market and his reply was:

"I think that industry knows generally that Governor Smith's record is one of conservatism and that they have nothing to fear and that therefore the election will have no effect whatsoever on the market."

Gilbert M. Hitchcock, former United States senator from Nebraska, who called at democratic headquarters today, predicted the governor would carry Nebraska.

It Is Hard to Improve on Nature

That is why it is hard to improve on ice

ICE IS the natural and simple way to keep foods cold and wholesome. Just have your refrigerator filled with ice and the rest takes care of itself. That is why it is the ideal refrigerant—it keeps your refrigerator cold, well ventilated, and odorless, at a cost of only a few cents a day.

It accomplishes this through the natural circulation of the air which flows over the ice cake, down into the compartment below, then up through the side compartment, forcing the warm, lighter air over the ice cake again, and the whole process is repeated.

In this way your vegetables are kept fresh, your salads crisp, your meat cold and moist; and there is always plenty of ice to indulge in cool delightful drinks, to put on the celery and olives and around the butter to add an enticing zest to your meals.

Let us keep you supplied all the time with ice, the natural and ideal refrigerant.

SLANDERERS IN THE STOCKS.

It was a timely and gallant act by Senator Robinson when, in his Labor day address at Dallas, he collared the slanderers of Governor Smith and put them in the stocks of public condemnation. The governor himself might have hesitated to do that for himself, but his yokefellow's indignation was justified and his vehement repudiation of the lie that Governor Smith is a drunkard will be cheered by all honest people throughout the nation.

That person who can profess to believe that the great democratic party in convention would select and present to the people for the highest office in their gift a man of confirmed drinking dissipation is certainly a person, whose proper place is in a psycopathic hospital or a home for the feebleminded.

Whatever Governor Smith's character may be in the eyes of his enemies — Tammanyite, wet sympathizer, and religious slave, as they charge, it is perfectly known that he is not a "booze hound." Few men of fame in the nation can present a more unimpeachable record for sobriety of habits and cleanness of conduct. His detractors to the contrary are not worthy to unloose the latchets of his shoes!

THE JEWS OF GEORGIA.

From the landing of Oglethorpe on Yamacraw bluff we have had Jews in our population. They were among the founders of the state, have grown generations of "native sons" and all down these 200 years of our history have added notably to the social and civic advancement and glory of the state. They have served splendidly in community life, in education, art, literature, industries, commerce and politics, and today they are represented by some of the ablest and best esteemed men in the state.

The recent report of the census bureau is that we have in Georgia 23 congregations of the Hebrew faith, with 18,360 members and synagogue buildings valued at $423,000. Their rabbis have been in notable instances, men of fine erudition, of alert interest in public moralities and always in the front rank with the charitable and merciful.

Here in Georgia the Jews generally occupy a firm and warm place in the esteem of their Gentile fellow citizens.

THEY KNOW THEIR ONIONS.

When the presidential nominations came forth from Kansas City and Houston The Constitution forecast that both parties would find themselves under new and unprecedented leaderships. The shaping of the campaign, now to open in earnest from coast to coast, shows that we were not mistaken.

Smith and Hoover are both men of original minds and methods. They are self-developed masters of their metiers. Smith is a statescraftsman, coming up from the common people through the paths of practical everyday politics, and schooled by necessity and experience to think on the sea-level of popular sentiment. Hoover is a systematizer, coming up from the common people through the schools and the laboratory, self-trained in the art of organizing and directing large adventures, and whose successes have habituated him to think impersonally on processes and results.

The minds of both men, facing their campaign exigencies, are functioning true to form.

Smith listens well, but trusts his own intuitions and experience independently when they do not agree with the advice that is given to him. As The Constitution said previously, he is most evidently "the captain of his own soul" and means to lead his fight for the presidency on his own judgment of what the times and the people demand. He knows what he wants and is confident that he knows how to get it. His gestures forecast that he will lead his charges against the enemy with much of the dash and directness of a Bedford Forrest or Sheridan cavalry assault.

On the other hand, Hoover seems to be setting his strategy along the lines of mass pressure. His advances will be as stubborn as Grant's movement on Richmond and his defensive tactics as Fabian as Joe Johnston's famous stands against Sherman.

Thus, we are in for a new order of political battle and the final result may change radically the future conduct of our American contests over party controls of the government. No campaign more novel and important has been seen in this country since "Old Hickory" Jackson routed the trained and veteran forces of Henry Clay, withering the chances of the latter ever to reach the presidency.

IT WILL HELP ATLANTA.

There should be no difficulty in raising the $6,000 needed to send the Atlanta police band to the Spanish War Veterans' reunion to be held in Havana early in October. The value of the advertising will be many times the amount involved.

The importance of placing the name of Atlanta prominently before the public in connection with war veteran activities cannot be overestimated at this time, when the federal government expects soon to select the site for the proposed $2,000,000 soldiers and sailors home.

The bill for this purpose has already passed congress and the necessary appropriation will be made at the next session, it is confidently believed. The bill as passed urges construction of this federal institution in the south. That Atlanta is the leading contender for the home is admitted.

It is a foregone conclusion that the veterans will have a heavy voice in determining the final selection of site for the home. The Spanish war veterans have a commanding position in this respect and their advocacy of Atlanta's claims to the home will go a long way toward bringing it here.

Brigadier General Frank T. Hines will be at the reunion. He is chairman of the location committee of homes and hospitals of the United States government and, as such, is the man to make final decision on the site for the new $2,000,000 home. It is hoped that the Atlanta delegation will be able to persuade him to stop over in this city after the convention and then "sell" him on location here.

The big part the Atlanta Police Band will play in keeping Atlanta in the forefront of reunion activities, both en route to Havana and during the reunion there, will be fine publicity for the city in its campaign to secure the new home.

The band is a magnificent musical organization. In its ranks are found members of the police department who, every one, reflect highest credit upon this city and its government. They plan the trip to Havana as a serious pilgrimage for a definite object—to bring the federal home here.

Atlanta should, and undoubtedly will, provide the $6,000 of expense money, the necessary sinews for the campaign. It is a mere pittance compared to the importance to Atlanta, both in monetary and advertising value, of their presence in Havana.

We don't want to be tiresome about prohibition, but it is possible that the republicans are not forcing the liquor issue for they want a split on the bootleggers' and undertakers' vote.

This country is due for a nervous collapse with the state primary, the close race in baseball between major leagues and a rip-snorting oldtime political campaign.

These throwing-rolling-pin contests, engaged in by women, seem to be a fad at county fairs throughout the country. It is refreshing that the rolling pin has some use.

Today there are two major parties. After the election they are classed as the appointed and the disappointed.

Some say the peace pact is a "scrap of paper." Maybe so; but that's more to our liking than a scrap of nations.

"Seventy per cent of the women who marry run from plump to fat," recites a syndicate writer. Well, who wouldn't try to evade obesity?

Senator Moses cannot get the wets to separate so he can lead the voters through dry land.

With mother in politics and the law forbidding child labor it looks as if father will have to go to work.

With both parties asking for a $4,000,000 campaign fund this talk of cheap politics goes glimmering.

Johnson is Hi man in the California primary.

Durant offers $25,000 for a plan for prohibition that will hold water.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

International Peasant.

When asked what his mother tongue was, a peasant named Joszef Rusz, who had come before the court with a lawsuit, astonished the judge by saying that, although he was Hungarian he could speak English, French, Italian, German, Turkish, Japanese, Chinese and several of the Slav languages, says a dispatch to a London paper from Budapest. Rusz, who is at present employed as an unskilled laborer shoveling sand, stated that he shipped as an A. B. in 1890 and traveled around Europe, Africa, Asia and America, and had lived in all the principal cities in the world. About 25 or 30 years ago a friend invited him to try his luck in New York. The friend was at that time employed to hammer nails into boxes, but very soon he distributed newspapers on a bicycle, became a house agent, and finally bought a skyscraper of 16 stories, which he still owns in Washington. When asked if he had kept any souvenirs of his wandering life, Rusz replied that he possessed a pair of white untearable trousers which had been made for him in New York, a jacket which he had bought in a shop in Trafalgar Square in London, and a tie labeled "As worn by the Prince of Wales" (King Edward VII), which came from the Rue de la Victoire in Paris. These articles of wearing apparel, with the addition of a straw hat from Tokyo, constitute his holiday attire and make him feel, he declares, delightfully international.

Joffre's Memoirs.

Marshal Joffre has stated to an interviewer that he has finished writing his memoirs, but they will not be published in America or anywhere else just yet. It may indeed be a long time before they see the light, for the marshal states that he does not wish to awaken or reawaken certain susceptibilities. But he makes it clear that as so many errors have been published he has felt it to be his duty to correct them. The mistakes, he says, not only relate to the Marne, but to other matters relative to the war. If Marshal Joffre does not intend to publish all his memoirs for some time he will consider the desirability of giving to the world one or several chapters. But even a portion of his memoirs is dreaded as heaping fuel on the always smouldering rivalry between two or three different groups of military experts in France and England.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

BY DR. S. PARKES CADMAN

New York City.

Kindly let us have an explanation regarding the religious feud between Canon Bullock Webster and Bishop Barnes of England, and the points at issue between these two clergymen.

In order that you shall not be taken unawares, I feel it is the honorable course to tell you I am one of those awful atheists. Of course, we atheists are critical, and I am a hard nut to crack, I suppose, but I am sure you will welcome a difficult task. You are well trained to fight the devil, and, as you are aware, the devil is the inspirer of all atheists. At least that is what some persons think.

The foregoing expressions do not in any way lessen my respect for your well-known culture and religious zeal.

As I understand the main issues between these two Anglican clergymen, they concern the creation of man and the doctrine of transubstantiation. Both disputants agree, as far as I know, that God made man in His own image, and that He greatly blesses believing recipients of the Holy Eucharist. But they differ about the divine methods of creation and the nature of the elements in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

These differences are indicative of the diversified temperament and training of the two men in question and of those whom they represent. Bishop Barnes is a broad churchman, a scientific scholar, an acute reasoner and a firm believer in the Christian revelation. Canon Webster is an Anglo Catholic of advanced sacramentarian views. Of his learning I know nothing, but his official station implies a university education and other cultural backgrounds.

The bishop accepts the evolutionary theory as the best available one explanatory of life's development on this planet. The canon may or may not accept this theory. But the burden of his complaint against the bishop is the latter's caustic criticism of the Anglo Catholic party and its sacredotal claims.

It would require columns of space to elaborate these antagonistic positions. They have been treated at length in the press, the religious weeklies and various magazines. To them I refere you for further information.

Your letter refers to the archbishop of Canterbury as dodging the issues involved in the controversy. This is not a correct assumption. His grace has handled a complicated matter in his usual statesmanlike manner.

Your description of yourself as "one of those awful atheists" does not affect your right to know what can be known of the Anglican church and its theological devisions. It should be added that neither do these divisions affect the common loyalty of Bishop Barnes and Canon Webster to the Christian faith as a whole. They and their respective supporters simply interpret Christianity from diverse viewpoints. The one group is committed to traditionalism; the other to what is loosely termed modernism.

Denver, Col.

Is it true that the founders of Christianity or of Buddhism are fabulous creations, and, if not, what are the proofs of their historicity?

It has been a fashion with men who object to Christianity or to Buddhism to deny that such personalities as Jesus or Gautama existed. Brandes and J. M. Robertson insist with pertinacity that the Christ story is a myth, that Jesus never lived, that there were no apostles and no preaching of the gospel by them.

The evidence for Christ's existence is in the New Testament, and whatever view may be taken of the Synoptic Gospels, the Epistles of St. Paul, four of which (the letters to the Romans, the Galatians and first and second Corinthians) are undoubtedly genuine, overwhelmingly establish the reality of Jesus of history. The reference to Him in Josephus, which the eminent Jewish scholar, Dr. Klausner, accepts as valid, and the well-known passage in Tacitus corroborate the New Testament documents.

Moreover, to attribute a stupendous movement like Christianity to anything else than a great creative personality is to do violence to ordered thinking about history and also to human experience. Skepticism is carried to the limits of absurdity by the authors mentioned above in their efforts to sustain a theory which is avid for fancies and disdainful of facts.

The evidence regarding the personality and work of Gautama, who, after his transformation, was called the Buddha, or Enlightened One (as Jesus was called the Christ), is contained in the controversial literature of his period. It is the more convincing because it comes from the Sanskrit books edited by his orthodox Brahmin opponents, who were highly incensed by the growth of his reformed faith, or, to speak more correctly, his ethical system. He is also known as Siddhartha, the one who has accomplished his purpose, and as Tathagata, the one who has won his goal.

Professor S. L. Joshi, a Hindu Christian, a member of the Anglican church and the professor of comparative religions at Dartmouth college, has established the historicity of Buddha to the satisfaction of many whose minds are open to the values of evidence.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

HUMIDITY HIGH IN SOUTH PORTION.

Better late than never, begins a letter dated June 19. Then the correspondent goes on to report on the humidity. She says that after I had sent instructions for the correction of the bed wetting habit "For a long time I made no effort to follow them, as I knew it was impossible to take the child up with any degree of regularity. When the time came to do so, we started, and soon there was a gain. We made no change in the diet at first . . . Began last fall and by December it occurred only twice in the month . . . it has not happened now since April, when she had chicken pox . . . wanted you to know we are grateful. . . .

This one instance doesn't mean much, but the letter suggests that even half hearted management will correct bed wetting in some cases.

Since our report of the grand but not so glorious totals was published, quite a number of belated acknowledgements of success have come in. Had these additional favorable votes been available for the big count, they might have given the blushing author a wee speck more confidence in his own medicine. But you know how folks are about that. Paying for dead horses is no effort at all compared with telling the doctor his medicine was good after you are quite well again.

Excerpts from some of these other uncounted votes:

"We have followed your instructions since February and now he is cured." (Mrs. W. N.)

"As nearly as we could we carried out quite faithfully the schedule you advised, with gratifying results in both children." (Mrs. E. I. B.)

"Thanks to your help both the boy and girl (twins aged 12) are now coming over on the side of the drys . . . Why did not our family physician give us such advice when we consulted him?" (Mrs. W. C. T.)

"Our boy, aged 8 years, has become a 'dry,' thanks to your help." (Mrs. L. B.)

"In February I wrote you for directions for correcting the bed wetting habit of my three-year-old son. For several weeks now we have been on the side of the drys. We wish to thank you sincerely . . . your column has taught me much about hygiene." (Mrs. W. J. W.)

"I don't know just how to express my thanks for your wonderful help. My son is seven and a half years old and up until two months ago he wet the bed almost every night. Then I received your instructions and kept faithfully to the schedule you laid down, and now I am breaking some of the rules, yet he seems quite cured. When he was four or five we consulted several physicians who merely assured us he would have to outgrow that weakness." (E. B.)

"I think you will be interested to know that since we adopted your schedule our son has been greatly benefited and we all rejoice." (C. L. D.)

"I am tardy in thanking you . . . I have waited for results before writing you. We followed out the course you gave in your letter on the "Habit of Bed Wetting," in the cases of our twins, boy and girl, aged four and a half years. While my daughter seems entirely cured, my son still lapses, though we feel encouraged and believe he will presently be a 'dry' too." (Mrs. H. O. M.)

Some of these reports mention that the schedule or outline was faithfully followed. That's half the secret. Some of them refer to the silly advice physicians gave—that bed wetting is a "weakness" and that the child must "outgrow" it. Haven't we doctors covered our incompetence with such excuses about long enough? It seems to me that if or when a physician isn't prepared to deal with a matter like this, his patrons would have more respect for him if he frankly told them he doesn't know how to manage such trouble. My "schedule" or outline of the management of the bed wetting habit is mine by adoption, mainly. I have gathered what seemed sound and practical ideas from many colleagues and fashioned a definite plan for parents or guardians to follow. Any physician as well as any parents or guardian, is welcome to my "schedule." But don't forget the S. A. E., even if you're the queen of Sheba.

The World's Worst Cripples Are Deformed in the Head

By Robert Quillen

Ed Maroney has dealt with many kinds of mortals and describes their faults as "weak spots." If he observes a flapper's vanity, a go-getter's knavery or a parent's brutality, his explanation fits them all. "That's a weak spot,' says he.

It is a philosophy much more profound than at first glance it seems.

We cannot judge men as we judge cattle, dogs and poultry, for there are no universally accepted standards of excellence; but our natural sense of justice and decency and right pictures for us the normal and proper man as he should be, and this imaginary ideal is the standard we use in measuring men.

The normal man is a proper man—a 100 per cent man, flawless in every detail. Perfection is normal, and any deviation from perfection is abnormal.

The normal man has two sound arms; two good eyes; straight legs. And the child born with but one arm, or born blind, or born with crooked legs, is abnormal and its abnormality is universally recognized.

What, then, of the child born without intelligence? Here, again, the world recognizes abnormality; but it fails to see the abnormal except in cases of complete idiocy. The dullard possessed of enough wit to earn his bread is considered normal, whereas any deviation from the standard of perfect intelligence is an abnormality—just as any shortening of an arm, however slight it may be, is an abnormality.

The normal, proper, standard man is an honest man—truthful, moral, virtuous. This being true, the liar is a freak and the thief a monstrosity. They are just as abnormal as the hunchback.

Man's body is of less importance than his mind and his mind of less importance than his soul—assuming this his soul is the seat of honor and ethics and sentiment.

And yet a thoughtless, superficial world recognizes abnormalities of the body and accepts as normal all well-formed creatures, however dull of wit and however lacking in honor.

Ed makes the wiser and fairer judgment. Dishonor is in truth a deformity, and the stupid are abnormal. The moral and intellectual faults of men are "weak spots," to be classed with club feet and congenital deafness.

Don't give all of your sympathy to those who use crutches. Some of the worst cripples have perfect bodies.

GANGSTERS SHOOT DOWN ENEMIES

he would "blow Garrick's home sky high."

Mrs. Anna E. Garrick, wife of the police captain, who was suffering from heart disease, was hurled from her bed by the blast and suffered from shock. She was taken to a hospital, where, it was said, she was in a critical condition.

Colleta Klauke, 7-month-old granddaughter of the Garricks, was found laughing in her crib under a pile of debris. She suffered slight cuts.

Result of "Alky" War.

The shooting of Lombardo and Ferraro was believed by police to be the result of a struggle between the Joe Aiello gang and the Lombardo forces for supremacy of the "alky" trade in Chicago.

A few weeks ago police found a cache of guns and ammunition planted across the street from the home of Lombardo in Cicero and since that time the reputed liquor lord has been in hiding.

Aiello and Lombardo, police said, have striven to take over the west side "alky" trade once held by the famous Genna brothers' gang, which has been annihilated.

Frank Uale, New York bootlegger, who was slain several weeks ago in Brooklyn, is reported to have dictated that Lombardo should take over the "business." New York authorities, working on the Uale murder, concluded the bootlegger was slain by Chicago gangsters but no arrests were made.

Sensational Killing.

The shooting late this afternoon was staged sensationally. Offices and stores in the "loop" had just released employees for the day and the sidewalks were crowded with men and women when the loud reports of revolvers sounded. The crowds scattered in all directions. Two men fled down the street leaving Lombardo and Ferraro lying on the sidewalk.

Neither of the victims had a chance to protect themselves, as revolvers were found in each of their pockets. Witnesses said the two men who did the shooting attacked Lombardo and Ferraro from the rear. Two bullets struck Lombardo, one in the head, another in the neck. Ferraro also had two bullet wounds, both in the back.

The revolvers used by the attackers were thrown into the tsreet. They dodged through the crowds with Patrolman Leslie Finlayson in pursuit. One of the two men who fled into the entrance of a large building was captured. He gave the name of Joseph Lolardo, of Cicero. A revolver was found in his pocket.

Large Bank Deposit.

A bank book showing a deposit today of $25,337 was found in Lombardo's coat pocket. Ferraro, on a hospital bed, defied police and doctors to engage him in conversation. He refused to answer any questions the police asked and shoved a doctor away when the latter attempted to feel his pulse.

Chicago may look for another gang war as the result of the shooting, police said tonight.

Bombing Is Signal.

Police Commissioner William F. Russell and other officials said they believed the bombing of Garrick's home signalled the opening of the underworld's protest to the new police regime. It was the first incident of the kind since Russell succeeded Michael Hughes as commissioner.

Deputy Commissioner John Stege selected Garrick to lead the Des Plaines district which lies just west of the Chicago river. Stege said he was convinced the "Halsted street gang" was responsible for the attempt on Garrick's life.

WILD DAY REIGNS ON STOCK EXCHANGE

clerks into service and arrangements were made to carry on the all-night office work which was a feature of last spring's market.

The return of the stock market to newspaper front pages throughout the country resulted in drawing crowds to the stock exchange visitors' gallery and elevators and halls there were crowded, even though comparatively few persons were admitted.

Sales of blocks ranging from 5,000 to 20,000 shares were recorded at frequent intervals on the belated ticker tape. Despite apparent stringency of money, which held steady at 7 1-2 per cent, as banks called upwards of $20,000,000 in loans, pools seemed able to arrange for funds to finance such purchases running into millions of dollars.

Optimism Spreads.

The optimism of the stock market spread to the curb market, although not to such an extent, but the bond market paid little heed. Trading there was about as dull as at any time during the past few months.

Montgomery-Ward was the feature of the day in the roaring stock market, soaring near $20 per share to $242 and then slumping to around $236, as compared with the year's low price of $117. Sears-Roebuck emulated its example, climbing to a new record high price of $157 before it yielded to $154.

United States Steel common, Tidewater Associated Oil, American Safety Razor, Brunswick Balke Collender, Electric Autolite, International Nickel, Purity Baking, Timken Roller Bearing, Commercial Investment Trust, Fox Film "A" and Gold Dust were among the issues to establish new high prices for the year or longer.

Rails took little part in the day's advance.

BIG RADIO SHOW TO OPEN MONDAY

oustanding entertainers whose offerings will be reproduced for hearers in all parts of the auditorium by means of an elaborate public address system.

The auditorium will open daily to the public at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and continuous showings of all exhibits will be maintained until 10:30 o'clock every night. Beginning Tuesday special "pre-view" showings for out-of-town radio and electrical dealers will be conducted from noon to 2 o'clock.

A two-hour concert every afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, and an hour's program every night at 9 o'clock, will be given by the Rudy Brown orchestra, one of the most popular in the south.

The opening of one of the biggest civic, educational and trade events on Atlanta's annual calendar was heralded in conspicuous fashion Saturday night through a broadcast from a Pitcairn Mailwing biplane which was relayed through WSB and heard by tens of thousands of listeners throughout the United States. A second program from the sky will be transmitted, Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, just prior to the grand opening.

Television a Feature.

Among the astonishing advances in radio-electrical science illustrated at the 1928 exposition will be the new phenomenon of television, which will be demonstrated continuously throughout the week at the display of Francis R. Hoyt, well known Atlanta radio inventor.

Visitors at the booth maintained by Mr. Hoyt as chief technician of the Electric Supervision company will be able to see their own images while being transmitted and received simultaneously by the inventor's unique apparatus. Facial expressions, the smoke of a cigarette and all evidence of animation will be photographed on the air at close range.

The most representative and diversified list of exhibitors on record has actively backed the exposition and will be present on the floor to welcome the throngs with interesting displays. Leading department stores, music houses, oil heating concerns, public utilities, phonograph companies, illuminating engineers and other substantial agencies, welded together through the common medium of radio or electricity, have lent their strength to the project with significant results.

General Chairman Morrison was outspoken Saturday in thanking his aides and in congratulating all exhibitors.

Progress Shown.

"It's a fine example of the real Atlanta spirit and a splendid testimonial to the remarkable progress the radio and electrical trades have made in becoming a vital factor in the city's growth," said Mr. Morrison. "While Foster Steward cannot be praised too highly for his magnificent handling of a big executive job, I am deeply grateful to the enthusiastic and cheerful support given us by every individual having a part in building the success of the 1928 exposition."

Chairman Morrison and Director Stewart added hearty thanks to the delegation of Atlanta girls who have been conducting the advance ticket-selling contest and who have placed thousands of tickets among the most substantial types of citizens in every community of the city. These feminine aides will divide cash prizes totaling $500 and will retain a percentage of all tickets sold.

The exposition is more timely and valuable than ever this year from the standpoint of a radio fan through the fact that some of the foremost manufacturers in America are displaying totally new types of receivers and speakers for the first time. Last year, the all-electric radio receiver which operates about as simply as turning an electric light on and off, was an experiment. Now it has arrived.

Several popular types have already proved their worth in thousands of homes, but the auditorium display will bring forth half a dozen or more brand-new types, to be produced on a large scale this year by factories heretofore not represented in the receiving set field. The broadest possible choice of the new models will be afforded at the show. Innovations in the new type of "dynamic" speaker, console units in color, phonograph combinations and innumerable other allied lines will challenge the curiosity of the veteran fan or the noviate.

No less powerful will be the appeal of the wonderful showing of devices and appliances in the electrical field where the housewife or the male head of the family will be literally dazzled.

Handsome, mechanical refrigeration systems that would ornament a parlor and which are as fascinating as a Christmas toy; oil heating installations, running full blast, and picturing an idyllic situation for comfort-loving folk; scintillating illuminating devices; cooking devices varying from a toaster to a kitchen range; automatic suction sweepers; flashlights; heaters; lamps, and myriad other magic helps toward ease and convenience will claim attention.

The three previous shows have attracted thousands of visitors to Atlanta and have swelled the city's annual volume of business by hundreds of thousands of dollars. The exposition has never failed to be a financial success and has been marked by an increasingly large public attendance each year.

All booths will be fully manned by expert attendants every day at all hours from the opening at 2 o'clock until the close at 10:30.

BAPTIST BOARD'S DEPLETED FUNDS

caused by one man, a man who violated a great trust. They are certain that the work of the board is far more important than to be stopped by this matter. We are certain to survive."

As the home mission board held a special executive meeting at its offices in the Wynne-Claughton building to advance further its plans for reorganization, steps were being taken to run down every rumor which would assist in the apprehension of Carnes and bring about his return to Atlanta.

The police department has been supplied with an adequate description of the missing man which has been broadcast to all stations in the country. Orders have been issued by Chief A. Lamar Poole, of the detective department, to arrest Carnes on sight and hold him for Atlanta authorities. Although no formal complaint has been issued against Carnes, Chief Poole believes the department already has more than enough evidence to warrant his arrest and detention until formal charges or an indictment has been filed against the missing man.

Norfolk Promises Arrest.

Chief James L. Beavers, of the Atlanta police department, Thursday made public a telegram he received earlier in the day from T. L. Petty, inspector of detectives at Norfolk, Va., in which Mr. Petty requested a full description of the missing man and promised to arrest and detain him if he was located in that city.

Chief Beavers explained that he had received no reports which might lead to the belief that Carnes was in Norfolk but added that it might be well to watch the city because of its port facilities and the belief that Carnes would attempt to leave the country if he has not already done so.

The grand jury Friday was reported to be ready to take up its investigation of the Carnes case but consideration was delayed by the lack of documentary evidence from banks which would be necessary for grand jury scrutiny before that board could return an indictment. Representatives of Ernst & Ernst, employed by the board to make a complete audit of Carnes' accounts, already have called on banks to furnish documentary evidence which will assist in the prosecution of Carnes but thus far this evidence has not reached Atlanta.

Rehabilitation Steps.

At the special meeting of the mission board members were informed by Dr. Cree just what steps were being taken by the new administrative machinery to bring about the rehabilitation of that body and to conserve the assets of the board, which were imperiled through the operations of the missing Carnes.

The board elected Dr. Arthur J. Barton, of Atlanta, as office secretary to assist Dr. Cree, who merely has been loaned to the mission board for a period of 60 days by the Georgia Baptist convention, of which Dr. Cree is executive secretary. It is hoped that after the 60-day period the reorganization of the mission board will be complete and that Dr. Cree will be free to return to his Georgia board duties. Dr. Barton was given authority to countersign checks and other financial duties. Dr. Barton also will assume charge of the office routine with Dr. B. D. Gray, former executive secretary, functioning as acting treasurer during the period of reorganization, at the end of which time Dr. Gray is to be retired as secretary emeritus with a salary of $2,400 per year, but without any further responsibility to the board.

Baptists Issue Statement.

At the meeting of the Atlanta Baptist pastors and laymen the following resolution was adopted and issued for publication:

"An informal group of Atlanta Baptist laymen and ministers met in the rooms of the home mission board Friday evening at 5:30 o'clock and unanimously adopted the following statement, offered by Louie D. Newton:

"While we recognize the temporary shock which the apparent defalcation of the treasurer of the home mission board will occasion among the 4,000,000 white Baptist of the south, we are absolutely certain that southern Baptists will rise in majesty to meet the situation, without cynicism and with no hint of retreat. God is not dead, and home mission work is not invalidated. Every disaster is a test. We have no fear of the steadiness of Southern Baptists. Our people are not going to allow the apparent breakdown of one Baptist to affect our fidelity to the cause of Christ. Southern Baptists will not repudiate one dollar of their obligations.

"Southern Baptists are confronted with a challenge. The press of the nation has given the public the full facts in this case and is diligently lending its good offices in locating Mr. Carnes and otherwise serving our people in this crisis. Already Baptist groups throughout the south are telegraphing cordial sympathy to the officials of the board and expressing their purpose to meet this challenge with extra gifts at once in order to pay the creditors of the board and keep in sacred trust the good name of our people. Several large cash contributions have already been received at the board's headquarters in Atlanta.

"Representative ministers and laymen of the Baptist churches of Atlanta are meeting this afternoon to heartily pledge their loyalty to the board in this trying hour and to covenant together in the confident purpose of appeal to Atlanta Baptists next Sunday to make a generous contribution to the present emergency and thus sustain this cherished agency of our denomination in its rightful field of southwide service in furthering the cause of Christ. We hereby appeal to our brethern throughout the south to join us in this reasonable undertaking. We can replace this million dollars next Sunday and thus make the heart of Southern Baptists happy and triumphant."

At the conclusion of this meeting, Dr. W. H. Major, pastor of the Capital Avenue Baptist church, of which Carnes was treasurer, announced that at his 11 o'clock service Sunday he would address his congregation on the subject of Carnes' connection with the mission board and church and inform members of the church of its results and explain to them their duty in the present crisis.

Those present at this meeting were: George M. Brown, E. S. Etheridge, Carlton W. Binns, Wade H. Davis, Hugh M. Willet, Charles A. Davis, Walter W. Lawton, W. W. Gaines, W. T. Rhodes, Paul S. Etheridge, W. W. Withington, I. N. Sheffield, J. N. Landers, B. C. Smith, S. B. King, T. Z. Dean, Julian Harrison, E. L. Harling, Ellis Fuller, A. J. Moncrief, Broadus Jones, C. J. McLendon, J. C. Williams, J. H. Bulloch, R. C. Young, Grady Duffee, L. R. Christie, W. H. Major, S. A. Cowan, Carter Helm Jones, M. A. Cooper, F. C. McConnell, W. L. Cutts, W. G. Faust, J. L. Jackson, L. E. Roberts, A. J. Barton and Louie D. Newton.

Members of the board, through Dr. Barton, indignantly denied the report circulated Friday by an afternoon newspaper that officials some years ago had been informed of Carnes' prison record, the investigation of which was dropped when the then treasurer, confronted with the charge, issued a categorical denial.

Report Termed "Preposterous."

"Such a report as members having heard of Carnes' two prison terms is preposterous," Dr. Barton said. "The public may be certain that if such a report had been received it would have been investigated fully, but inasmuch as none of the members nor the officials ever dreamed of such a thing there was no investigation."

The board at its meeting Friday adopted a resolution disclaiming any responsibility for the suit filed Wednesday by Colonel Walter R. Brown in which the board, Samual A. Carnes, 23-year-old son of the missing ex-treasurer, the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company and Joel Hunter and company were named defendants. The suit resulted in the issuance of a restraining order by Judge Howard in Fulton superior court in which young Carnes was enjoined from disposing of any of his father's properties and the board enjoined from making a settlement with the bonding company which had bonded the missing treasurer to the extent of $50,000. In his suit Colonel Brown sought to have the bonding company held liable for the entire amount of shortage, alleging that had it investigated him thoroughly his prison record would have been revealed and the bond refused, thereby blocking his acceptance of the position as mission board trasurer. The Hunter company was named in the suit as members of the board had reported that Carnes was recommended to them by Joel Hunter, Sr., the petitioner alleging that the Hunter estate was liable to the full extent of the Carnes shortage for the same reason that he named the bonding company.

Board Resolution.

The resolution of the board follows:

"Having been informed that it is reported that the home mission board is associated with or given moral support to the suit which Mr. Walter R. Brown has brought against Clinton S. Carnes, et al, suit No. 77,710 in the Fulton superior court, the home mission board of the southern Baptist convention does hereby disclaim all connection whatever with the aforesaid suit."

Colonel Brown in a statement Friday also asserted that the mission board had nothing to do with the filing of the suit, explaining that he had acted on his own initiative as a member of the southern Baptist convention and a contributor to the mission fund of the church.

Colonel Brown's Letter.

Colonel Brown Friday addressed the following letter to Dr. Luther R. Christie, president of the mission board:

"The equitable petition filed by me in Fulton superior court against Clinton S. Carnes, United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, et al has evoked so many inquiries from the Baptist household that I request some information before giving answer.

"I wish to be advised if the cupboard of the Baptist Home Mission board is bare; and if there is a bone left how much meat is on it?

"I ask that Dr. Luther Rice Christie, president of the home board; Edwin L. Harling, member of the board, and Hugh M. Willet, custodian of some of the assets of said board, personally inspect, count and list all the securities now in possession of the Home Mission board at Atlanta, giving the value, character and condition of said assets.

"I am not requesting a statement of any of the properties hypothecated with banks, trust companies or individuals; but I wish to know if there is anything in the way of assets in the treasury of the Baptist Home Mission board at this time.

"Trusting that I may receive a report signed by the brethren aforementioned at your earliest convenience, I remain, yours very truly,

"WALTER R. BROWN."

Officials of the mission board and of the police department Friday scouted the rumor that Carnes had been seen in Richmond, Va., although the police department of that city had been advised of the reports and a special effort to locate Carnes was made there.

"Naturally there are going to be many reports placing Carnes in many localities and just as naturally most of them are likely to prove false," said Dr. Barton speaking for the board. "Of course we are going to run down every clue to his whereabouts and the board feels certain that in the course of time he will be apprehended and forced to return to Atlanta and face trial for his misdeeds."

VIRGINIAN CERTAIN HE SAW CARNES LAST WEDNESDAY.

Richmond, Va., September 7.—(AP)—Richmond police made it known today that a prominent Baptist layman of this city is virtually certain that he saw Clinton S. Carnes, missing treasurer of the Southern Baptist home mission board, get off a train in Richmond last Wednesday night. The layman, police said, came to Richmond from Washington and had observed the man on the train.

So firm was he in his opinion that the man was Carnes that he turned the matter over to police who traced a taxicab which the man was believed to have entered, but it later developed that the officers were mistaken and had traced the wrong cab.

TEXAS BAPTISTS PLAN TO CARRY ON WORK.

Dallas, Tex., September 7.—(AP)—Appalled at the "disaster" revealed when a check showed shortage of a million dollars in accounts of the Baptist home mission board at Atlanta, Texas Baptists, at a meeting of the executive board of the general convention here today, set about to maintain mission work jeopardized by the alleged peculation.

Resources of churches in more than a dozen counties were pledged to maintain the work until the Atlanta board is "on its feet" again.

Dr. George W. Truett, Dallas, who, along with former Governor Neff, of Texas, sat on the board which investigated the alleged defalcation, urged an investigation of all mission funds in this state.

RUTH IS WILLING TO BE DIVORCED BY LYLE WOMACK

Hollywood, Calif., September 7.—(AP)—Ruth Elder will not contest the divorce action filed against her in Balboa by Lyle Womack.

"If he wants a divorce there must be a good reason," she said in announcing she would not oppose his move.

Miss Elder in answer to Womack's charge of neglect of her home asserted he had provided no home. She expressed surprise that her husband had not informed her previous to taking action against her.

ANTI-SMITH MEET ENDS IN DISORDER

Fort Payne, Ala., September 7.—(AP)—The second anti-Smith meeting in north Alabama to end in disorder within a week resulted here last night from the declaration by a leading Methodist minister that "friends of prohibition should vote for Herbert Hoover instead of Al Smith."

The assertion was greeted by a hail of eggs and oranges tossed at the speaker, Dr. John R. Turner, presiding elder of the Albertville district and resulted in a hasty adjournment of the meeting.

Previous R. H. Pegues, of Jackson county, had attempted to speak but got no further than explaining that Judge Horace C. Wilkinson, of Birmingham, who was scheduled to preside, had been detained by another engagement. An egg thrown at him by a person in the audience struck a wall immediately over and behind him. Pegues immediately quit the rostrum.

A fist fight in the audience added to the excitement and resulted in one of the participants, Henry Price, candidate for alderman, being escorted to his home by deputy sheriffs. Price is said to have punched Raleigh Moore, son of a prominent merchant, in the eye when the latter began to cheer for Governor Smith.

Smith partisans kept up a continuous din throughout the meeting taking only breathing spells to allow the program to get underway again before letting loose with resounding catcalls and boos.

The other anti-Smith speakers to be "egged" was the Rev. George W. Wilburn, of Little Rock, Ark., evangelist, who was the object of two egg attacks Tuesday night after being interrupted by a young woman member of his audience who objected to his attacks on the religious beliefs of the democratic standard bearer.

FLORIDA STORM ACTS AS DREDGE, SAYS ENGINEER

Fort Pierce, Fla., September 7.—(AP)—Use for tropical storms has been discovered at Fort Pierce, it became known today when Colonel Gilbert A. Youngberg, United States army district engineer, told the Fort Pierce inlet commission that the blow of early August was worth $18,000 to the commission. High water swept to sea sand that would have cost that much to remove with dredges, Colonel Youngberg said.

RUSSIANS BURY BODIES OF SAILORS FOUND IN "SUB"

Portsmouth, Eng., September 7.—(AP)—With full naval ceremony the bodies of forty-one officers and men of the submarine L-55, which was sunk by the Russians in the Baltic in June 1919, were buried in the naval cemetery here today.

Every branch of the service and several representatives of foreign naval powers, followed the coffins as they were borne through streets lined with thousands of spectators. Sailors from the warship "Excellent" fired the final volley over the graves and marine buglers sounded taps.

HOOVER TAKES FIRST SHOT AT DEMOCRATS

Washington, September 7.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover took his first shot today at the democratic opposition, declaring that the signing of the Kellogg-Briand treaty renouncing war, coupled with the naval limitations treaty and the Dawes reparations settlement, constituted a complete answer to the statements of the democratic platform that the republican administration had contributed little to the cause of world peace.

Making his first departure from the custom of not permitting his statements in press conferences to be quoted, the republican presidential candidate declared that "these three contributions point to this administration as having accomplished the greatest steps toward international peace made by any country since the signing of the peace treaty ending the great war."

Tells of Treaty.

"The democratic national platform attempts to convey the impression that no accomplishment has been made by the republican administration in the advancement of world peace," Hoover said. "The arrival home of Secretary Kellogg after the signing of his great treaty for the renunciation of war at once demonstrates that this is not the case. Secretary Kellogg has accomplished a magnificent step toward world peace by the renunciation of recourse to war for the solution of international controversies.

"The secretary has brought about a change in fundamental ideas which will affect all future international relations.

"The early return of Secretary Hughes also brings to mind the tremendous accomplishments of the Washington arms conference.

"To this may well be added the solution of reparations through the commission headed by General Dawes.

Move for Peace.

"These three contribtuions point to this administration as having accomplished the greatest steps toward international peace made by any country since the signing of the peace treaty ending the great war."

Hoover's statement was made at the end of another busy day of interviewing callers and working on his Newark, N. J., speech. His visitors included Nathan C. Frank, of St. Louis, who brought the best news from Missouri that the republican candidate has received. This was that Frank had turned a deaf ear to importunities of his friends that he run as an independent candidate for the senate in November and would wholeheartedly support the entire republican ticket.

Hoover indicated today that his address at Elizabethton, Tenn., would be largely nonpartisan in nature, and probably would deal with the economic and industrial development of that section. The subject of his New York speech has not yet been determined, and he has not yet fixed a time for the delivery of the address he contemplates making in New England.

BYRD'S PLANES LAND AT BOLLING FIELD

Baltimore, Md., September 7.—(AP)—Bernt Balchen, flying the Byrd expedition plane, Floyd Bennett, with seven aboard, made a safe landing at Logan field, near here, today when forced down by engine trouble en route to Hampton Roads.

When the motor trouble developed Balchen managed to bring the big trimotored plane to a safe landing in the field, saving it from serious damage. None of the occupants was hurt.

The plane, with two others for use of Byrd antarctic expedition, was being flown from Mitchel Field, N. Y., to be loaded aboard the expedition's ship at Hampton Roads. The other planes continued to Washington.

Washington, September 7.—(AP)—Pilots Dean Smith and Harold June, of the Byrd antarctic expedition, landed at the naval air station at 12:30 p. m. today en route to Hampton Roads.

Balchen later landed his big monoplane at Bolling Field after a forced landing at Baltimore caused by engine trouble. It was not decided when the three planes would leave for Hampton Roads.

Oldest Native Dies.

Birmingham, September 7.—(AP)—R. P. McNally, 57 years old, the first male child born in this city, died here early today. McNally was born November 11, 1871, shortly after the village of Birmingham was incorporated into a city. The event was made one for celebration being topped off with land grants of several acres of now very valuable city property.

2 REVENUE AGENTS HELD BY POLICE ON BRIBE CHARGE

New York, September 7.—(AP)—It was learned at the federal building today that Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, is the man from whom Edward F. Brown and Elmer F. Andrews, internal revenue agents, are alleged to have attempted to obtain $35,000 by extortion.

The agents were arrested yesterday on a charge of extortion but the name of their intended victim was not made public at that time. At the time of the arrest $10,000 in bills was found in Andrews' hat and was said by authorities to have been the first installment of a $35,000 extortion fee.

Reginald W. Ragland, a lawyer, who made the complaint against the agents, said that they had agreed to approve his client's claim for a $250,000 tax reduction if they were given $35,000.

Sinclair claimed deductions aggregating $2,000,000 on his income tax returns from 1925 and 1926. About $250,000 of this amount represented losses through his racing stables, $1,250,000 through the Selah Oil company, and $500,000 through bad debts.

HUNGRY CATS SOUGHT TO KILL VEGETABLE PESTS

West Palm Beach, Fla., September 7.—(AP)—Stray cats may be a drug on the market in some places, but not here.

In fact, there is a steady demand for homeless members of the feline tribe, and the leaner and hungrier they are, the greater the demand.

Recently calls have reached the local animal rescue league for cats—big cats, middle-sized cats and kittens—all coming from the everglades area, according to league officials.

The animal orphan's home has cleared its cages of strays and still, according to officials, there is a demand.

Investigation revealed that the babies and toms are being sought as first aid to everglades vegetable growers who find them the best protection against rats and rabbits which have recently caused some damage to crops.

Methodists Fight Smith.

Springfield, Ohio, September 7.—(AP)—The Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today went on record as being unanimously "against Alfred E. Smith and in favor of Herbert Hoover for president of the United States."

Keith's Georgia.

Today brings to a close an unusually popular program at Keith's Georgia theater. Zane Grey's story, "The Water Hole," starring Jack Holt and Nancy Carroll; Jim Harkins' laugh getting "vehicle," "The Family Ford," a recent W. C. Fields Ziegfeld Follies hit, and the Seymour and Howard Revue, successful skits from George White's Scandals, all vie with each other for first honors, in the opinion of Atlanta show-goers.

Howard.

Today presents the last opportunity to see Emil Jannings in Paramount's amazing sound picture, "The Patriot." "The Patriot" is said to have been acclaimed the greatest characterization of the great German's career. It was acclaimed by New York critics as one of the finest pictures of all times. Several went so far as to call it the perfect motion picture. Ray Teal's homecoming show is the Publix hit, "Milady's Fans."

Loew's Grand.

The all-time classic, "The Big Parade," with John Gilbert and Renee Adoree in the roles that made them famous, and with Karl Dane providing a running fire of comedy, is the super-picture attraction at Loew's Grand theater this week under that theater's new policy of bringing back the big pictures at popular prices. Mechanical accompaniment is provided for the first time in Atlanta for "The Big Parade."

Loew's Capitol.

Loew's Capitol theater will offer four performances Saturday of the bill of vaudeville headed by Johnny Marvin, with the Wilson Brothers, singers and comedians an added attraction. Three other star acts complete the vaudeville program. The Loew feature picture is "Four Walls" with John Gilbert in the leading role, supported by Joan Crawford and an all-star cast.

Metropolitan.

Olive Borden, the fascinating little lady in "Pajamas," the most delightful and the most talked of picture of the week, will be seen for the last times at the Met today. Lawrence Gray turns out to be Miss Borden's hero while she gives Jerry Miley the back door. Dick Rich and Charles Rogers are to be seen and heard on the program.

Rialto.

Today will bring to a close the showings of "Women They Talk About", latest, and considered by many to be the best talking film produced, which is on view at the Rialto theater. "Women They Talk About" has a delightfully entertaining plot, having to do with the adventures of a woman politician who runs against a former sweetheart. Love interest throughout the picture is maintained by William Collier and Audrey Ferris. Claude Gillingwater and Irene Rich are also featured. Vitaphone vaudeville and Movietone news complete the bill.

NEGRO BEATERS ELUDE OFFICERS AT JACKSONVILLE

Jacksonville, Fla., September 7.—(AP)—Police tonight were still without a clue to the identity of three white men who, Isaiah Tribble, 35-year-old negro contractor reported to police, kidnaped him last night, took him into the country and beat him for 20 minutes with a heavy strap.

The negro is under the care of a physician. He said he escaped from his captors while they were debating whether or not to kill him outright for being interested in an Al Smith for president club. He was told, he said, that this case "should be a warning to all of your race."

Tribble was picked up on a street corner here and placed in an automobile, where he was blindfolded and made to bend under the dashboard of the machine, he said.

He was carried to a lonely wood and taken from the machine.

A "whipping boss," Tribble declared, beat him with a two-inch wide leather strap while two other men sat on him.

ROBINSON PROMISES SHOALS DISPOSITION

said, "is that a scientific or accurate, instead of an arbitrary definition of what constitutes intoxicating liquors or beverages be inserted in the law. So far as my information goes, no one has ever contended that excess of one half of one per cent is an actual definition of the content of alcohol necessary to constitute a beverage intoxicating.

Governor Smith's personal proposal would permit each state to determine the percentage of alcohol within the limit of a maximum fixed by federal authority, which maximum should not exceed the actual percentage determined by scientific study to constitute a beverage intoxication.

"It may also be said in comment upon Mr. Hoover's acceptance statement that no one has proposed to change the constitution except by the methods provided in that instrument.

"His language: 'No one denies their right to seek to amend it. They are not subject to criticism for asserting that right' would seem to be an implied indorsement of modification as the correct and proper method of working out the experiment of prohibition constructively.

"There is no declaration of record by Mr. Hoover that he is opposed to modification, either of the Volstead act within the limits permitted by the constitution, or of the constitution itself, unless it is implied in the language which I have quoted.

"His declaration that he is opposed to the repeal of the 18th amendment, and his further announcement recognizing the right to seek amendments to the constitution in the method that instrument contemplates, would justify the conclusion that he is not committed to perpetuating the 18th amendment and the Volstead act."

Parties Silent.

Mr. Robinson said that neither the republican or democratic parties ever had declared itself "for or against national prohibition as incorporated in the 18th amendment, and the Volstead act," and "that it must also be admitted that as now organized it is a great mistake to assume that either party is 'dry' in the sense that the term is usually employed."

Referring to Smith's telegram to the Houston convention, the senator said that there was "nothing ambiguous, equivocal or evasive" in that utterance.

"Unlike Mr. Hoover's reply to the Borah questionnaire and his acceptance speech on the subject," he added, "it leaves no one in doubt as to where the democratic candidate stands. It is not asserted as the declaration of his party, but as his personal opinion on a phase of the prohibition problem not touched upon in the platform."

organization of the corporation. Mr. O'Dell was named chairman and member at large.

Activities of the organization will include the states east of the Mississippi river and south of Virginia and the Ohio river.

Appearing as a guest, General Dalton, president of the Emergency Fleet corporation, urged adoption of the plan as answering a need of the south.

United South.

"If the south is to get her share of business she must be a united south," he declared. "Consolidation and standardization of the south is the mission of 'The South, Incorporated.'

"It is time for oratory to cease and definite action to be taken to build up the prosperity of this great section of America."

Other speakers also indorsed the proposal and a campaign immediately was launched to raise $25,000 from among the delegates at the meeting. The shippers then swung back to their business and decided to hold the next quarterly meeting in Jacksonville. New Orleans also bid for the convention.

Reports showed that the net volume of shipping business in the southeast has been running below the 1927 level but an increasing business was anticipated for the next quarter.

Estimates of freight car requirements for the southeast during October, November and December, was placed at 1,099,296 cars, compared with 1,053,106 cars actually loaded during the same period last year.

"Markets generally were reported fair to good by all industries with indications pointing to improvement," a formal statement of the board said.

MORNINGSIDE BODY BANS APARTMENT HOUSES IN SECTION

The Morningside Civic league went on record Friday night opposing the erection of apartment houses within the boundaries of its section. Morningside was laid out to be purely a residential section, the league's resolution shows.

The discussion was the result of a statement by the owners of a lot located at the corner of Morningside drive and Highland avenue, that they wished to dispose of the property to parties who would erect an apartment building.

Judge John D. Humphries, a newcomer to the Morningside section, was present at the meeting and made a short address telling why he had chose Morningside for his residence. E. Stevens, president of the league, presided at the meeting.

MOTORISTS REPORT TERRIBLE ROADS

condition, with rough going on the detours near the Chattanooga line.

The roads to Carrollton and to Augusta were said to be in fairly good condition, although very muddy and slippery. All roads in the Lake Burton region are practically impassable, this condition holding good for nearly all mountain roads in the section including Athens, Gainesville, Calhoun, Summerville and Blairsville.

One man who came to Atlanta by way of Canton reported that the trip from Canton here took him nearly four hours, and that between Canton and Marietta he was stuck in the mud three times. The road fram Cartersville to Cleveland was reported in bad condition by motorists at the Bell garage.

"Disgrace to State."

Montgomery, Ala., can best be reached by way of Macon and Columbus, it was said.

Criticising the present Georgia system of highways as a "disgrace to the state," a prominent Atlanta business man who has just completed a tour of 2,400 miles which carried him through 11 states, said that the trip was enough to show the "horrible condition of the Georgia highways."

"Surely the time will come when the motorists of the state will revolt against present conditions," the business man said. "If the fight for better roads and a better system is ever successful it will take Georgia years to live down her present reputation."

"Coming down from the east through states like Connecticut, Maryland, New Jersey and on until we reached the wonderful highways of North Carolina, and even the fairly good roads of South Carolina and then to strike Georgia is enough to make any Georgian blush with shame," he said. "An awful sea of mud and ruts exists from the Georgia line until we reach Atlanta. The road from Athens to Atlanta is at present almost impassable."

The business man pointed out that sand clay surfaced roads are absolutely no good in weather "as we are now having and it is an outrage that the taxpayers of Georgia are forced to see their money wasted in such makeshift roads."

On the trip just completed the business man met 10 or 12 motorists who make the trip from the east to Florida every year, and said that without exception, they all figure out some way to avoid Georgia. "At every point we met tourists who had experienced the Georgia roads, and in every case they declare with one accord, 'never again'," he said.

"It is alarming to think of the amount of money that our makeshift highway system costs the state every year. In addition to the fact that we have practically no roads, compared to other states, it is almost impossible to get any information about them. They are poorly marked and our highway department seems to have no way of directing tourists through the quagmires," he declared.

All Good But Georgia.

This business man said that he passed through Virginia on a Sunday, and at one muddy detour around a bridge that the floods had damaged, there were half a dozen teams and a large force of highway men to help the tourists through when necessary. In all states except Georgia he found large forces of the state highway men at every bad place and at every bridge that was at all dangerous or difficult to get over, and not one did he see in Georgia, he said.

All busses of the Dixie Safety Coach lines are going through the roads without trouble, R. F. Flanagan, manager of the Peachtree Union terminal of the lines, reported Friday. Flanagan said that reports about 40 cars being stuck on the Chattanooga highway was given out by a traveling man. The Dixie line busses are routing to Augusta through Athens, and the Columbus road is all right, he said.

Highway Board Report.

Notwithstanding the storm of protests made by tourists and others attempting to use the roads Thursday and Friday, the state highway department reported Friday that no [illegible] of the Atlanta-Chattanooga road is impassable, and that "all the roads on the state aid system are now passable." The detour between Cartersville and Cass Station, while narrow, is passable at all times because of the fact that it is surfaced either with soil or cinders frequently and with careful driving there is no danger of being stuck, the report said. Aside from this the detour is in good condition, according to the highway department. This road is private property and the state improved it all that can be done, the statement said.

The Kingston-Rome detour is passable at all times, and is in fair condition, and the Kennesaw-Ackworth detour is also in good condition, the highway department said. These detours are due to paving, it was said.

Some trouble is experienced with the road from Grayson to Lawrenceville, the highway department said. "Traffic on this road has become heavy within the last few days on account of a bridge being washed out on route 10 between Grayson and Stone Mountain. While the condition of the road has been greatly impaired on account of the heavy rains, still all traffic can go through this road. The road between Grayson and Stone Mountain is impassable because of the bridge being washed away."

A detour has been provided and will take good care of all traffic on the Covington-Social Circle road, the highway department said. "The detour between Cordele and Tifton is impaired because of about 30 hours' rain, yet the detour is passable. All men are at work and everything is being done so far as possible to keep this detour in good repair," the statement said.

THIRD MISTRIAL IN LANCASTER CASE

Hamilton, Ala., September 7.—(AP)—The third mistrial in the history of the case was declared here this afternoon when a jury trying Robert Lancaster, former non-commisisoned officer of the Alabama National guard, for murder in connection with the lynching in 1921 of Willie Baird, reported to the court that it could not agree on a verdict. The jury received the case at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Plane Broadcast Starts Through WSB at 8 Tonight

E. V. Dunbar, publicity chairman of the radio show, and A. W. Shropshire, operator of WSB, testing the plane transmitting set which will broadcast above Atlanta tonight.

A complete public address system, like those employed at the democratic and republican national conventions, by which even a whisper from the stage will carry to the farthest corner of a huge hall, will be installed and operated for the benefit of the thousands of spectators attending the radio-electrical exposition at the auditorium starting at 2 p. m., Monday.

While similar devices have been employed in previous years, the equipment for the 1928 show far surpasses anything heretofore heard at the auditorium. The entire installation will be under the direction of Jack Fulton, of the Fulton Brothers Electric company, whose apparatus is in widespread demand throughout the southeast for use at important political rallies.

Tonight at 8 o'clock comes the spectacular broadcast from a Pitcairn Mailwing biplane, which will be transmitted from a short-wave portable station installed in the ship and relayed to the general public through WSB. A second flight is planned in broad daylight Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Musical effects will be furnished by the church choir and by Miss Beyer, at the organ.

Clear Weather Today; Flood Danger Is Past

C. F. von Herrmann, United States meteorologist, began to breath easier Friday when reports indicated that the gulf disturbances which had threatened Georgia with more floods, appeared to be moving westward in the gulf and seemed sure of dissipation in the gulf itself.

The flood danger for western and northern Georgia is over, though the southeastern section of the state is experiencing moderate floods, Mr. von Herrmann reported. The high pressure area which remained over the lakes Friday kept the gulf storm away from Georgia and diverted it to the west, the weatherman said.

There is little danger of a repetition of the gulf storm now, as those disturbances begin in July and start to diminish in September, Mr. von Herrmann said. "Atlanta and Georgia are lucky that the storm took another turn, for the condition appeared serious for a time," Mr. von Herrmann said.

The rain will stop temporarily for today, but he will not guarantee that it will remain away long, Mr. von Herrmann said. The promise is for no rain here today, but not altogether clear as long as the wind continues from the northeast, he said. The high pressure over the lakes is gradually drifting eastward.

The forecast for today is for fair weather with moderate temperatures. Mr. von Herrman expects temperatures of 65 to 75 today, as compared with the 66-71 of Friday.

Atlanta reported only .08 of an inch of rain up to 7 o'clock Friday morning and but a trace thereafter. The excess for the month, however, is 2.45 from a total precipitation of 3.08, and the excess for the year to date is 8.11 inches from a total of 43.85 inches. The normal for the entire year is 48.37, so that it will be seen that with more than three months yet to go, the year is within but 4.32 of the year's normal.

WALKER ATTACKS POSTAL SERVICE AS SLANDER AID

Albany, September 7.—(United News.)—Echoes of a "whispering campaign" allegedly directed against Governor Alfred E. Smith today caused Mayor James J. Walker, of New York, to criticise the postoffice department at Washington for its apparent laxity in allowing salacious matter to be distributed through the mails.

The New York mayor, who came here for the funeral of Hugh J. Reilly, former secretary of the state democratic committee, said there is a "pronounced effort" to inject the religious issue into the presidential campaign.

"Fanatical bigots have gone to an extreme to which they have never gone before," he said.

"If they keep on their way they may drive the people to nominating an agnostic or an atheist. It's disgusting to American citizens.

"It's a sad commentary on the federal government that they allow to pass through the mails the stuff that is coming to me. The postoffice department cannot help but know it, and anyone familiar with the criminal branch of the government knows how astute the postoffice department is in stopping mail frauds."

RUN OVER BY AUTO, HUSKY BLACKSMITH ESCAPES UNHURT

C. B. Thomas, 57-year-old blacksmith, of Decatur, is apparently more husky even than the stout men of his trade are wont to be. Officers reported that Thomas was knocked down and run over by an automobile at the intersection of Decatur and Bell streets and after being rushed to Grady hospital was found to be uninjured.

According to the report, the automobile was driven by L. J. Rowe, 17, of 1031 Delaware avenue. Thomas was struck as he ran out in front of the car and the left front wheel had passed over his body and the left rear wheel was resting on his back when the machine was brought to a stop, according to police. Rowe was charged with reckless driving and Thomas with being drunk.

DRUID HILLS CLASS WILL GIVE PAGEANT

"The Rock," a religious pageant depicting the character development in the life of Simon Peter, will be given Sunday night at the Druid Hills Methodist church by members of the Susannah Wesley Bible class.

Mrs. High Morris, Mrs. Arthur Burdette, Mrs. Natalie Buchanan, Mrs. Homer Moore and Mrs. A. G. Maxwell will have parts in the play.

RADIO-ING THE AIR WAVES

BY THE DIAL TWISTER.

Frank J. Black, pianist-composer, and director of the Seiberling Hour, will play Rubinstein's "Impromptu," (Op. 16, No. 1), during the RCA demonstration hour to be broadcast through WSB and the NBC system at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

This selection is one of Rubinstein's most interesting compositions and one which offers great opportunity for pianistic display. The composer himself delighted in playing this work, and his performance of its always evoked tremendous enthusiasm. Mr. Black's interpretation of "Impromptu" is considered to be an extremely fine one, in which the delicately contrasted beauties of the composition are well brought out.

Merle Johnston, wizard of the saxophone, and popular soloist of many NBC features, will play "Fleurette," by Abbott, in a special arrangement for a tenor sax.

Selections by the dance, the salon and the little symphony orchestras, and solos by artists representing NBC weekly broadcasts will complete the program.

HARDMAN REFUSES TO DEBATE RIVERS

Another exchange of letters between State Senator E. D. Rivers, candidate for governor, and Governor L. G. Hardman, candidate for reelection, ensued Friday when Senator Rivers invited the governor to be present at his scheduled speaking engagement Friday night at the Atlanta theater, at which he offered to divide time with the executive, and when the governor replied in a letter in which he declined to accept the invitation to joint debate.

In his letter asking the governor to be present Senator Rivers said he extended the invitation, not with any idea of embarrassing the governor, but to give the people of Georgia an opportunity to hear "the issues discussed fairly and impartially."

The governor, in his letter declining to debate, said that a joint debate would not "serve any useful purpose." He also reiterated six questions he has propounded to Senator Rivers in campaign statements issued from time to time through the Hardman campaign headquarters.

The letter of the governor and the letter of invitation sent by Senator Rivers are as follows:

"Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 7, 1928.

"Hon. E. D. Rivers,
Piedmont hotel,
Atlanta, Ga.

"My dear Sir: I have your letter of September 7, handed to me by Mr. Bullard, in which you state that you have rented the Atlanta theater for tonight and advertised that you will address the people on the issues of the present campaign for governor. I note that you extend an invitation to me to be present and that you offer to divide time with me at the meeting tonight.

"While appreciative of your invitation, I cannot see that a joint debate between us at your meeting tonight could serve any useful purpose nor could the issues of the present campaign be made any clearer thereby.

"You are running for governor in opposition to me. My record as governor of Georgia for the past 14 months is well known. My earnest and conscientious efforts to carry out the progressive program outlined in my platform two years ago are well known. It is also well known that almost immediately after my inauguration the 'senate bloc' of which you have boasted that you were the floor leader, made it impossible for me to carry out the mandate of the people of Georgia given to me by an overwhelming vote two years ago. You have attained for yourself the unenviable position of chief obstructionist on Georgia. You might discuss this as one of the issues of the campaign with your friends tonight.

"Some three weeks ago I addressed you an open letter which was published in the daily press of Georgia as a news story and carried in the daily and weekly press of Georgia as an advertisement. In this letter I ask you six pertinent questions. These questions are as follows:

"'Question 1. Why did you so vigorously oppose and fight at every step senate resolution No. 22 offered by Senator John I. Kelly, to require information to be furnished to the senate as to the amount of fees paid to liquidating agents and attorneys of defunct banks in Georgia by the banking department? You voted against the passage of this resolution every time it was up for passage. Why? Was not your anxiety to defeat this resolution inspired by the fact that you wished to conceal from the people of Georgia that you received from the little bank at Adel, the capital of which is only $25,000, the sums of $3,102.94 attorney's fees and $638.08 liquidating agents' fees, making a total of $3,741.02, or nearly one-sixth of the bank's capital?

"'Question 2. You are now claiming to be in favor of reducing the departments of Georgia, cutting off useless employes and saving expenses to the state. Why did you fight so vigorously in committee and on the floor of the house in 1925 against the bill to reduce the number of oil inspectors in Georgia from 180 to six? We refer to your record in House Journal, page 1187 to 1196. Why?

"'Question 3. You introduced and fought to have passed in the senate, Senate Bill No. 133 defining what is meant by 'self-rising flour.' The real meaning of this term is fairly plain to most Georgians, so won't you please explain to the voters of Georgia what the real purpose of this bill was and why you were so deeply interested in it? Won't you tell them what interest the 'hard wheat millers' and the 'baking powder interest' had in this bill? And didn't you know that self-rising flour is made out of soft wheat, the only kind of wheat grown in Georgia, and that if the bill for which you were working passed that it would seriously curtail the market for Georgia grown wheat?

"'Question 4. The farmers of Georgia are vitally interested in Senate Bill No. 162 which you introduced, fought most vigorously for and finally had passed by a bare majority. The purpose of this bill was to legalize bucket shops again in Georgia. This bill was immediately and overwhelmingly defeated in the house after its iniquitous purpose was openly revealed in a statement to the press by Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' union. The bill is cleverly drawn and purports to make illegal bucket shop gambling, but, in fact, permits and licenses their open operations again in Georgia. You claim to be a friend of the people. Who got you to pass this bill? The people of Georgia want to know.

"'Question 5. You have criticised the campaign expenditures of Governor Hardman two years ago. These expenditures were honest and legitimate and made necessary by two separate campaigns against special interests and a powerful political machine. Is it not better, Candidate Rivers, for a candidate for governor to pay out of his own pocket legitimate campaign expenses than to have these expenses paid by corporations, mercenary and selfish interests, and thereby practically mortgage to them the same, impartial and conscientious action of the candidate if he is elected? And by the way, Candidate Rivers, the people of Georgia are vitally interested in knowing the sources of your enormous campaign fund.

"'Question 6. The Western and Atlantic railroad is Georgia's most valuable property. The people of Georgia are proud of it; are vitally interested in it; are jealous for its preservation. It was leased in 1917 for a period of fifty-two years. This lease still has forty-one years to run. An insidious effort was made in the senate last summer to lease immediately this splendid property now for an additional period of fifty years. You voted for and fought for this senate measure. It only received eleven votes. Yours was one of the eleven? The people of Georgia, Candidate Rivers, want to know why you voted and worked for this resolution to dispose of the Western and Atlantic railroad for another period of fifty-two years to commence forty-one years hence. Who wants to lease this property? Could there possibly be more than one bidder for this lease when possession could not be secured for forty-two years.'

"Repeatedly since that time these questions have been reiterated in public speeches over Georgia and in the press. Up to the present time you have not answered nor have you attempted to answer any of them. These questions, unanswered by you, constitute one of the great issues of the present campaign. They embody your legislative record. Perhaps you may see fit to enlighten your friends at the Atlanta theater tonight as to the matters inquired about in these questions. Yo uowe it to the people of Georgia to answer these questions to your friends at the Atlanta theater tonight. If you will do this, the entire available time will be occupied by you. To divide time with you would perhaps give you an excuse for not fully answering some of these questions.

"Cordially yours,
"L. G. HARDMAN."

Senator Rivers' invitation is as follows:

"Atlanta, Ga., September 7, 1928.
"Honorable L. G. Hardman,
"Governor of Georgia,
"State Capitol,
"Atlanta, Ga.

"My Dear Governor—I have rented the Atlanta theater for tonight and advertise that I will address the people on the issues of the present campaign for governor.

"I am writing this letter to extend to you an inviation to be present and to divide time with me at this meeting tonight. I will be delighted to give you as much time as you see fit and for you to have the conclusion on the speaking program.

"My extending this invitation is not with any idea of embarrassing you but with the view of giving to the people of the state of Georgia the opportunity to hear the issues of the campaign discussed fairly and impartially.

"Very truly yours,
"E. D. RIVERS."

"THE CITY BUILDER" TO DEVOTE SERIES TO LOCAL INDUSTRY

A series of articles on the recent expansion of various Atlanta industrial plants will be begun soon in "The City Builder," official organ of the chamber of commerce, it was announced Friday.

It is the belief of officials of the chamber that the articles prove conclusively the industrial advancement of the city by showing the prosperity of the factories that are already here.

The series is expected to be of material aid in bringing still more factory units into Atlanta by showing to industrial operators that Atlanta is a profitable location.

J. J. FLYNT ADVOCATES COUNTY LICENSE PLAN

Local distribution of automobile license tags through county officials supplanting the present system will save the state of Georgia approximately $34,000 a year, according to a statement issued Friday by John I. Kelley, manager of the campaign of Judge J. J. Flynt, candidate for secretary of state. Judge Flynt's manager also points out that Judge Flynt, if elected secretary of state, will preserve the official ballot boxes and also will enforce the "blue sky" law governing the sale of securities.

Discussing these phases of the campaign Mr. Kelley said:

"One of the most important duties of the secretary of state is the distribution of automobile license tags. The cost of handling these tags under the present system is $88,336.40 per annum, or an average of $548.67 per county. The motor vehicle department had in its employ in 1927 89 people to distribute tags from the state capitol, their gross salaries amounting to $54,904.90. Many of these employees, while on the payroll of the state, are roving afound in the forlorn hope that they may elect Mr. Carswell so as to perpetuate this system of distribution and at the same time save their jobs.

"If Judge Flynt is elected secretary of state he will favor the distribution of these tags at the county seats, through local officials, and he is confident that he can save the state of Georgia at least $34,000 per year and at the same time give the purchasers of the tags the convenience to which they are entitled and which is now enjoyed in 16 states.

"Another important duty of the secretary of state is to receive the returns of elections and preserve them for canvass by the general assembly. If Judge Flynt is elected secretary of state, believing that the free and untrammeled expression of the people at the ballot box is the most efficient means of perpetuating free government, he will faithfully preserve these returns and take every precaution to see that they are not destroyed by fire, as was illegally done with the ballot box in Wilkinson county in 1918."

LAND CONDEMNATION DENIED ELECTRIC CO.

The Savannah River Electric company was temporarily restrained in Fulton superior court Friday from proceeding with condemnation of land in its $20,000,000 power development near Augusta. Petition for injunction, on which Judge G. M. Howard set September 15 as the hearing date, was brought by the Interstate Land company, H. C. Middleton and W. H. Fleming, of Augusta.

Petitioners alleged that the Savannah river concern was an agent for the Southeastern Power company, or another corporation unknown to plaintiff, and that the company was conspiring to restrain the generation and distribution of electricel power.

The petitioners claim that their property is worth $2,500,000, and that no bona fide effort has been made on the part of the power company to buy it.

Service in Fulton county was secured on the Savannah concern through a branch office here. Another suit of similar content was filed against the Savannah River Power company Friday in McIntosh county, S. C., by the Twin City Land company, according to Attorney Edgar Watkins, plaintiffs' counsel, of the firm of Watkins, Asbill and Watkins.

The firm of Fleming and Fleming, of Augusta, is associated with Attorney Watkins in the case.

OUSTED CANDIDATE WILL GO TO COURT TO RESTORE NAME

J. H. Peeples, of Cannon, whose name recently was removed from the state democratic ticket as a candidate for a place on the state public service commission under terms of a resolution adopted by a subcommittee of the state democratic executive committee, will bring legal proceedings to have the committee restore his name to the ballot, it was announced Friday.

Mr. Peeples notified Chairman G. E. Maddox, of the state democratic executive committee, that he is preparing to bring these proceedings and will seek a bill of injunction restraining the county committees from removing his name from the official ticket.

HIGHWAY BOARD DEBT TO COUNTIES DENIED

The state highway department does not owe various counties of Georgia $21,000,000, or any other sum, as reimbursement for county bond issues floated to build state highways within the various counties, according to a statement issued Friday by officials and the executive committee of the Georgia County Commissioners' association, which met at the Ansley hotel.

The statement points out that the bond money to be refunded does not fall due, under the state law, until the state system of highways linking all county seats is completed and that, even then, the money will be owed by the state itself instead of by the highway department.

In issuing the statement the association officials declared that their sole object was "to keep the record straight," and added that they did not wish to become involved in any political controversy. An opinion written by State Attorney General George M. Napier is cited in the statement.

Those signing the statement were Frank H. Turner, Augusta, president of the association; A. J. Lippitt, Albany, former president; Walter B. Stewart, Fulton county, vice president; J. S. Dunn, Molena, and W. Tom Winn, Atlanta, members of the executive committee.

Commissioners' Statement.

The statement follows:

"There has been a good deal of matter in the newspapers during the last few days about the state highway department being indebted to the counties of Georgia in the sum of more than $21,000,000 on account of moneys advanced by these counties to speed up our road program for the past few years.

"The facts in regard to this matter are simply this: During 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923 some 70 or 80 counties issued county bonds with the view of getting the state road system built through their respective counties. This was done because the gas tax was then not in force and the state highway department had no moneys to even match the $2,000,000 each year of federal aid moneys and it was only through these county funds that the state was enabled to secure federal aid funds and get the benefit of the $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 of federal funds which has been spent on Georgia's state road system from 1920 to 1926. During the last three or four years since the state has had the benefit of 2½c of the gas tax money, it has been very noticeable that the counties have ceased voting county bonds as the state has been in position to match and secure federal aid funds with their own moneys.

"It is true that the counties of Georgia are due to be reimbursed for this $21,000,000, but this indebtedness is due by the state of Georgia and not by the state highway board, and, in compliance with a resolution passed by the fourteenth annual session of the Georgia County Commissioners' association held at Macon in May this year, a committee of twenty-two was appointed to draft and recommend a new law to the next general assembly so that the state can provide some means of refunding these counties that so generously voted to tax themselves to speed up our road program in every part of Georgia.

Napier's Opinion.

"We give herewith the opinion of the attorney general of the state in reference to this question, as follows: 'Before it (the county) can be so repaid, unless the legislature should enact a different law, or repeal or modify this portion of the act of 1919, the entire system of interconnecting highways from county seat to county seat shall have been completed. No matter how much money the highway board may have on hand, at any time, the language is mandatory in reference to the repayment of the cost of any part of the highways leading from county seat to county seat. The language is that such highways "shall be completed." The language of this article appears to be free from ambiguity or doubt, and therefore my opinion is in accordance with the meaning of said act.

(Signed) "'GEORGE M. NAPIER,
"'Attorney General.'

"It will probably take a period of several years for this refunding to completely wipe out this debt which the state owes these counties. This matter has been a subject of considerable discussion at the annual meetings of the Georgia County Commissioners' association and many of the counties are badly in need of this refund in order that more substantial work may be done on their county or lateral roads.

"We make this statement of facts in justice to the members of the state highway board, as none of the counties of this state feel that this debt is a direct debt of the highway department, nor was the debt made by them except as the counties themselves initiated the projects to be constructed and provided the funds with which to construct and pay for same.

"It is not our desire to engage in any political controversy or to take side in any parties' race for governor, but simply to give the public the benefit of the facts as they exist."

SOLICITOR'S AID PROBES PARK SALE

Ed A. Stephens, assistant solicitor general, will begin a study of the record of the councilmanic committee's probe of the purchase of the 429-acre Perkerson tract immediately, and if it is found that the law was violated by any of the principals he will ask grand jury action, he announced Friday night following approval of council's resolution which stipulated, among other things, that the record be transmitted to the grand jury for such "action as it may see fit."

Mayor Pro Tem. Claude Ashley, acting mayor, approved the council resolution Friday, and City Clerk Walter C. Taylor stated he would be prepared to deliver the transcript to court officials as soon as they ask it.

The report is one of the most voluminous ever taken in a councilmanic investigation and includes more than 600 pages of testimony of more than a score of witnesses.

Councilman Charles M. Ford, of the tenth ward, resigned his post, to prevent "embarrassing my friends" after the committee had recommended his impeachment at the conclusion of the investigation, and the committee deleted from its report any reference to impeachment.

The council committee was charged with the responsibility of ascertaining how the $20,000 commission paid by Fulton county commissioners was distributed. Evidence showed that Sam P. Cronheim, a real estate man, and John A. Smith, president of the Sylvan Hills Improvement club, each received $5,075, and that Mr. Ford was paid $8,900. Mr. Ford also is a real estate man. The remaining $950 was paid for incidental expenses. Cronheim testified that Ford told him he would have to bribe eleven councilmen to pass the paper. Ford denied making this statement.

A contract signed by Ford, Smith and Cronheim, in which they agreed on August 1, 1927, to divide the net profits of the commission equally was also exhibited at the hearing. Ford offered a resolution in December, 1927, for the purchase of the tract, and it was approved by council and by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale.

A survey disclosed that the tract continued 429 acres instead of 370 as the purchase resolution called for, and another paper was passed by council to buy the 429 acres the latter part of January, 1928. At that time Ford was not a member of council.

Under the agreement Fulton county was to pay $60,000, and the city $350,000. The only money thus far paid has been by the county.

CRISP DISCOUNTS SMITH CRITICISM

Oglethorpe, Ga., September 7.—(AP) An answer to the "whispering campaign" against Governor Al Smith, defense of the democratic conception of government and arraignment of the republican party for "bureaucracy" and a "saturnalia of corruption" were contained in the address here tonight of Charles R. Crisp, congressman from the third Georgia district.

In a complete review of the outstanding developments in the national campaign, in which Governor Smith had "frankly and courageously" stated his personal views, Mr. Crisp declared that "prohibition i not endangered by Governor Smith's election," adding that the nominee would provide "the strictest enforcement of the prohibition laws in the United States that we ever had."

Sharp contrast was drawn between the national candidates in that "Smith courageously and fearlessly presents his views while Hoover uses words, procrastinates and dodges behind investigations," and that "Hoover's views are subject to change without notice."

After stating that Governor Smith's estimate of prohibition differed with his own, Mr. Crisp declared "there was no hue and cry raised against the election of President Wilson in the south because of his prohibition views, which were similar to Governor Smith's. Both favored the doctrine of local self-government and states' right on the subject. In my judgment, under Governor Smith, we would have the strictest enforcement of the prohibition laws in the United States that we ever had. The best way to keep a good law on the statute book is to enforce it; the best way to repeal a bad law is to enforce it and make it obnoxious to the people."

He added that "the prohibition law is not in danger."

Referring to the objection "that a Catholic will be under the dictation of the pope," Mr. Crisp denied the issue. "Hundreds of years ago," he said, "the pope exercised temporal power, but over 500 years ago England severed relations with the vatican, and today in no important nation of the earth is the pope recognized as having temporal power. Governor Smith is an able, red-blooded sincere American citizen, and he has said over his own signature that he favors separation of church and state and that neither the pope nor any other authority within the church has or could ever have any influence with him in the discharge of his public duty."

Mr. Crisp compared the "official and private honesty" of Governor Smith to the republican machines of "the wet Vare of Pennsylvania," and "Wild Bill" Thompson, of Chicago.

"A study of his record as governor," he said, "will demonstrate efficiency, faithfulness and the most progressive record of any governor in the United States. If elected he will make a great president."

CARSWELL SEEKS VOTES OF FRIENDS OF TOBACCO TAXES

Revenue from the cigar and cigarette tax is important to Confederate veterans of the state who are seeking an increase in pensions and friends of veterans should support backers of the tax, according to a statement Friday by George H. Carswell, candidate for reelection as secretary of state.

Mr. Carswell declared an effort is being made to defeat him so that his influence will be removed when tobacco interests make an effort to repeal the tax at the session of the legislature next summer. He said former Governor Nat E. Harris indorsed this tax and also made public a copy of a letter he received from the trustees of the Confederate Soldiers' Home.

The letter is as follows:

"The Confederate veterans and widows are pleading for an increase in pensions. Not only an increase, but the payment in full of the present pensions depends upon the cigar and cigarette tax—the least objectionable and less of a nuisance of all our taxes, since it can be avoided by smoking a pipe or 'rolling' the cigarette. But, it seems that the consumer, who pays this tax, is quite willing to do so, and the manufacturers can't complain, as the sale of cigars and cigarettes is increasing by leaps and bounds, as statistics show.

"The purpose for which the tax is imposed appears to promote the use of manufactured articles. Therefore, the friends of the Confederate veterans and their widows—their sons and grandsons—should vote for candidates opposed to the repeal of the cigar and cigarette tax.

"R. deT. LAWRENCE.
"President Trustees Confederate Soldiers' Home."

Woman Attorney Wins Gratitude Of Negro Client

Lee Smith, colored, had been delinquent in paying a small debt. His creditor put the matter in the hands of a lawyer. The lawyer collected—so promptly and pleasantly that even Smith, the debtor, was impressed.

The lawyer was Miss Mary Tenenbaum, one of the scattered few women attorneys in Georgia.

Then Lee Smith got into trouble. He was a truck driver for an Atlanta wholesale house. He was arrested charged with using c. o. d. collections for his own use. Specifically, he was said to have misappropriated thus about $9 paid him for a couple of barrels of syrup for a popular soft drink.

Lee Smith was in jail. He wanted a lawyer. He remembered Miss Tenenbaum, who had collected that bill from him so easily and painlessly. He sent for her.

The case has now been tried before Judge Jesse Wood in city criminal court. There were three counts and the negro pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to make restitution, pay a fine of $50 or serve three sentences of six months each.

But, after conversation with Miss Tenenbaum, Judge Wood agreed to forego the fine and prison sentences if the negro would make restitution. The employer from whom he is alleged to have stolen went on Smith's bond and he is now at liberty to try and raise the money needed to clear him entirely.

And he is more firmly convinced than ever that "Mis Tenenbaum sho makes a moughty fine lawyer man."

After 8 Weeks Missing Family MysteryDeepens

Thomasville, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—It will be eight weeks Saturday since Captain A. H. Harrington, his wife and year-old baby son disappeared from Thomasville, and Andrew B. Clarke, Mrs. Harrington's father, is still without any clue whatever as to their whereabouts, though inquiries have been broadcast all over the country.

An Englishman, here a few days ago, recently arrived from abroad, stated that he read an account of the missing family while he was at sea on the vessel on which he had passage coming to the United States. The office of secretary of state for Georgia has advised Mr. Clarke that the 1926 Ford coupe in which the Harringtons left here had Georgia license tag No. 234847, and the motor number was 12524349.

TALMADGE SPEAKS AT GRIFFIN TODAY

Griffin, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, will speak at the Spalding county courthouse Saturday afternoon. Mr. Talmadge, who last election defeated J. J. Brown, is now being opposed for reelection by Grady Adams, of Newton county. Colonel L. P. Goodrich will introduce Mr. Talmadge at the meeting here Saturday.

FAIRBURN CROWD HEARS TALMADGE

Fairburn, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Commissioner Eugene Talmadge, candidate for reelection, brought his fight into Campbell county today and spoke to a large gathering at the country courthouse.

Mr. Talmadge vigorously criticized the campaign conducted by the opposition.

"This opposition to me began before I had been in office one month. I let out the 'oily boys' as I promised the people I would. They started to working immediately to get back to the trough. Fred Bridges, assistant commissioner of agriculture under J. J. Brown, was selected to direct their activity. Bridges and his crowd approached several men and were refused. They then found Adams.

"They knew of his fertilizer connection and they also knew that I was making the fertilizer companies give the farmer what they paid for.

"Uncle Claud Adams is running on the fertilizer cash supported by Fred Bridges and the crowd he runs with. That is the story in a nut shell.

"If I had cooperated with them I would have been unopposed. I did not 'fit in' with their plans, so they are trying to put someone in that will."

Talmadge then reviewed the work of the various departments during his administration.

"The fertilizer department has taken 13,000 samples and reported on 11,000 to date at a saving of $6.29 on each sample. There were about 2,000 penalties. The bureau of markets has recorded sales to the value of $1,537,441.37. There have been 12,901 samples of food and feed. We have tested for tuberculosis more than 37,000 cattle, vaccinated 60,000 hogs and tested 22,000 chickens. By reducing the overhead, cost of fertilizer inspection, oil inspection, the people have been saved one quarter of a million dollars."

Talmadge concluded:

Alleged White Slaver Signs His Own Bond And Goes to Hospital

An order allowing R. L. Cannon to sign his own bond for $1,000 on white slave charges in order that he may go to a hospital for treatment was signed Friday by Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley.

A report from Dr. W. J. Auten, county physician, was to the effect that Cannon shows symptoms of typhoid fever and may have tuberculosis. The district attorney consented to allow Cannon to go to the hospital without guard and sign his own bond.

Cannon is alleged to have transported a woman from Osceola, Ark., to Smyrna, Ga., in violation of the white slave act. He was held for the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Gordon W. Combs, of Marietta.

Mayor Ragsdale will remain at home until his health is improved.

Uncle Remus Association Plans Celebration.

Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, president of Uncle Remus Memorial association, presided over the meeting last Tuesday at Wren's Nest, calling to mind the fact that this is the twentieth year of the life of the organization. Mrs. Arthur Hazzard made a motion to the effect that a committee be appointed to make plans for a suitable celebration of this event, and as December 14 is the birthday of Mrs. Wilson, this day was set aside to honor her for the 20 years of untiring service she has given to this work.

Plans for the celebration include a reception at the Biltmore, to which the entire membership of the association will be invited guests. Plans were also made for celebrating the birthday of the late Joel Chandler Harris on December 9. The association collaborates with the schools and clubs in honoring the natal day of Georgia's illustrious son. Mrs. Wilson announced that a reception would be given at "The Wren's Nest" October 15 honoring Mrs. Trox Bankston, state president of the U. D. C., and Mrs. L. D. T. Quinby, president of Fulton chapter, U. D. C., during the U. D. C. state convention in Atlanta at that time. Two new members were welcomed into the association, Mrs. E. S. Morris and Mrs. F. H. Mapp. Mrs. Charles N. Davis, poet laureate of the association, who has been absent quite a long while, was extended a cordial welcome.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

A THUMP ON THE ROOF.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Where'er you go throughout the land
—Old Mother West Wind.

Whitefoot the Wood Mouse and Mrs. Whitefoot were so delighted with their new home in Farmer Brown's sugar house over in the Green Forest that they had ceased to worry. They had almost forgotten Yowler the Bobcat and his family. Yes, sir, they had almost forgotten him. For two or three days they hardly poked their noses outside that sugar-house. It was wonderful not to be watching out for Hooty the Owl at night and Yowler and Bobcat and Old Man Coyote and Reddy Fox. And, of course, while that sugar-house would not have seemed very big to you or me, to such little people as Whitefoot and Mrs. Whitefoot it was a very big place.

One night, when the moonbeams came peeping in through the little windows of the sugar-house, Whitefoot and Mrs. Whitefoot sat debating whether they would go outside. You see they were getting a little tired of staying inside. They wanted a change. Most people want a change now and then. In fact, most people need a change now and then.

"I guess," said Whitefoot, "the only one we shall have to look out for will be Hooty the Owl. You never can tell when that fellow may come snooping around. My, what a relief it is not to have to worry about Yowler the Bobcat!"

"It wouldn't be so bad," said Mrs. Whitefoot, "if he didn't have those kittens. It was bad enough when there was just Yowler and Mrs. Yowler, but growing children take a lot of food. Now that Yowler and Mrs. Yowler have to hunt for those babies until the latter are big enough to hunt for themselves it is going to be very dangerous for all the smaller people of the Green Forest. I hope when they grow up those kittens will go off on the Big Mountain. We don't have to worry about Yowler while we are here, but I won't be real easy in my mind for a minute when we are outside."

"Huh!" exclaimed Whitefoot. "Those Bobcats won't come around here. I'm not afraid of them over here."

"I am," declared little Mrs. Whitefoot emphatically. "They roam over a lot of the Green Forest and now they must have to go father than ever. You are making a mistake, Whitefoot, if you think that just because they can't find us where we used to be that they will give up looking for us."

"Did you hear that?" whispered Mrs. Whitefoot.

"Just the same, I don't believe they'll come over here," Whitefoot insisted. "Come on, let's go outside for a little while anyway."

Hardly were the words out of Whitefoot's mouth when there was a soft thud on the roof of the sugar-house and two little hearts almost stopped beating.

"What was that?" whispered Mrs. Whitefoot.

Whitefoot shook his head. "I don't know," he whispered back. "Listen!"

On the roof over their heads he could hear soft footsteps. They knew that they were the footsteps of someone big. None of the little folk of the Green Forest could make footsteps like those. There was a rattling of the old stovepipe which served as a chimney for the sugar-house. "Did you head that?" whispered Mrs. Whitefoot.

Whitefoot nodded. "Of course I heard it," he whispered back. "How could I help but hear it. My dear I believe you are right. I believe it is Yowler or Mrs. Yowler."

Mrs. Whitefoot didn't wait to reply. She started for the firebox of the evaporator and Whitefoot was right at her heels. Into it they ran and straight into their little nest in the far corner. And there they curled up close together and listened and listened for further sounds.

U. S. DRY AGENTS CAUTIONED ABOUT POLITICAL ACTIVITY

Washington, September 7.—(AP)—Members of the prohibition, customs and coast guard services of the treasury department were cautioned today not to engage in political activities during the present campaign. Both Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, and the civil service commission notified prohibition employees that their political work must be confined to casting their votes.

G. O. P. WHISPERERS ARE CALLED AID TO DEMOCRATS

Washington, September 7.—(United News.)—Governor Smith is gaining strength through a reaction against the whispering campaign being waged by auxiliary republican organizations," Representative William A. Oldfield, of Arkansas, chairman of the democratic congressional committee, said today after a tour of several southern states.

"Everywhere I went I found things in good shape so far as the democrats are concerned," he said. "That doesn't mean we will not have a fight in some congressional districts but in such places I found the men directing the fight for the democrats up on their toes and confident of results in November. Every indication now is that not only will Governor Smith be elected but that the democrats will control congress as well."

Power Utilities Quiz to Resume On September 13

Washington, September 7.—(AP)—The federal trade commission's investigation of power utilities will be resumed September 13, when matter relative to the propaganda phase already received will be introduced for the record.

Present plans do not call for any witnesses to be heard on that date and it is expected that further hearings will not be held until September 17. These sessions are to be concerned especially with the clearing up of the propaganda evidence available especially in relation to New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Iowa and Louisiana.

The commission then plans to go into the propaganda activities of utilities groups in the Pacific coast stages, but no date has been decided for the opening of that phase of the inquiry. Neither has any date been set for turning to the investigation of the financing of utilities groups.

Repair Bridge.

Sparta, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Repairs have been completed on Harris Mill bridge which was twisted and otherwise weakened by the flood waters of Shoulderbone creek during the freshets of several weeks ago. The people living in the northern portion of the county, above Harris Mill, and on to the Greene county line have been allowed to cross the bridge since the water went down, but at their own risk. The timbers have all been replaced and strengthened now and traffic is going over the bridge as usual. This cuts the distance between here and Greensboro and Atlanta by several miles. The traffic had been routed by White Plains and Siloam during the time the workmen were repairing the bridge.

JURY TAKEN TO SCENE OF ALLEGED MURDER

Los Angeles, September 7.—(AP)—The scene of the trial of Russell St. Clair Beitzel for the murder of Miss Barbara Mauger, was shifted today from the courtroom to the lonely canyon in the Hollywood hills, where her body was found.

The trip to the canyon was ordered by the court yesterday to supplement the testimony of Frank R. Webb, county autopsy surgeon, and Henry L. Mauger, Philadelphia conductor, father of the girl.

As the first witness for the state, Webb testified three bullets were fired into Miss Mauger's body, two of which would have caused instant death. The father identified the body.

Beitzel is accused of slaying the girl after an elopement to Hollywood from Philadelphia and a love affair in the film city.

PLAIN SPEAKING MARKS SESSION OF LEAGUE

Geneva, September 7.—(AP)—Plain speaking on war and peace, on the meaning of the Kellogg pact and on the need for disarmament characterized today's session of the assembly of the League of Nations.

Hermann Mueller, socialist chancellor of Germany; Nicholas Politis, a brilliant legal light of Greece, and Mineichiro Adachi, Japanese ambassador to France, led the delegates of 50 nations into storms of applause as they eloquently pictured dire results that might follow acts of international injustice.

Premier MacKenzie King, of Canada, achieved a striking personal success when, in simble but potent phrases, he held up as an example for the world the long and untroubled reign of peace between Canada and the United States.

Spontaneous Applause.

Spontaneous applause occurred at striking passages of the speech. Even Chancellor Mueller, of Germany, who had delivered an important address ahead of Premier King, failed to arouse equal enthusiasm. The assembly seemed particularly impressed by the declaration that the 3,000 miles of undefended Canadian-American frontier symbolizes renunciation of war just as the Kellogg pact does.

The Canadian statesman said that the dominions' budget did not contain a single dollar which could be attributed to fear of aggression by the United States. Several delegates hailed the century-old Rush-Bagot naval agreement, whereby competitive arming between Canada and the United States is prevented, as a treaty which might well be taken into consideration as a basis for curbing armaments throughout the world.

Disarmament Problem.

Disarmament must come or the League of Nations will be a failure, was a striking sentiment expressed by Chancellor Mueller. He followed this with a plain warning that Germany could not go on indefinitely under the limitations of armament imposed on her by the Versailles treaty while other countries were permitted to build up their land, sea and air forces. He warned, too, that the method by which the league handles the problems of minorities in the several European states which shelter alien strata of population will have much effect upon the eventual life or death of peace.

But conditions never were less favorable for war, he added, and he gave hearty approval to the Kellogg-Briand pact on behalf of his government.

Mr. Politis' legalistic dissection of that treaty aroused the admiration of the delegates. They discussed his effort in the lobbies between the morning and afternoon sessions and characterized it as "masterly."

They seemed especially struck by the Greek's statement that the Kellogg pact had given positive force to the Geneva procotol of 1924, a pronouncement which he had helped frame and which denounces as an aggressor any government which refuses to resort to arbitration for settlement of international disputes.

LOS ANGELES READY FOR BIG AIR RACE

Los Angeles, September 7.—(AP)—Final plans for the 1928 national air races, described by Clarence M. Young, director of aeronautics for the department of commerce, as the greatest aviation exhibition in history, were being rushed toward completion here today. The races begin tomorrow after the arrival of various pursuit groups of planes now headed westward.

"The entire achievement of the aviation industry, both military and civil, for the year 1928 will be on exhibition," said Young. "Every new type of plane, motor, instrument and aviation necessity will be on display."

At a given signal tomorrow, 300 airplanes will roar out from Mines field to mark the exposition opening. Then their pilots will mass into formation to fly out over the countryside in a great demonstration.

As the exposition opens, the cross-country fights, another adjunct to it, will be in progress throughout the continent.

A Boy You Should Know

TODAY I was taken down to Seven Willows Island to visit the camp of Seckatary Hawkins Club!

Hawkins took me down in his little red canoe. I sat in front and tried to paddle, but somehow it was harder than you would think. Sometimes I would hit the water right and sometimes I would miss; a few times I would barely touch the water; then Hawkins would let out a "Whooie!" and I knew that I had drenched him with another splash from my paddle.

I never did much paddling from a canoe, and I could not keep my mind on it, for I kept on going over the events of the last few days: How chance led me to follow those footprints that led me to the little red clubhouse; how I had entered, and found good old Hawkins, the boy you should know; how those boys were introduced to me, and how they played their jokes on me; and, best of all, how they let me join their club.

On the way down I had another long talk with Hawkins, and although I got pretty warm trying to paddle, I enjoyed it all. I was just about to ask Hawkins the question I had mostly on my mind since I met him, and that was about letting all the kids in my territory join as I had done. I had already said, "Hawkins, how about letting—" Splash! "Whooie!" Gee, I splashed him again. "That's all right," said Hawkins; "there's Seven Willows Island and the camp."

Here we are at the camp and I didn't tell you a thing that we saw on the way down. We passed Hobbs Ferry—Lige Hobbs was there and we waved at him, but we didn't stop. We passed the Smoky City—a big boat that was wrecked and lying on the bank. Hawkins said the old wreck belonged to the club, because they found it first.

I received a wonderful reception at the camp, and was shown all around the island. When we got back to the camp I met an old friend of the boys. I will have to tell you about that tomorrow.

The Taming of Elizabeth

INSTALLMENT LX.
MAD HAPPINESS.

"No more tears." Elizabeth gulped suddenly, winking eyes suspiciously bright. "You mustn't notice. I shall be all right in a day or two. It's what I've gone through; it's left me all strained and up and down."

"Well, my dear, I'll go and chuck my things into a suitcase or so while you pop into this rig." Stephen pointed to the day costume, a brown-cloth trimmed with sable; very simple and very expensive; just the things for an early autumn day. "Then we'll lunch together and go to a matinee. Tonight, dinner and dancing, I think, in that mauve thing.

"But, Stephen, surely that is too frivolous for you, the stern guardian? Won't it bore you?"

He held her hand tightly as he said, "Nothing will bore me with you, Elizabeth. You're going to teach me to be young. After all, I have had no youth. . . ."

"Poor old Stephen, what a shame!" She looked at him with glowing eyes.

He sighed. Youth to youth—and he had never been young! Perhaps it was too late now. Was it fair to Elizabeth to grab too quickly? No, the child should have a free run, and if some likely lad should prove her choice. . . ; well, so be it. A moment later, however, he had decided that the likely lad was going to find a stout rival in the path.

"O, Stephen, what fun it's all going to be!" she cried with a radiant blush. Of course he had not really understood, perhaps he never would, but he had been kind and thoughtful all the same, taking her side even when she seemed a little in the wrong. "It's rather nice to have a guardian of one's very own after all," she added. "I think we'd better go round and see Miss Colet; perhaps she would let me have that room. It'll be nice to see Mark again too; he is such a dear and I have crowds to tell him. Mrs. Vesington will send my money to you, which will be enough for me for quite a time living like that, and after I've had a holiday I will look for something else, something in London, I think. I suppose you don't want a secretary, Stephen?"

"No, not a . . . secretary," he said slowly.

"O!" she uttered an excited exclamation, "I know what I can be! Think of the experience I have had. Why, I'm just cut out for it. First an actress, then a sort of secretary to an old gentleman, then a cook—I got Mrs. White another husband through the cook I got her afterwards—then companion in an old asylum. Hiding in coal carts, being chased through swamps, boarding a train in motion, being arrested for traveling without a ticket, and rescued by a stern guardian who's quite young and not awfully ugly or old . . . why, it's all the film stunts. Stephen, I shall go to Hollywood and be a film star and make millions. . . ."

"Absurd child. Now, no more nonsense about earning your living. If you want money—well, I've got it, more than I shall ever know how to spend."

"That's easy; there are always lots of people to help."

He made an impatient gesture. "You shall help; nobody else."

"I won't take your money," she said obstinately. "I'd rather marry for it."

He gave a jump and his mouth set in a hard line. She was frank at any rate!

"There's that old gentleman quite willing, Mark said—Mr. Keene, you know. He has fifty thousand a year and he's fifty himself, so he could not live very long, could he? And then I should be rich and merry widow." She gave a swift look at Stephen's darkening face and began to dance round the room. O, it was fun pulling old Stephen's leg! He was a dear, but he took things so seriously.

"Don't talk of marrying for money," he now said sharply. "It's disgusting."

"Well, all women hope to be disgusting! Ask 'em!"

"So you rule out. . . er. . . love and all that sore of thing?"

Elizabeth avoided his eyes. She was smiling secretly to herself.

"O very well, marry Keene by all means! But if you think a man of fifty isn't capable of living for at least twenty years. . . ."

"Not my husband! I'll be one of the wearing kind."

"You certainly will!" he retorted, and went out banging the door behind him.

But Elizabeth only laughed and went on dancing. "I believe I am a fey. I am so mad with happiness!" she thought, "And Stephen is simply adorable when he's sulky. . . ."

She began to pack up her treasures, considering them one by one, and suddenly a sharp suspicion pierced her. Had Stephen spoken truly, or did he really know more about women's requirements than he had owned, and how had he gained this knowledge? Was Mrs. Vesington right? Were the books they had read together always right? Anyway, she had got to know. How to ask him, how to put it?

She had prepared many formulas, but when he came into the room a little later to find her ready for the street, all the delicate insinuations had flown, and waving her hand at the parcels she faced him with flashing uphappy eyes and the amazing question:

"Stephen have you been living in sin?"

He stared at her with his mouth open. "What on earth are you talking about?" he gasped. What would the incredible child say next?

"Really, Elizabeth, this is a bit thick!" he got out at last.

"It's no good trying to put me off. Have you?" She would hate Stephen if he was like some of the horrid people she had read of. As for the woman—well, hanging was too good for her. How dare she! Elizabeth's own Stephen—at least her guardian. He should have remembered that.

"I suppose you think I don't know things, but I do," she said sulkily. "Why, though you mayn't know it, some men even after they are married—especially after they are married—have affairs with other women. There was Mr. Vesington, I'm sure it was something like that, though he was only trying to have the affair, poor dear. She would not let him, you know. I feel so sorry for Mr. Vesington. Perhaps he liked the other dreadfully, perhaps that was why. . . ." She thought of that last scene in the library and shuddered. O, there was death and despair in Moat Grange!

POEMS THAT LIVE.

DEATH'S SUBTLE WAYS

VICTORIOUS men of earth, no more
Proclaim how wide your empires are:
Though you bind in every shore,
And your triumphs reach as far
As night or day,
Yet you, proud monarchs, must obey,
And mingle with forgotten ashes when
Death calls ye to the crowd of common men.

Devouring famine, plague, and war,
Each able to undo mankind,
Death's servile emissaries are;
Nor to these alone confined,
He hath at will
More quaint and subtle ways to kill:
A smile or kiss, as he will use the art,
Shall have the cunning skill to break a heart.

Robinson Pitches All Way; West's Single Wins Second Game.

BY BEN COTHRAN.

Just like the Athletics, the Crackers this morning are pointing with pride. They kept step with Men of Mack and won a double-header Friday afternoon, with New Orleans being the victim. If you are one of those interested in figures, then the scores were 7 to 3 and 2 to 1.

Features were many. Mr. Rube Robinson startled a bunch of women and a few men assembled in the stands by pitching eleven innings—which was the duration of the second game—and allowing New Orleans eight hits but only one run.

Then it remained for Max West, just as the shades of night were preparing to fall or be drawn or whatever it is these poetic souls do with the shades of night, to knock the ball over Eichrodt's head in left field and bring home Art Olsen from third with the winning run and make Rube's day complete.

How It Happened.

Possibly we should elucidate on the matter of how Olsen got to third. It was like this: Johnny Jones, hitting for Bader, opened the eleventh inning by popping up to Padgett. Then Tom Anglet hit for the Rube and the ball went skipping down the first-base line for a double. Olsen went into run for Tom—who has never claimed any speed records- and wee Eddie Lewis, about the size of a small half-pint, knocked the ball to left for a single and Art was on third, from whence West's blow scored him. As Atlanta had made one run in the first, then th. run of Olsen's made two, which was one more than New Orleans had, so the boys went home.

It was a tough game for Williams, of New Orleans, to lose. After the Crackers jumped on him in the first inning for three hits and one run, Mr. Williams shoved the boys down in the brine barrel and kept them there until the eleventh. He whiffed all sorts of balls across the plate, and the Crackers, for nine innings, didn't get the semblance of a hit Good work on the part of New Orleans outfielders helped some, but it was largely a matter of Williams' pitching.

And the grand old man, Mr. Robinson, was enjoying himself on the mound. The Pelicans got eight hits off him at scattered intervals, and at times had the bases rather crowded, but just at the right time somebody would hit into a double play or one of the infielders came up with a bit of scintillating fielding to brighten the dull, dark, drab and dreary day.

Pitchers' Battle.

The first game was something more of a pitchers' battle, the score being 7 to 3, and the Crackers getting 14 hits from the combined slants of Levsen and Collins.

New Orleans started it off with Davis singling in the second, going to third when Bader's throw to first on Gerken's grounder was low. This left the stage all set for Anderson, who came up after Padgett had been called out on strikes.

Tom Rogers was pitching. He put one across and Anderson hit it. It looked like a single to centerfield. But it seems that they had a circus at Spiller's Monday and, as you know, circus wagons are heavy and it has rained frequently during the past week. So Max West slipped and skidded all over centerfield and when he finally got the ball Anderson was on third, Davis and Gerken had scored.

Tough on Outfielders.

It was a tough day on outfielders. You never knew, from one step to another, when you were going to hit the mud. People were continually expressing the fear that Eddie Lewis would fall in one of the many puddles dotting the outfield and possibly drown. But it is worthy of note that no outfielder, on any side, dropped a fly ball during the entire 20 innings. There were some the boys couldn't get to that would have been easy outs on a dry field, but the fielding Friday was very good.

After the Pels had scored their pair Atlanta, in meek fashion compared to what was later forthcoming, scored a run in the fourth when Angley singled, took second on Bader's infield out and scored on Tom Rogers' Texas leaguer in left field.

Then the sixth inning came to light. After retiring New Orleans in order the Crackers came to bat with Angley leading off. He proceeded to single to center, which started the ball rolling. Blethen hit to Padgett, who threw to second to get Angley and when Gardner dropped the ball all hands were safe. Bader beat out a bunt down the third base line and the bases were full.

Rogers Scores Couple.

Tom Rogers, wonder of wonders, got his third hit in as many times at bat and Angley and Blethen came home while Bader went to third. Then when Lewis sacrificed to center Bader scored. Max West knocked the cover off the ball for a double to left field and Rogers went to third, from whence he scored on Poole's long sacrifice fly. After Partridge walked Billy Rhiel grounded out to end the inning just in time to save Tom Angley from having to bat twice. It was quite exciting.

After two walks and a hit had filled the bases in the Pels' eighth. Managers Niehoff and Gilbert engaged in a battle of wits when Gilbert sent in Miner, a left-handed batter, to hit for Padgett. Red Oldham, a port-sider, had been warming up on the sidelines and the Skipper sent him in to pitch. After he had one strike on Miner, Gilbert put in Vick, a right-handed hitter, who sacrificed in Tucker from third.

So that left nothing for Atlanta to do but score a couple more in their eighth. After Lewis grounded out West singled. Poole's double sent him to third and here Gilbert elected to send in Collins. Partridge, first man to face him, singled to right, scoring West and Poole, which made it 7 to 3.

It was a pair of good ball games that the lads produced Friday and though you might be inclined to think that they aren't getting anywhere you certainly can't be inclined to think that they aren't fighting.

Montgomery Sure Of Copping Flag

Montgomery, Ala., September 7.—(AP)—By defeating Selma twice today while Pensacola was losing to Tampa, Montgomery made certain of winning the second half pennant in the Southeastern league race. Even if the Lions should lose the remaining two games the club has yet to play while the Fliers are winning their three the local outfit would win by half a game. The season closes Sunday.

Montgomery will meet Pensacola in a play-off series which will start in the latter city next week for the season's championship. The winner of this series will play Asheville, champions in the South Atlanta league, in a "little world series."

National League

CUBS SWAMP REDS.

Chicago, September 7.—The Cubs pounded Lucas and Luque for 19 hits and routed the Reds, 11 to 1, in the opening game of their series today. Root pitched perfect ball for the Cubs and was never in any trouble, allowing only four hits. The Reds got their lone run in the fifth on a single, a walk and an infield out.

The fifth inning was the Cubs' big inning, when they pounded out eight hits for five runs, one of them a homer by Hartnett with a man on base.

PHILS, BROWNS DIVIDE PAIR.

Philadelphia, September 7.—The Phillies divided a double-header with the Boston Braves here today, winning the first game, 4-0, but losing the nightcap, 4-3, in eleven innings.

Milligan, pitching for the Phillies, didn't allow a hit until two were down in the seventh inning of the second game. With two out and Boston one run ahead in the ninth, Cy Williams hit the ball over the fence for a home run.

Benge pitched splendidly in the opening game after filling the bases and no one out in the first inning.

CARDS WIN AGAIN.

St. Louis, September 7.—Again outhit, the St. Louis Cardinals bunched their efforts for a 6-to-3 victory here today, winning the second game of the series from the Pittsburgh Pirates. As in yesterday's battle, the Pirates held the edge in pounding out sefeties by a 7-to-6 margin.

It was fitting that Chick Hafey lend his efforts to cutting away the two-run lead of the opposition with his twenty-fourth homer of the season with no one on base after pounding out his twenty-third four-base hit yesterday. But the task of putting the Cards in the lead was left to Ernie Orsatti, who doubled in the seventh, scoring Haines and Douthit.

Earl Adams, of the Pirates, muffed his first try in 236 chances in the eighth to allow the Cards their sixth run after Bottomley had scored the fifth on Maranville's sacrifice. Brickell's homer with no one on in the ninth failed to molest the Cardinal lead.

French Stars Sweep Aside Rival Teams

U. S. Able To Win Only One Match in Franco-American Team Play.

BY F. G. VOSBURGH.

Philadelphia, Pa., September 8.—(AP)—Carrying on where they left off here last summer when they won the Davis cup, French tennis players swept to victory in three matches out of four today to take a commanding lead in the Franco-American team contest which will be concluded with five matches tomorrow. The invaders need only two more wins to clinch the series.

Sadly missing the services of Big Bill Tilden, the disqualified star who learned to play on these same courts, the United States was able to win only one match. John Van Ryn, Orange, N. J., downed Jacques Brugnon by scores of 6-3, 6-2, but George Lott, of Chicago, was beaten by Henri Cochet, 6-1, 6-3, and John Hennessey, of Indianapolis, bowed to Jean Borotra, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, in the other singles.

With a chance to square matters in the doubles match with the French youngsters, Christian Boussus and Pierre Landry, the youthful John Doeg, of Santa Monica, Calif., and Wilbur F. Coen, Jr., of Kansas City, were added to the list of United States casualties by scores of 6-2, 7-5.

In an exhibition match Miss Helen Wills, woman's champion of three nations, met Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas, former intercollegiate champion and present No. 11 in the national ranking. With Allison hitting out as severely as though playing a man, Queen Helen, of Berkeley, was beaten by scores of 6-1, 6-1.

For those who see these matches as significant of American chances against the French in future Davis cup play and in the national singles championships next week the day was a dreary one.

Borotra, too, showed brilliant tennis in overcoming the stubborn resistance put up by "Smiling John."

Usually a slow starter, Cochet shifted into high at the very start of his match with Lott, taking two games, dropping one, then reeling off four for the set. He increased the winning streak to seven games by taking three in the second set before dropping one. There Lott steadied enough to win his remaining service games but the damage had been done and he could not crack Cochet's delivery.

Lott put up a courageous fight and for one brief flash he looked invincible. This was in the one game he did win in the first set—the third on his own service.

Lott was getting his game well tuned up about the time the match was over. It was the first time these two had ever met in singles.

Smashing overhead play proved an important factor in the victories of Cochet and Borotra and also of the young French doubles team.

A third young Frenchman will be seen tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock when the series is resumed with Rene De Buzelet meeting Frank Hunter.

Landry and Doeg are to have it out in singles in the other morning match.

Should France take both, the remaining matches would amount to exhibitions as the tri-color would have five out of nine.

CHICKS WIN CLOSE ONE.

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 7.—Clarence Griffin had the edge over George Lyons in a pitching battle here today and Memphis opened the five-game series with a 3-to-2 victory over Chattanooga. It was the tenth straight victory for the Chicks.

An error gave the locals a run in the first and a single by Engle, a double by Griffin and Jeanes' single in the fifth accounted for two Memphis runs. Roy Moore's home run tied the score in the seventh and then Danny Taylor doubled to score Prothro who had beat out an infield hit to win the game in the eighth.

Golfers Find Plenty of Trouble on Brae Burn Course; Hawkins Describes Layout.

BY DICK HAWKINS
Constitution Sports Editor

Braeburn Country Club, West Newton, Mass., September 7.—Something like 150 gentlemen from all parts of the United States, Canada and points east are traipsing around this beautiful burn, learning new "cuss" words and applying same to the royal and ancient game of golf.

After a cursory glance at the Braeburn golf course, nestled in the hills outside historic Boston, the action of these golfers is easily understandable. For several days now the invading hosts have been toiling and toiling about the Braeburn course, and thus far it has proved impervious to heat. That is to say, nobody has yet burned and sacked the layout.

Even the redoubtable Robert Tyre Jones, ranking number one player of these United States, has fallen from the heights so far as to be unable to score par figures on the course. Let it be understood in this connection, however, that the rather mediocre performance of Robert Tyre Jones thus far is a most hopeful sign in that it indicates a letdown from the scintillating era of golf he went through prior to and during the Walker cup matches in Chicago last week. All of the Jones boosters, including Robert himself, looked upon that performance with many misgivings. No human being can go at the pace Robert was following and continue for any length of time. It was absolutely necessary that he fall off the pinnacle and climb back up again during the amateur. He now seems to be doing just that thing. His golf is indifferent if not sloppy and while he is keeping no accurate cards on practice rounds here, it is very evident that he is far from the peak of his game.

Watts Enjoying Himself.

Watts Gunn, profiting from his experience at Minnikahda last season, when he entered the tournament terribly overgolfed, is spending his time seeing the sights around the city and devoting just enough time to practice each day to keep in trim. Watts is hitting his shots good right now and is putting particularly well. This last fact is significant, for Watts' game during the past year has been just as good as his putting and no better.

George Von Elm, the blonde youth from Detroit, has been playing golf so terrible as to be almost fascinating. He has been picking up on several holes every time he plays and not scoring any too well on the rest of them. With George, however, it is about the same as with Bob, bad golf right now is an indication of good golf next week.

A careful inquiry among scribes and players at the course today revealed no history of great rounds this week. None of the amateurs seem to find the course murderable but most of them are thinking murderous thoughts about it.

Course Is "Tight."

One word will describe the entire layout and that word is "tight." The amateur championship has never been played on a course where accuracy, particularly from the tee, is at a greater premium.

The links lie in deep valleys among the hills and more than half of the fairways are lined with trees on both sides. Where no trees stand to catch wandering balls the rough is so bad that a wild tee shot means a lost stroke. The course is 6,643 yards in length and its par is 72. The clubhouse stands on the crest of a hill and the entire course is laid out to view in the valley stretching across to another hill. There are no water holes on the course but a narrow creek crosses several fairways.

From No. 1 to No. 6 there is nothing remarkable about the course except its unusual tightness then the short sixth presents a real problem. This hole is 150 yards in length and a brook traverses the fairway just in front of the green. The carpet is none too large and is completely surrounded by traps except on the front where the brook stands guard.

The eighth, another short hole, presents a second big problem. This hole is 227 yards and the tee shot must carry at least 190 yards over a deep gulley or the second shot is blind to the green. There will be more fours than threes on this hole in this tournament.

A Terrible Hole.

The ninth green is beautiful to look at but terrible to play. It is only 299 yards in length and appears to be an easy par four but the second shot is a niblick pitch from a deep gulley to a plateau green and a ball over the green is out of bounds in a gravel quarry. This hole will fool a lot of them.

The twelfth is another short hole that will cause trouble. It is a full carry of 160 yards to the green and the carpet is a complete island set in a sea of traps. No. 13 has always been 431 yards in length but the greens committee thought it too easy for the "big boys" and then have lengthened it to 470 yards and raised the par to five. It will be mighty difficult to reach in two shots for a lot of the boys. Two ditches cross the airway on this hole and both are located to catch misplayed shots.

The seventeenth is one of the longest short holes in the country. It stretches 225 yards from tee to green and the green is well enough trapped to make it practically an all-carry shot. Nothing more need be said of this hole. Try and place a 225-yard drive on a 60-foot green and you may understand the nature of this seventeenth.

Another Tough One.

The four par eighteenth has caused more discussion than any one hole ever has on a championship course. The discussion revolves largely about the nature of the tee shot which must be played. A narrow brook bisects the fairway just 208 yards from the center of the tee and must be carried to insure a safe shot to the green. A ball played short of the brook leaves a tremendous brassie to the green and the carpet is well trapped. It just means that if a man is looking for a four he must carry the brook at least 215 yards from the place where the markers will be on the tournament tee. This hole will break a lot of hearts in the qualifying rounds Monday and Tuesday when the boys come to that last tee thinking they must try for a four to get in the charmed circle. A lot of them will take sixes and sevens when fives would be safe.

From first tee to last green this Braeburn golf course is one test after another. There is much comparison being made between this course and the last two amateur layouts at Minnikahda and Baltusrol. The concensus of opinion seems to be that Braeburn is harder than the other two. If so, it is just too durn hard.

14 Swimmers Get $2,500 Slice Of Purse

Toronto, Ont., September 7. (AP)—Fourteen swimmers who made the best performances in the fifteen-mile marathon in Lake Ontario Wednesday each received prizes of $2,500 from the Canadian national exhibition today.

Georges Michel, corpulent Paris baker, who swam farthest and stayed in the water longest of the field of 199, said at the public presentation that he hoped the swim committee would rectify the "mistake" they made in so dividing the $35,000 prize money. Michel received only as much as others who quit the water hours before he gave up.

Cracker Boss Carries Row To Big Time

Appeals to Farrell in Fight To Regain Games Taken From Club.

"If at first you don't succeed, keep on trying 'till you do succeed."

This is an ancient and familiar adage but Rell J. Spiller, boss of the Crackers, has put the above theory into modern practice. After resorting to every conceivable channel of assistance to regain his forfeited 14 ball games which Birmingham so rudely snatched from his percentage column, the man behind the gun at the dell has sent a lengthy telegram to J. H. Farrell, secretary of the National Association of Baseball Clubs.

The colonel has informed the national headquarters at length, explaining the entire status of the famous "Martin Massacre" and it is expected that a reply will be received in the immediate future.

After reviewing the case Secretary Farrell has the power to refer the matter to President Sexton, of the association, who, in turn has the privilege of calling a meeting of the board of directors to make a decision of the case, and overrule Martin's decree, if they see fit. It is very obvious from this latest effort of Spiller's that he possesses that never-say-die spirit and it is hoped that his efforts will be rewarded with a decision that will allow the Crackers to meet the Birmingham Barons in the play-off for the Southern league pennant.

Colonel Spiller's telegram to Farrell follows:

J. H. Farrell,
Secretary National Association,
Auburn, N. Y.

We wish to appeal to the national board from decision of President Martin in following matter: In early part of August, Niehoff was placed on voluntarily retired list. We notified your office, but through some oversight failed to notify Martin's office. Nothing was said about the matter until after Atlanta had won 14 ball games, when Martin, upon complaint of Birmingham, forfeited all of these 14 games won by Atlanta upon the ground that we violated the class A rule. Niehoff played in none of these games and Atlanta club was so badly crippled during this time that it was necessary to play a pitcher in left field. If the records in Martin's office had been kept correctly, he should have notified us of any technical violation of the rules immediately and not waited until after we had won 14 games. Martin refuses to call meeting of directors, and we have exhausted every possible recourse in order to get a hearing, but without success. Even if we are guilty of a technical violation, it was not a conscious violation of the rules and penalty is entirely too severe. We respectfully ask for immediate hearing in the interest of fair play and for the good of baseball everywhere.

R. J. SPILLER.
President Atlanta Baseball Company.

Westerners Beat Rival Sandlotters

Chicago, September 7.—(AP)—Sandlot baseball, as played in the west, triumphed over that of the east today when the fighting wards from Oakland, Calif., blanked the eastern champions, Worcester, Mass., 4 to 0, in the inaugural contest of the American Legion's junior world's series.

The contest was played under major league atmosphere at the White Sox park before several thousand fans. Al Silva, Oakland's right-handed ace, was the outstanding star of the game, pitching and batting his mates to victory.

Silva allowed but five scattered singles, scored one and shot out a double which brought in a run. Wilson Dunlap, star Worcester pitcher, started for the eastern champions, but was relieved by Ed Carran. They permitted only six hits, but four of them were bunched doubles.

The second game will be played Saturday.

Athletics Overtake Yanks and Share American League Lead

Mackmen Win Double - Bill As N. Y. Loses

Champions Drop Two Games To Senators To Lose Lead.

BY FRANK GETTY.

New York, September 7.—(United News.)—The long, uphill fight of the Philadelphia Athletics, which began two months ago at a time when they were trailing the New York Yankees by 12 games, was crowned with success today when the Mackmen went into a tie for first place with the world's champions.

Two victories over the Boston Red Sox at Fenway park while the Senators were administering two crushing defeats to the Yankees at New York put the Athletics, for the first time this season, on even terms with their rivals.

The standing tonight is:

	W.	L.	Pct.	Games to Play
New York	87	47	.650	20
Philadelphia	87	47	.650	20

No uphill struggle in the history of baseball, not even the drive of the Boston Braves, the "Miracle Men" of 1914, from the bottom of the National league to the top, exceeds in drama the rise of the Athletics of 1928.

Conceded Pennant.

Two months ago, the American league pennant had been conceded to the Yankees by every critic of baseball, while Connie Mack seemed to be left with another expensive collection of relics on his hands.

Slowly, and at first almost imperceptibly, the Athletics set out to overtake the over-confident world's champions. Only within the past few weeks has it seemed likely that they would make the grade.

Tonight the sympathy and cheers of millions of baseball fans throughout the country—outside New York—are all for Connie Mack and the gamest ball club he has put in the field since he smashed up his famous aggregation of stars more than a dozen years ago.

The odds are that the Athletics will go on now and win their first pennant in 14 years, leaving behind a discomfited, disgruntled rival, a team which suffered from that oldest of maladies, inflation of the cranium.

A's Superior.

The day's doubleheaders demonstrated the present superiority of the Mackmen over the Yankees. The "A's" had no easy time beating the Boston Red Sox. "Lefty" Grove, Connie Mack's southpaw ace, had to pitch his head off to win the first game at Fenway park, 1 to 0. Grove held the Sox to four hits, while Ruffing allowed the Athletics six.

In the second game the Mackmen got away to a fast start, scoring six runs in three innings off MacFayden and Griffin. They needed the lead, for the Red Sox found Earnshaw and Orwoll for a ringing round of base hits, and it was not until Ed Rommel took a hand that Carrigan's young men were safely subdued, the Athletics winning, 7 to 3.

Meanwhile, at Yankee stadium, disaster in its most virulent form was overtaking the world champions. They started in the day two full games ahead of the Athletics, confident of retaining or increasing this advantage, and with Miller Huggins looking ahead to next Sunday's doubleheader and figuring how best to spare his pitchers for that important engagement with the Mackmen.

Yanks' Hopes Shattered.

Yankee ambitions were rudely shattered in the first game when Hadley let them down with three hits and the Senators won, 11 to 0. "Goose" Goslin, who is taking great pleasure in assisting in the discomfiture of the Yanks, contributed a home run with one on during a seven-run rally in the eighth. Tom Zachary, obtained from the Senators on waiver terms, was the victim of the assault.

Faced with the prospect of losing their lead unless they could take the second game, the Yankees gambled on Waite Hoyt, whom they had been saving for the opening game against the "A's" Sunday. They spotted Waite a one-run lead in the first, but it didn't last long. That run was the only one New York made all day.

Firpo Marberry let the champions down scoreless from then on, while the Senators fell upon Hoyt in the sixth and clubbed him to the showers, Thomas and Moore finishing up a losing struggle for the Yanks. The score of this final disaster to New York's hopes was 6 to 0.

The Athletics play a double-header with the Red Sox tomorrow, while the Yanks have a single game scheduled with the Senators. And after that comes the four-game series upon which the eyes of the baseball world will be fixed next week.

Mrs. Wightman Wins Way to Net Finals

Philadelphia, September 7.—(AP)—Mrs. George W. Wightman, of Brookline, Mass., today entered the final round of the middle states women's tennis tournament by defeating Miss Anne B. Townsend, Philadelphia, in a brilliantly-fought battle at the Philadelphia Cricket club. The scores were 8-6, 4-6, 6-1.

A short time before Mrs. Wightman, a former national champion, had scored a straight set victory over Dorothy Andrus, New York, in the quarter finals, 6-2, 6-8.

Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, New York, defending titleholder, breezed through her quarter final match with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Eleanor Cottman, Baltimore, while Miss Alice Francis, Orange, N. J., won by default from Virginia Hilleary, Philadelphia.

In the final round tomorrow Mrs. Wightman will meet the winner of the Mallory-Francis contest.

SANDE RIDES CHANCE SHOT IN FAST RACE

New York, September 7.—(AP)—Chance Shot, with Earl Sande up, won the Ramapo handicap for three-year-olds and up at Belmont Park today. Held at 1-to-2 in the betting, Chance Shot covered the mile in 1:38 4-5, fast time on any kind of a track. Sunforward was second and Glade third and last.

In the co-feature, Bridge, ridden by W. B. Street, won the Hunter's steeplechase in easy fashion. Five lengths back came Dragon Devertu with Homestead third, 50 lengths to the bad. There were four falls but all of the riders escaped injury.

Paying $9.24 for $2, Sandy Lady captured Arlington's fifth and feature attraction, a $1,200 claiming affair for fillies and mares, three years old and up. Julie H. took the place with Georgia W. third. Jennifer, the favorite, was eighth and last. The time for the mile and one-sixteenth was 1:46 3-5.

There were no features at other tracks. Dade Park, however, experienced its second accident in as many days. Mum Ruffin, overwhelming favorite in the third race, with Jockey A. Anderson up, bolted over the fence on the stretch turn and threw Anderson heavily. The jockey escaped with a severe shaking up.

Grant, Mooney Clash Today for Net Title

Champion Defeats Feuer While Fellow Townsman Turns Back Courts To Enter State Finals.

BY FRED M'EACHIN.

Under cloudy skies which sprayed light showers at regular intervals on the tennis courts of East Lake Country club Friday afternoon, Bryan Grant, the defending champion, and Jack Mooney, runner-up last year, swept to victories over their opponents in the semi-final round to enter the final bracket for the state tennis championship. They will meet this afternoon at 2:30.

"Bitsy" Grant continued his championship playing and disposed of Gus Feuer in four sets, 6-1, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2. Grant got away to a sensational start, winning the first four games in the initial set, the last of which was a love game. Feuer won the fifth and dropped the next two to Grant, which netted him the first set. Probably Feuer became indignant at Grant's overwhelming victory and he retaliated in the second set, beating his opponent, by the identical score of the first set. Feuer copped five games in a row before the champion was able to score. Feuer won the seventh game and the set.

A Hard Fight.

Grant was victorious in the first two games of the third set. At this time play was halted because of the showers but was resumed a few moments later and Feuer won the third game. This was his last victory of the set, however, for Grant breezed through the next four to win the set, 6-1. The final and deciding set was hotly contested, with Bryan having the advantage most of the way. Feuer won the first two and Grant reciprocated by winning the next six for the set and match.

Feuer was the only visiting player remaining in the men's singles and his spectacular playing against the champion brought many rounds of applause from the gallery which braved the weather. His comeback in the second set was especially commendable. The Miamian is the only player who has won a set from Grant during the present tourney.

While the Grant-Feuer match was being played another affair equally as interesting was also being staged on an adjoining court. Jack Mooney and Malon Courts were busily engaged in their semi-final round which Mooney won in four sets, 4-6, 6-0, 6-3, 6-3.

Mooney's playing was erratic in the first set and Court's accurate placements made him the victor to have the advantage over the veteran, Mooney. This set was one of the hardest fought of the entire tournament, Courts winning alternately as did Mooney but the former finally nosed his opponent out in the tenth game.

In the succeeding set Mooney came back with a sensational brand of tennis and made a clean sweep to defeat Courts in a love set. Mooney also copped the next two without any apparent trouble by the scores of 6-3, 6-3. Young Courts displayed a brilliant style of tennis at times but his inconsistency on placement and service were the ultimate causes of his downfall. Jack Mooney, as usual, played his steady game with especially effective results in his net play.

Two Meet Once More.

So once again the Georgia state finals will be played between Grant and Mooney, two of the south's premier net stars. In their match last year Bryan defeated Jack to cop the title and because of this fact he is picked by many local tennis fans to repeat this year. Mooney has been playing splendid tennis this season, however, and this afternoon's match between the two should prove to be more interesting than any of their preceding meetings. In the recent city championship Mooney lost to Grant in the finals and also in the Carolina tourney at Greenville earlier in the year. At the present time Grant is the ranking tennis player of the southeast and a victory today will add prestige to this honor. Jack Mooney was the titleholder in 1926 before losing to Mooney last year.

Several other matches were played Friday in the women's singles, junior and boys' singles. A few doubles matches were also played off. This morning at 9:30 o'clock the junior and boys' singles and doubles will be played. Besides the championship Grant-Mooney match, the men's doubles will be run off through the semi-finals and the women's competitions will also be staged this afternoon. It is expected that all of the championship matches in these divisions will be held Sunday, bringing to a close one of the most successful tournaments ever staged in Atlanta.

The results of Friday's play follow:

MEN'S SINGLES.
(Semi-Finals.)
Grant defeated Feuer, 6-1, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2.

MEN'S DOUBLES.
(Second Round.)
Harrison and Parker defeated Armstrong and Boland, 6-0, 9-7.
Simpson and Mooney defeated Reese and Morgan, 6-1, 6-2.
Gardner and Fleet defeated Gault and Slade, 6-1, 6-4.
(Third Round.)
Grant and Courts defeated Halverstadt and Halverstadt, 6-1, 6-3.
Monroe and Westfelt defeated Cram and Cram, default.

Ritticisms

One thing an outfielder doesn't need is brains. If he had them he'd get a good job like a catcher's and sit down.

After 15 years in the garden all most outfielders have to show for their labor is a good coat of sunburn and a flock of non-negotiable freckles.

It was once suggested that each fly snatcher be equipped with a bicycle. What he really needs is an umbrella.

The only time an outfielder gets a good break is on a cloudy day. And then the game is usually called on account of rain.

Babe Ruth is the outfielders' best friend. He hits them where they can't possibly get them, so they don't have to work.

However, outfielders have one advantage. They are too far away to hear what the bench manager has to say.

FIGHT BOARD OKAYS ROBY'S BOXING CARD

Atlanta's boxing commission has officially approved an all-negro fight card to be offered here the night of September 21, as S. C. Roby's debut into the prize-fight promoting field, according to announcement yesterday.

Roby, who only recently was granted a promoter's license, has signed Clem Johnson, heavyweight champion of Mexico, and Roy Clark, huge New York and Florida negro, for his 12-round main event, so he declared yesterday.

Both of those battlers are outstanding in the negro heavyweight division and Roby is confident that they will give the fans plenty of action when they clash here. Roby in announcing plans for his first show repeated his declaration that this is only the first of a series of boxing matches to be offered here under his direction and is certain that he will soon win the confidence of the fans, he said:

"I do not believe from the experience of other promoters that Atlanta cares for matches between small fighters. Hence, for the time being, I intend bringing in only heavies and middleweights. I am sure that I have arranged a series of good bouts for my pugilistic venture here.

"There will be no stalling on the cards that I offer. I have it understood with the Atlanta boxing commission that fighters on my programs will fight, or be thrown out of the ring and not receive a penny for their services."

Hampden Sidney On Wofford's List

V. M. I.'s football card now contains the usual ten games.

Ability To Relax Asset to Von Elm

BY SOL METZGER.

Unless a new and great figure has been developed within the past six months in American amateur golf circles it would not surprise the critics if the finals of this year's amateur, scheduled for next week near Boston, would bring together Bobby Jones and George von Elm. Everything said and done, Von Elm is the one man Bobby has most to fear. He's sound in his golf, a pugnacious fighter and exceedingly anxious for another go at the Atlantan. Even in the recent open Von Elm was more interested in heading Bobby than in defeating anyone else. He'd like to take rank again as America's best amateur.

What makes Von Elm's game so outstanding is the ease with which he plays his shots. He is relaxation personified with a driver in his hands. There is no evidence of strain or effort to hit the ball a mile as he takes his stance with ball off left heel and feet not far apart. The club comes back with a straight left control, around and up.

Why continue to slice when the fault can be absolutely cured by following a few simple instructions? Write Sol Metzger, care of this paper, and request his illustrated leaflet on "Slicing." In writing inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Fowler, West Show the Way At Albany, Ga.

Atlantan Eliminates P. G. Hanahan in Terrific 20-Hole Match.

Radium Springs Country Club, Albany, Ga., September 7—(AP)—Lee Fowler, who hails from Atlanta, and the same Fowler who set the pace yesterday in the qualifying round of the second annual Radium Springs invitation tournament, today continued his marvelous golf and found his way into the semi-finals. Fowler started out early in taking to task Jack Oliver, father of Valdosta's golfing Olivers, 3 up and 1 to play, and continued his stride in the afternoon play, the second round, by vanquishing Jack Oliver's elder son, Max, who, too, shoots a beautiful game, 4 up and 3 to play.

While Fowler was playing his demon golf, Macon's entries for the most part found the going rough, so rough in fact, that only two, P. L. Hay, who qualified in the fourth flight, and Gene Killen in the sixth, are in the running aside from the consolation.

Hay won his morning match by default and in this afternoon's second round he found no trouble in disposing of S. Rodden, 4 up and 3 to play. Now he is primed for tomorrow.

Exhibiting a stellar brand of golf, Jimmie West, of Atlanta, sprang the biggest upset of the opening round of match play today when he eliminated P. G. Hanahan, also of Atlanta, in a match which went 20 holes. Hanahan, who was runner-up last year, had been an early favorite for the title in the present tournament.

A second upset came when only one of the Oliver trio, from Valdosta, survived the opening round, as Max Oliver defeated Johnnie Green, of Atlanta, 2 and 1. Green collapsed after his match and was taken to a local hospital, where he was said to be suffering from overexertion and the heat. His condition was said to be serious.

Jack Oliver fell before the onslaught of Lee Fowler, Atlanta, medalist, in the qualifying rounds yesterday, 3 and 1, while Sid Goss, Albany, won from Billie Oliver, 4 and 3.

Other first flight winners included Dick Cherry, Albany, over Robert McCord, Macon, 3 and 2; J. B. Gordon, Rome, who defeated Ed Lewis, Moultrie, 4 and 3; Berrien Moore, Atlanta, who overwhelmed Joe Hunter, Albany, 7 and 6, and Richard Tift, Albany, who had little difficulty disposing of Chess Jones, Macon, 5 and 4.

The second round scores:

First flight: Lee Fowler defeated Max Oliver, 4 and 3; J. B. Gordon defeated Dick Cherry, 3 and 1; B. Moore defeated A. B. Goss, 2 and 1; Jimmie West defeated Dick Tift, 3 and 1.

Second flight: Bob Riley defeated C. L. Garwood, 3 and 2; C. V. Rainwater, Sr., defeated C. F. Holton, 3 and 2; George Feagle defeated John Willis, 1 up (21 holes); Scotie Beverley defeated Pen Lippet, 1 up.

Third flight: R. H. Marvin defeated W. B. Neal, 1 up; Alfred Floyd defeated J. B. Copeland; T. C. Griner defeated M. L. Hanahan, 3 and 2; C. McTeal defeated Wilbur Cherry.

Fourth flight: H. W. Marshall defeated C. Davis, 3 and 2; L. E. Justice defeated Innis Subers, 5 and 3; Henry Grady defeated George Jones, 1 up.

Fifth flight: P. L. Hay defeated S. Rodden, 4 and 3; A. C. Gortatowsky defeated R. L. McQuagg; H. Goldstein defeated H. Shackelford, 5 and 3; K. M. Dixon defeated G. W. Murphy, 2 and 1.

Sixth flight: Sam Brown defeated R. Whitehead, 2 up; Broadus Martin defeated J. L. Kerr; J. J. Brown defeated R. Bethea, 8 and 7; Glenn Killen defeated Thomas Waddell, 5 and 4.

Amateur Games Today

Y-CHURCH CHAMPIONSHIP.

Almand park will be the scene of the opening game of the elimination series to decide the champions of the five leagues sponsored by the Y-Church Athletic association.

Buckhead Baptist, winner of the Piedmont league flag, will meet the Beethean class, of Capitol View Presbyterian champions, of the Dixie league. The winner of this game will go to the semi-finals next Saturday.

Both clubs have made enviable records in winning the right to enter this series and will enter the series with the determination of annexing the handsome trophy offered the winner of this series by the Trammell Scott company.

Mayfield and Harris have been selected as the umpires for this game and will be in this series as long as the team from the league in which they worked remains. Play will begin promptly at 3 o'clock and many fans from each league are expected to be on hand.

FULTON FLAG IN BALANCE.

The teams of Center Street Methodist and the W. S. O. class of St. Luke Methodist will engage in a twin-bill today that will decide the winner of the Fulton league flag.

These games will be played at the Waterworks diamond with the umpire calling play at 2 o'clock in the opening game. Although the W. S. O. class has a two-game lead at present, the boys from the north side church refuse to surrender and are out to wrest this twin bill to tie the standing.

Should the W. S. O. class win either of these games the pennant and the right to enter the big series will be theirs.

GEORGIA LOOP SERIES.

The Hapeville Baptist will invade Orchard Knob Saturday afternoon with a game with the local team that may end the Georgia league race, as a victory for them gives them this cup for the season.

A victory for the invaders will decide the Georgia league season race as they are now leading the league, while a win for the home nine will force the league into a post-season series to decide the winner.

This league was sponsored by the Y-Church Athletic association and the winner will enter the championship series.

CITY FLAG SERIES OPENS.

Antioch Baptist, winners of the Sewanee league pennant, and Coker's All-Stars, champions of all the sandlot leagues, will fire the opening guns in the elimination for the championship of Atlanta at Northwest Piedmont at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Both clubs, though idle for the past few weeks, due to the early closing of their respective league, are in top shape as each has had daily practice sessions in preparation for this important game.

COLLINS MEETS CALVARY.

The Collins Memorial and Calvary Methodist teams will meet at Brisbane park Saturday afternoon in a game that will decide the runner-up position of the Georgia loop.

This game will be the final appearance of these teams until the opening games of the basketball season as both clubs are entering this line of sports under the auspices of the Y-Church Athletic association and the friendly rivalry established on the diamond will be resumed on the court.

JONES AND HAGEN.

British golfers some years ago figured they had the greatest trio of all time at play when Vardon, Braid and Taylor were in their winning primes. Among them they gathered in 16 British open championships. Today the United States has the two most remarkable golfers in the world still bowling along in the persons of Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen. Jones and Hagen have won the last three British opens. Jones is now amateur champion of the United States. Hagen is open champion of Great Britain and P. G. A. champion. Jones has been a trifle too keen for Hagen at medal play in recent United States opens and the two are still setting a terrific pace at match play in their rival fields. Jones has won 19 out of his last 20 matches in the amateur championship. He starts another march on Wednesday, after the two-day qualifying melee, where he has his chance to make it 24 out of 25.

Hagen has won 20 consecutive matches in the P. G. A. title scramble and this, of course, is a harder test than the amateur is.

Jones' record in medal play has surpassed Hagen's by a slight but consistent margin in the last six years. Hagen's record at match play has been the more brilliant, in spite of the remarkable match play record made by Jones. Hagen is at his best in this field. As fine a golfer as he is it is entirely unlikely that he could have held any such steady march as Jones put on at Chicago recently when he played 72 holes in 270, a matter of 18 under even fours. Jones recently played either nine or ten rounds at 70 or better, from 67 to 70, and most of these rounds were under 70.

Jones starts again at Brae Burn next week and a few weeks later Hagen resumes his match play drive at Baltimore in the next P. G. A. Hagen's start against Johnny Farrell shows again his caliber at match play. Hagen was threatening to win the United States open 15 years ago at Brookline. Farrell was then only 13 or 14 years old. Johnny today is at his prime. Yet in his first two stands against Hagen he was unable to ward off the relentless attack of the old golfer.

Incorrect Angles.

Here and there you see a statement to the effect that while Jones is a great medal play golfer he is only average at match play.

All of which is ridiculous. Jones, like Hagen, happens to be a great golfer at any test. Any man who can win 19 out of 20 matches in an amateur championship is no match play weakling. Jones faced Bob Harris when Harris was British champion. Jones beat him eight to seven at 18 holes. He met Cyril Tolley in the Walker cup matches and beat Tolley 12 to 11. He met Perkins, British champion, in the last Walker cup series and beat him 13 to 12. Jones has won every Walker cup match he has played in.

Many still recall the heavy beating which Hagen handed Jones in Florida. Neither is always invincible. Compston beat Hagen by 18 to 17. Ouimet last year, in a 36-hole match, beat Hagen 7 and 5. Harry Cooper, in a 72-hole match in Texas, beat him by 9 and 8. The average is what counts and the match play averages of Jones and Hagen have both been uncanny in a game where form seems to swirl back and forth at such dizzy speed.

It will be a long time before golf will see two more brilliant figures than Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen, who, in addition to their remarkable medal play have, between them, won 39 out of 40 matches in their two championships—the amateur and the P. G. A.

Comparing the Two.

When two men reach the heights that Jones and Hagen have reached it is usually quite enough to quote their records and let it go at that. Nothing else is needed, to speak of.

Hagen has the finest golfing temperament in the game. He has not only the finest brand of determination but also an unusual philosophy in the art of taking the breaks as they come.

Jones has a determination equal to Hagen's, but no one quite has Hagen's relaxed mental poise.

Jones is a step or two ahead in all-around playing skill. He has shown this in the last seven open championships over here where, on six occasions, he has either finished first or second. He has led Hagen in six out of his last seven starts in the United States open. He is sounder at all varieties of wooden club play and he is the one star golfer who can match Hagen around the greens. It might be noted that both are among the greatest putters of all time. The object of the game is to get the ball into the cup and the putter is often the decisive stroke. "We drive for pleasure," says Johnny Farrell, "but we putt for money."

Jones and Hagen have covered up many an error on the way from the tee by deft use of the putting blade. Yet their putting styles in some ways are unlike. Hagen braces his weight on his left leg. Jones keeps an even balance on both feet. But they both have that smooth, confident stroking touch that is far apart from the jabs and stabs and pokes one so often sees. They let the blade of the putter go on through as smoothly as flowing silk. Both know how to keep their bodies firm but relaxed, a difficult combination. There is little body movement in their shorter putts, yet there is no stiffness or tenseness to turn the body into a steel post.

It is one thing to be a fine golfer up to the green. It is something else to be also a fine golfer on the 70-foot approach putts and the shorter ones of four, six, eight and ten feet that have to be holed in a pinch.

S.S.A.A. Teams Try For Third Time To Play Series

For the third time the Sunday School Athletic association will attempt to finish its ninth season of baseball by playing the third and deciding game of the championship at Henry Grady field Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, between Edgewood Baptist, winner of the National league flag, and Druid Hills Baptist, winner of the American league race.

Both teams have been attempting to finish this series for nearly a month, and if the heavens will only hold what little rain is left the boys will try and end it Saturday.

Practice has been taboo since last Saturday, as it has been raining almost continuously since that time, and the teams will have to go on the field a little cold for the lack of practice, yet from what one can hear the players are primed to fighting pitch by the numerous delays, and with Foy and C. Maxey on the mound a pitchers' battle looms. These boys faced each other last Saturday and for two innings held the opposition scoreless.

Whitey Glazner Draws Three-Day Suspension

Memphis, Tenn., September 7.—(AP)—"Whitey" Glazner, Mobile pitcher, was suspended for three days and fined $25 today by John D. Martin, president of the Southern association, on the grounds of abusive language to Umpire McLaughlin and insubordination in yesterday's game with Birmingham. McLaughlin reported that besides the use of abusive language Glazner refused to leave the game and the park when ordered to do so.

Leo Lomski Wins Over Pete Latzo

Detroit, Mich., September 7.—(AP)—Leo Lomski, of Aberdeen, Wash., won the referee's decision over Pete Latzo, Scranton, Pa., light-heavyweight, in a slashing ten-round fight here tonight.

Lomski piled up his margin through terrific punching in the early rounds, but was hard pressed to maintain the advantage. Latzo apparently solved the style of the westerner in the closing rounds and was rapidly cutting down the lead when the final bell sounded. The verdict in favor of Lomski was greeted with mingled cheers and jeers from the capacity crowd that attended.

Both boys started off at a terrific clip, with Lomski carrying the fight to his opponent and landing effectively with a right uppercut that several times spun the Scranton miner around. Lomski maintained his lead until the sixth round but the pace had been so fast that both fighters were arm and leg weary when the session ended. Latzo showed the better recuperatory powers and assuming the aggressive was volleying hooks and jabs to the head with only an occasional return during the closing rounds.

The referee gave Lomski a slight edge in the first four rounds, scored the next three even and awarded the last three to Latzo.

Jackets Hold Good Workout Despite Rain

Parham and Smith Still Missing at Grant Field; Gang To Work Today.

The boys at Tech who aspire to play football this year probably think they're getting in shape for another Tech-Georgia "battle of the mire" for it is beginning to look that way from the way the weather has been this past week.

But despite a drizzling rain Alex assembled his squad Friday afternoon and sent the boys through the usual first-week program, consisting of calisthenics and instructions on fundamentals.

One new arrival was marked down Friday with the arrival of Ben Sloan, a rangy tackle who was on the squad last year.

Bob Parham and Shorty Smith are still among the missing and whether they'll be here today or not is problematical. When they do check in that will make the squad complete and ready to buckle down to the grind next week when signal drill, the tackling dummy and other forms of hard work are expected to make their appearance, probably Monday.

With another week's work behind them it is possible that the first scrimmage of the year will make its appearance by next Saturday or the first of the following week. For, if it had slipped your mind, four short weeks and the first game of the year will be right upon us.

Practice will be held this afternoon as usual, with the boys getting down to work around the same hour of 4 o'clock.

GOSLIN SENDS HIS BAT MARK TO .382 SLOT

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Aided by Washington's pitching staff, Goose Goslin took the occasion of yesterday's double-header to show Lou Gehrig what happens to young men who threaten his American league batting leadership. The Goose went to bat eight times while the Senators were taking two from the Yanks and got four hits, shooting his average up to the high mark of .382, meanwhile Bump Hadley and Firpo Marberry were letting Lou down with one hit in seven attempts and sending him down to the .372-mark. Their standing:

	G.	Ab.	R.	H.	Pct.
Goslin, Sen.	117	382	66	146	.382
Gehrig, Yanks	134	489	120	182	.372

The National league duel between Paul Waner and Rogers Hornsby drew closer when the Pittsburgher failed to get a hit in three times at bat against the Cardinals and lost three points from his batting average. Only the fact that the Rajah also lost a point by getting three hits in nine attempts in the Braves' double bill with the Phillies prevented a tie. Their standing:

	G.	Ab.	R.	H.	Pct.
P. Waner, Pir.	134	534	129	201	.376
Hornsby, Bvs.	114	400	85	150	.375

New York, September 7.—(AP)—Cotton was steady today on covering and trade buying, promoted by unfavorable crop advices from the south. December contracts sold up from 18.91 to 19.08 or 11 points net higher, and closed at 19.00, compared with 18.97 at the close of the previous day. The market closed steady at a net decline of 1 point on May, but generally 2 to 5 points higher.

The market opened unchanged to a decline of 5 points under southern selling, liquidation or realizing, influenced by relatively easy early cables from Liverpool and prospects for rather better weather in the belt.

Offerings Light.

Offerings were comparatively light, and after having been absorbed, the market became firmer on covering for over the government report to be published after the close of the market tomorrow.

Trade buying was also reported, and the afternoon advance which carried prices about 8 to 12 points net higher was accompanied by reports of improving demand for forward shipment from Europe. Business failed to broaden on the advance and the market attracted a little more southern selling or realizing around 19.22 for October and 19.00 for March. This supplied the immediate demand and closing prices showed reactions of 8 to 10 points from the best.

Two more private crop reports were published, one placing the condition at 61.3 and the indicated crop at 15,000,000 bales, while the other made the condition 58.5 and the indicated crop 14,396,000 bales.

Private Reports.

The average of the private reports published during the past week or ten days shows a condition of 59.9 and a crop indication of 14,508,000 bales.

Advices from the south emphasized further deterioration chiefly as a result of shedding or insect damage.

Private cables said trade calling and covering had been supplied by hedging and Bombay selling in Liverpool, adding there was a better feeling in the cotton goods market at Manchester with home trade improving.

Exports today 39,943 bales, making 430,498 so far this season. Port receipts 38,149. United States port stocks 525,755.

LATE LIQUIDATION CAUSES DECLINES.

New Orleans, September 7.—(AP)—Realizing and eleventh-hour liquidation caused the cotton market here today to close net unchanged to one point down.

Until near the end of the market, prices were ten to twelve points higher, due to a bullish summary of the Texas crop condition and to reports of damage by rain and floods in the eastern belt.

December traded as high as 18.60, 12 points up, but closed at 18.48, net unchanged for the day.

Liverpool Lower.

Liverpool was two to four points lower than due and first trades here showed losses of 5 points. The market soon rallied, however, on the Texas crop report and further rains in the eastern belt. The climb upward was pushed along later by reports of overflowing streams in Georgia and the Carolinas doing considerable damage to crops.

Before midsession October had traded up to 18.50 and December 18.57, 13 to 14 points above the early lows and 8 to 9 points above the previous close.

Market Steadies.

The market ruled steady after midsession and rallied additionally on shorts covering in advance of the government crop report due tomorrow morning and on reports of good spot demand. October rose to 18.52 and December 18.60, 15 to 17 points above the lows and 10 to 12 points higher than the previous close. These prices were the highs of the day.

In the late trading there was a wave of realizing and some liquidation by belated longs in advance of the government report, and the earlier gain was lost, the market closing virtually unchanged.

Two additional private crop estimates were issued, one making the crop 14,396,000 bales and the other 15,000,000.

Port Receipts.

Port receipts 35,056; for week 219,568; season 493,409; last season 800,930. Exports 31,343; for week 140,397; season 403,982; last season 467,985. Port stocks 530,728; last year 1,193,191. Combined shipboard stocks at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 82,777; last year 70,129. Spot sales at southern markets 42,505; last year 39,171.

Total bond sales (par value) $7,655,000.

New York, September 7.—(AP)—The bond market plodded along today, paying little heed to the boisterous stock market. Traders apparently gave closer attention to the calling of upwards of $20,000,000 in loans by banks, firmer tendencies in time money and the fact that the treasury has been forced to do its new financing on a 4 1-4 per cent basis.

Price movements were narrow and irregular. Rails, firm for days, were soft. Some convertibles gained in sympathy with the stocks, but the industrial group, outside utilities, was dull.

Announcement of the treasury offering of 4 1-2 per cent certificates in exchange for third Liberties seemed to unsettle United States government obligations. Bankers expressed opinion today that probably not more than $100,000,000 of the $950,000,000 third Liberties outstanding would be exchanged, since they are widely scattered in the hands of small holders, and they looked for heavy buying of the new certificates. They believed this should please the treasury since 2 per cent book credit will be available.

Anaconda Copper 6s and Andes Copper 7s, Armour & Co. 5 1-2s, International Match 5s, Youngstown Sheet & Tube 5s and Penn Dixie Cement 6s were among the few industrial issues to seek higher levels. Public Service of New Jersey 4 1-2s were lifted more than 3 points to a new high at 147 1-2 on heavy buying, and a few other utilities made smaller gains.

Central Pacific first 4s, New York Central 4s, St. Louis, Rocky Mountain & Pacific 6s and Atchison 4 1-2s were outstanding among rails showing gains. St. Paul 5s, particularly the issue of 1975, were under pressure, and there was considerable selling of Illinois Central 4s, Grand Trunk 6s, Erie 5s, Katy first 4s and Rock Island 4 1-2s.

The foreign list was irregular.

Public offering is expected next week of two large public utility issues, one $20,000,000 North American Edison 5 1-2 per cent debentures and the other $15,000,000 Georgia Power Company first and refundings 5s.

Closing Burst of Strength Sends Entire List Higher

New York, September 7.—(AP)—The curb market experienced considerable realizing and week-end liquidation today which caused market irregularity until toward the close, when, in sympathy with the bull demonstration on the stock exchange, a burst of strength carried the general list higher.

Industrial Rayon led the industrial group with a jump of 17 points to a new high at 125, part of which was later cancelled. Demand for this issue carried it forward 40 points so far this week. Fox Theater "A" was again heavily accumulated, crossing its previous high in a turnover of 110,000 shares.

Ford Motor of Canada made an extreme gain of 28 points, while Swedish-American investment jumped 9 points to a new peak at 145. Bancitaly and Columbia Graphophone made gains of about 3 points each, part of which were lost toward the close, while Grasselli Chemical sold 5 points higher. New highs for the year or longer were established by Sidney Blumenthal, Bristol Myers, Checker Cab, and Eastern Rolling Mills, in 2 and 3-point gains. Cohn Hall Marx went into new high territory on resumption of common dividends, and Kimberly-Clark registered a new peak on announcements of expansion of its newsprint business.

Steel Products shares were strong, Midland advancing 5 points at one time, while Moore Drop Forging, Young Spring and Wire and Sharon Steel Hoop went to new tops. Truscon encountered realizing. Radio shares were also in demand, Zenith touching a new high at 116 1-2 and De Forest at 16 1-4.

Weak spots were Auburn Auto, down 9 points at one time, India Tire and Bendix "B" down 4 each, and C. G. Spring and Bumper, which went to its previous low on passing of a preferred dividend.

Mines were irregular, Comstock Tunnel and Phelps Dodge advancing 2 points each while Newmont and Noranda sagged. Oils also turned irregular, Humble advancing and Gulf of Pennsylvania declining more than a point, while Standard of Indiana and Vacuum eased.

Utilities were generally strong, Puget Sound and Pennsylvania Water and Power gaining 4 points each, while American and Foreign Power Warrants and Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern "A" went to new highs. United Gas Improvement was in supply.

Chicago, September 7.—(AP)—Grains settled down today on a little firmer foundation to await the word of the government crop forecasts. Trading was inactive, but beneath the surface was a more confident sentiment and the principal grains all closed at net advances for the day.

Wheat owed its relative strength largely to unpropitious weather indications northwest and the reticence of northwest sellers. Hedging sales went almost unnoticed on the Chicago market. Canada's largest crop continued marketward in heavy quantities, but Winnipeg felt that the unsettled and cool weather approaching would hamper the crop movement. Lethbridge reported snow today.

Country marketings in Canada today were 3,376,000 bushels. Cash sales here were 10,000 bushels, and 62 cars were inspected. Trade in the pit was rather apathetic, with an inclination to hold off until publication of the United States and Canadian government crop estimates Monday and Tuesday. Wheat closed firm, 1-4@3-4c higher, September, $1.10 1-4; December, $1.15 3-8@1.15 1-2; March, $1.19 7-8@1.20, and May, $1.22 5-8.

Shorts in corn appeared to be impressed with the steady demand for high priced cash corn and took cover heavily in September today. Again there was a dearth of country offerings. There were 105,000 bushels sold for cash with the basis unchanged to 1 cent higher. September at one point touched 97, up 2 3-4c from the low opening, but receded at the last. Deferred deliveries were up fractionally with September. Weather conditions were favorable on the whole. September closed 1 1-2 to 1 3-4c higher, at 95 1-2@95 5-8c, other months ending unchanged to 1-2c up. December, 75 3-8@75 1-2c; March, 77 1-2c and May 79 7-8c.

Buying of oats were stronger than of late and shorts covered on the way up. All months scored independent gains, finished 1-2 to 1 1-4c higher, September 40 1-8c and December 41 1-4c.

Buying by commission houses pushed lard up strongly to 7 to 15c above yesterday's close, September finishing at $12.80. Ribs were unchanged and bellies up 15 to 17c.

New York, September 7.—(AP)—Wild speculation for the advance in today's stock market carried total sales to 4,782,100 shares, the third largest in history. Extreme gains of 2 to nearly 20 points were pared down by the usual week-end profit-taking, but at least 50 issues sold at record high prices.

The unexpectedly small increase of $54,000,000 in federal reserve brokers' loans, announced after the close yesterday, released a flood of buying orders which nearly swamped the trading facilities of the exchange. The ticker fell 30 minutes behind the market before midday and never caught up.

Public Comes Back.

While powerful pools whirled their favorites up at a dizzy pace, the public jumped into the market in ever-increasing numbers.

Call money held steady at 7 1-2 per cent all day. Banks called more than $20,000,000 in loans, but new funds were quickly forthcoming to take their place. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady. Sterling exchange dropped to a new low level for the year, and Wall street revived stories of an early return flow of gold from Europe.

Price Movement.

Price movements bore little relation to the day's news although market letters and flashes of the leading commission houses called attention to the excellent prospects for fall business and repeated many of the dividend and merger rumors in circulation throughout the financial district. One of the most significant developments of the day was the monthly steel ingot production report of the American Iron & Steel Institute, showing that last month's output has exceeded 4,000,000 tons for the first August in history. Automobile production in August also set a new high record.

Montgomery Ward was the sensational feature on today's market, soaring 19 1-2 points to 242, partly at the expense of a harassed short interest, and then dipping to 236 1-4. The year's low is 117. Sears-Roebuck ran up 8 poins to a new top at 157 and then yielded to 154. United States Steel common attained a new peak for the year at 158 5-8 but closed a point lower for a net gain of about 3 points.

Oil Shares Popular.

Nearly a quarter of a million shares of Tidewater Associated Oil changed hands, the stock touching a new high at 25 on buying influenced by reports of an early increase in California gasoline prices. Briggs Manufacturing crossed 49 to a new high on a tremendous turnover, with the demand stimulated by reports of large orders from Chrysler and other leading manufacturers.

New high records for the year, or longer, also were established by such widely diversified issues as American Safety Razor, Associated Dry Goods, Brunswick Balke Collender, Chrysler, Commercial Investment Trust, Central Alloy Steel, Electric Auto Lite, Fox Film "A," Gold Dust, International Nickel, Motor Products Corporation, Purity Baking, Rossia Insurance, Sweets Company of America, and Timken Roller Bearing.

Rails Hold Inactive.

Except for a moderate advance in Missouri Pacific issues, the rails took little part in the day's advance. This was probably due to the disappointing freight traffic report, which was attributed to the delayed crop movement caused by low commodity prices.

Commodity prices moved within extremely narrow and irregular limits. Wheat and cotton closed practically unchanged, coffee quotations were slightly firmer and the raw sugar futures market was easier.

Sterling Cables sagged to $4.85 1-8 for the first time this year. Other foreign exchanges showed only nominal fluctuations.

GOLD DUST BUYS LINSEED CONCERN

New York, September 7.—(AP)—Control of American Linseed company has been acquired by Gold Dust corporation, it was announced today.

Stockholders of Gold Dust will be given rights to subscribe for one additional share of stock at $80 a share for each two shares held. The new stock will be placed on a $5 annual dividend basis. The present stock pays $3 annually.

Holdings of the DuPont interests in American Linseed common stock acquired by Gold Dust gives it 70 per cent of the common and preferred of American Linseed outstanding. An offer to minority holders of American Linseed common and preferred will be made later. The plant of Gold Dust corporation carried on its books at $2,478,000 has been written down to one dollar.

Stock Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, September 7.—As suggested in this morning's letter, market in today's session showed little evidence of irregularity which characterized it yesterday. On sustained heavy volume stocks were bid up with a number of individual issues rising sharply to new high levels. Prominent among the latter were Montgomery Ward, whose sharp advance suggests discomfiture of short interest, and Tidewater Associated, in connection with which Fisher and Cutten interests are mentioned as sponsors. United States Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, and other leaders were active around highest levels of the current movement.

Call money was 7½ per cent today. Calling of $20,000,000 loans was not effective in the face of rampant enthusiasm on the constructive side.

We continue to recommend Texas Corporation, Mid Continent, Inland Steel, and General American Tank Car and would avoid attempts to follow spectacular moves in high priced issues which are subject to sharp corrections.

H. & B. BEER.

New York, September 7.—(Special.)—On another huge turnover the market gained all of the ground it recently lost and some more, besides. The list of issues which registered substantial gains was long and varied. The industrial averages were up over 3 points.

As was expected, the increase in the federal reserve loan figures was ignored. There was further calling of loans by the banks but call money remained at the renewal rate of 7½ per cent.

The best of leadership was furnished by Steel and other steel issues, showing response, notably Otis. The latter is in line for dividends, the move in the steels is soundly based on the exceptionally good summer business. Steel common, furthermore, is discounting the publication of a good tonnage statement on Monday and a good earnings statement for the third quarter later on.

Mail order stocks, however, were the most spectacular performers. Mo ntgomery Ward sold as high as 242, on reports that the autumn gain in sales is being maintained. Tobacco stocks were again strong, notably American Tobacco and American Sumatra. While there have been some rumors of a general increase in cigarette prices, it is known that American Tobacco will publish a very fine annual statement whether this takes place or not. The Armour issues were actively bought. The fiscal year of this company will end soon and results will undoubtedly be the best in some years. Large inventories of pork accumulated at low prices in the early months of the fiscal year have bbeen liquidated on an advancing market.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

New York, September 7.—There was not the slightest letup in the demand for stocks during the afternoon and the ticker continued to run from 15 to over 30 minutes behind the market. Call money remained at 7½ per cent all day but in the afternoon some funds were available at 7 per cent in the outside market. The features continued to be the leading stocks such as Steel, Consolidated Gas, Timken Roller Bearing, the mercantile issues and Public Service of New Jersey. U. S. Steel with an advance of practically four points to a new high for the year, was easily the outstanding feature. Added to the general buying in this stock which has been going on for several weeks, was a big demand today from the floor brokers. International Nickel sold at a new record high of 125, equal to a price, considering the recent rights, of over 130, a gain for the day of about eight points. In the store stocks, Best & Company and Associated Dry Goods were the features with Best at a new record high of 6½.

Cotton Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, September 7.—Trading was largely on an evening up character today and prices moved but little either way. Steadiness of the market was its chief feature. Practically all of the private bureaus have predicted a crop well over the government's last estimate, and the public is prepared for an increase.

Reports from the fields, however, are so unfavorable that it seems more than probable that the official estimate will show a decrease rather than increase.

It is well to bear in mind that for two seasons the guesses of the private bureaus have averaged about a million bales above those of the government, and that they may be as wide of the mark this time as they were last month.

Reports from Texas and Oklahoma gathered by a Dallas newspaper are almost sensationally bullish. The northeast, including north Georgia and most of the Carolinas, have suffered damage from excessive rains and flooded farms.

Government estimates are proverbially uncertain, but the crop reporting board seems to have improved its methods enough to greatly reduce this uncertainty.

Any reduction will undoubtedly be construed as bullish, but it will take an estimate under 14,000,000 to destroy existing balance between supply and demand and upset spinners. A reduction much under that figure would create a very bullish situation.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, September 7.—(Special.)—The market opened steady with volume of business moderate. Local sentiment continued mixed. The south sold at the offset and Liverpool buying held the market steady after an advance of 10 points, closing a few points from the best. Opinion on the government estimate tomorrow is very mixed but traders are content to await the report before making commitments. The market has a decidedly better tone, with deterioration reports from the south having effect on trade sentiment and the bearish feeling is not so pronounced. Liverpool futures are due tomorrow: October, 10.00; January, 9.89.

H. & B. BEER.

New Orleans, September 7.—(Special.)—The cotton market maintained a steady undertone today, owing to private unfavorable crop accounts, especially from the eastern belt, short covering and foreign mill buying in advance of tomorrow's government crop forecast and ginning report. There was some realizing on the bulge but support was not lacking on depressions.

Liverpool cabled: Bombay sold cotton but trade called and local shorts covered. Manchester reports better feeling in cloths and yarns. Home trade improving.

Returns to the Memphis Commercial Appeal average conditions of crop at 58.5, indicating a yield of 14,396,000 bales.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.

New York, September 7.—There is little new to report on developments in the cotton market as principally the trade is disposed to wait publication of the next crop estimate tomorrow at noon. As noon is the regular closing time for the cotton exchange on Saturday trading will cease ten minutes earlier in order that there may be a perfectly defined period between the closing of the market and insurance of the reports. This means there will be no action in the cotton futures market until Monday. Some have thought this report should be published at a different time than stipulated but as publication is fixed by an act of congress there will be no alteration in the plan. The domestic trade was willing to buy gradually as has been the case in the past few days. This absorbed hedge sales and prebureau liquidation. There was a small amount of speculative buying as well as long liquidation for going over the report. Private crop reports on insect damage and abnormal deterioration which have come to hand in the past few days tend to indicate a shorter crop than was thought probable even a week ago. What the government will state the indicated yield will be is any one's guess as is well known. An even market position over reports is usually advisably yet it is significant that the trade has been willing to buy cotton in the past few days at slowly advancing prices. October Liverpool due 10.00.

Cottonseed Oil.

NEW YORK.

New York, September 7.—The cottonseed oil market was active and irregular today, closing 2 points higher to 6 points net lower on active positions. Firmness developed early on renewed absorption of October by refiners and fresh outside buying, with the advance in lard, cotton and hogs and the strength of crude oil. Liquidation and evening-up before Saturday's government cotton crop report caused a reaction in late dealings. Sales 38,800 barrels. Prime crude 8.50; prime summer yellow spot 10.25; September closed 10.30; October 10.35; December 10.27; January 10.31; March 10.41.

NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, September 7.—Cotton seed oil futures ruled homewhat higher earlier in the session but eased off slightly at the end owing to the uncertainty attending the government report due tomorrow. Prime summer yellow closed unchanged at 9.20 and price crude closed at 8.25 to 8.37½. Futures closed steady; September 9.40; October 9.40; December 9.42; January 9.45; March 9.52.

The Day in Finance

By
R. L. BARNUM

Montgomery Ward Is Star Performer in Wild Day on Exchange—Ticker Again Behind, and Telephone Used To Get Floor Quotations.

New York, September 7.—Stocks opened slightly higher, sold off a little, then resumed the upward trend following Steel common and General Motors, the market's two best leaders. By noon the pace was so fast that the tickers had again dropped 35 minutes behind the floor.

Montgomery Ward was the star performer, closing at 222 1-2, opening at 224 1-2 and jumping to 242 in the first hour, falling again quickly to 234, then again advancing. At one time the stock was quoted at 229 on the tape with telephone inquiries to the floor showing the price there 241. Montgomery Ward, according to insiders, will probably earn this year around $17 or $18 a share on its stock which has not been changed since the war. In the meantime Sears-Roebuck, the other large mail order house, has had a split-up. Speculative Wall street expects Montgomery Ward to follow Sears-Roebuck in readjusting outstanding stock to larger current and accumulated earnings.

Mail Order Houses.

Sears-Roebuck shares moved in sympathy with Montgomery Ward. Opening at 148 the price in the first hour advanced to 157. Otis Elevator, Briggs Body and other specialties were very active. Independent Steel shares followed Steel common. Oils were active and higher despite the recent sustained increase in crude production following the price advances in crude a month ago. Rails were steady but with no sensational price changes.

Call money renewed at 7 1-2 per cent, with the banks calling $20,000,000 to noon. The stock market, however, ignored these money market signs as well as the 4 1-2 per cent interest offered by the government on its new nine-month $525,000,000 notes, the highest rate paid on any government paper since 1921.

The offering of $525,000,000 nine-month 4 1-2 per cent notes by the government was slightly smaller than generally expected, with the interest rate fractionally higher. The smaller amount is probably explained by the higher interest rate. One explanation for the fractionally higher interest rate than generally expected might be found in the widespread discontent existing on the part of member banks subscribing to the last offering by the government of 3 3-8 per cent long term bonds. Shortly after the banks heavily oversubscribed to this offering the price declined in response to changed money market conditions. It is no secret in well informed banking circles that many member banks buying these 3 3-8 per cent bonds have been sore at the government, blaming the government for their own mistake in misjudging bond and money market conditions.

Another probable reason for the fractionally higher interest rate offered by the government on the new nine-month 4 1-2s is the fact that the government will need the money thus raised to meet maturing obligations, the last heavy payments being no further off than October 15.

Industrial employment at Detroit the past week increased 4,287 over the previous week to a new high record of 298,744. This is the fifth consecutive week to make a new high record confirming reports of increasing activity in the automobile industry which is being reflected in many allied lines. The total of 298,744 reported compares with 200,665 a year ago. Since the first of this year there has been an increase of 106,241. The new high is 24,345 above the 1926 peak, the previous high record year.

Revised figures of new bond offerings for August give the total as $98,852,000, the smallest for any month in five years. During the first quarter of this year when there was still an abundance of easy money monthly offerings exceeded $900,000,000 with the total for the three months at a new high. As a result of the slowing down in offerings that occurred during the second quarter because of existing congestion and advancing rates for money the total for the eight months of this year is now $668,000,000 below the corresponding period of last year. The government was able to get a very large over-subscription for its last offering of 3 3-8 per cent bonds running only nine months, showing the change that has occurred in money market conditions. Corresponding advances in the interest rate asked prospective domestic and foreign borrowers together with congestion of new offerings is responsible for the slowing down in new offerings to the smallest monthly figure in five years.

Cotton Statistics.

Liverpool, September 7.—Weekly cotton statistics: Total forwarded to mills 53,000, of which American 37,000; stock 633,000, American 356,000; imports 30,000, American 7,000; exports 1,000, American 1,000.

Silk.

New York, September 7.—Raw silk firm; prices per pound, Japanese extra, 4.75@4.85; crack double extra, 4.85@4.95; grand double extra, 5.10@5.20; double extra, 4.80@4.90; Italian ex-classical, 5.25; Shanghai steam three dancers, 5.00; Canton double extra A, 14-16s, 4.10.

Dry Goods.

New York, September 7.—Cotton goods today were in more active demand in carded gray goods for converting purposes and in some of the combed goods. Moderate buying in advance of the cotton report was noted on printed lines and some of the staple domestics. Raw silk held firm at Yokohama and was very steady here, chief market interest centering on the opening of a new exchange for future trading, September 11.

Irregular prices were reported on some of the medium and low quality silks. Burlaps were quiet in the local market. More business was reported on men's fancy wear for spring and in worsted dress goods for fall.

Seeds.

Toledo, September 7.—Cloverseed, cash imported 14.25; alsike December 19.00 bid; Timothy cash old 2.35 bid; new 2.40 bid; October 2.60 bid. Other grain and seed unchanged.

The sermon Sunday evening at First church on "The Challenge of the City," deals with much of the work done by the great institutions of Chicago.

M. B. FREEMAN DIES IN GAS-FILLED ROOM

Overcome by gas fumes, Millard Berry Freeman, 39, was found dead in the kitchen of the boarding house at 365 Washington street, early Friday morning.

"You won't see me any more," Mr. Freeman is said to have told his landlady, Mrs. O. Crane, Thursday night. The conversation took place at the home of Mrs. Crane's sister, Miss Cora Bonnell, 899 Washington street, S. W.

He was found in the kitchen with several jets on the stove and water heater open, and all windows and doors closed. Several persons in the house said that they smelled gas fumes Thursday night, but attributed it to a possible small leak, and did not investigate.

Freeman was a sheet metal worker who had roomed at Mrs. Crane's home intermittently for about five years.

The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of the Ed Bond & Condon company pending completion of funeral arrangements. A coroner's jury investigated the death Friday afternoon, and their verdict showed that Freeman died as a result of asphyxiation by illuminating gas, self-administered while temporarily mentally deranged.

He is survived by his widow; two children, a brother, and his mother, all of Phoenix, Ala. They have been notified of the death.

MRS. W. R. HURST OF LAWRENCEVILLE PASSES IN SLEEP

Lawrenceville, Ga., September 7.—Awakening early Thursday morning, W. R. Hurst, Gwinnett county commissioner-elect, found his wife, who was sleeping beside him, dead. Mrs. Hurst, 44 years of age, and the daughter of Councilman W. M. Jordan, had been in declining health for about two years, but had been about her household duties yesterday, although suffering from asthma.

She was reared near Lilburn and several years ago the family became Lawrenceville residents. Besides her husband, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. A. T. Patterson, Jr., Misses Vandora and Emma Hurst, of Lawrenceville; by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jordan, of Lawrenceville; four brothers, J. A. and A. B. Jordan, of Lawrenceville, and W. LAST DAY DAWNS FOR REGISTRATION IN CITY SCHOOLS

With registration for city schools closing at noon today, warning was issued Friday by Superintendent of Schools Willis A. Sutton to students who have changed schools and have not been registered in the new school that unless registration is effected before the hour today, they will find themselves without a seat Monday morning.

Registration is being conducted at the administration offices in the Walker Street school, and today being Saturday, the offices will close at noon, it is announced.

More than 3,000 children this year are expected to enter kindergarten Monday, beginning their school careers of 15 or 20 years, according to announcement of Miss Ethel Massengale, supervisor of kindergartens.

CAROLINA FLOODS FATAL TO FOUR

Charlotte, N. C., September 7.—(AP) The Carolinas today emerged from six days of almost steady rain, with rivers high, lowlands flooded in many places and four known deaths. There was no likelihood, however, that the situation would become serious, although damage in the lowlands will run well into six figures.

All of the deaths occurred in South Carolina, where J. F. Rataree, D. B. Poore and J. E. Glenn, trainmen, were killed when a Southern railway passenger train ran into a washout near Columbia and John Trimble, a farmer living near Columbia, was drowned.

In South Carolina some 50 state highways were reported still closed this morning, with small bridges carried away and fills washed out, but with waters expected soon to start receding.

In North Carolina all main highways were open and there had been no reports to indicate that any had been closed by high waters. In the mountains where landslides put numerous highways out of commission during the heavy rains some weeks ago all roads were reported in good condition.

The waters of all rivers in both states were reported high, with the Cape Fear river at Fayetteville expected to reach the 52-foot stage before it subsides. Much damage to crops, particularly cotton ready to pick in the lowlands, was expected, with some places reporting heavy damage already done. The Tar river was a foot out of its banks this morning at Rocky Mount and rising slowly.

POLICE INVESTIGATE STORY OF NEGRO

Jacksonville, Fla., September 7.—(AP)—Police here today were investigating an abduction charge brought by Isiah Tribble, 35-year-old negro contractor, who reported that he was kidnaped by three white men yesterday, taken to the woods off a highway near here and strapped with a two-inch leather strap for 15 or 20 minutes.

The negro reported that the white men told him they were punishing him for being interested in an Al Smith for president club and that "your case should be a warning to all of your race."

The negro was under a physician's care at his home here today. He said he had escaped his captors by running when they had beaten him and were holding a council to decide "whether they would kill me or not."

Constance Buys Hat as Former Mate Is Married

Paris, September 7—(United News.) Constance Talmadge, American motion picture actress, bought a hat today while her former husband, Captain Alastair MacIntosh, and Miss Lela Emery, of New York, were being married.

Miss Talmadge confided—between the time it took to go from the hat shop to a dressmaker's shop—that she didn't attend the wedding because she wasn't invited.

But she knows a thing or two about Scotch husbands, and she explained the advantages and disadvantages peculiar to that type of marital companion, as observed by a movie star.

"I can recommend him as a husband," she said. "But there are certain factors which must be considered in marrying a Scotsman.

"It is easy to get a divorce in Scotland, you know," she continued. "The only hardship is that you have to marry a Scotsman to get it."

The wedding was at high noon, half an hour after the movie actress arrived. She said she had a cable from Captain MacIntosh three days ago announcing the wedding.

"They must have hustled things to try and get it over with before I arrived," she added. "I wanted to go to the wedding, but really I couldn't when I didn't have an invitation."

Samoans Demand White Missionaries Be Withdrawn

Apia, British Samoa, September 7. (AP)—Demands that the London Missionary society withdraw its white missionaries from Samoa have been made by the Mau, native political organization. The natives want Samoan ministers appointed to fill the pastorates and they declared that if the demand is not met the Mau will institute a Pan-Samoan church.

The organization decided to take no notice of the maudate of a special British commission which would relieve from office all Samoan members of the Mau.

REVIVAL CONCLUDES AT HOLSEY TEMPLE

The revival meetings at Holsey temple, C. M. E. church, led by R. T. Mitchell, colored evangelist, closed Friday night. More than 500 persons heard the woman's closing sermon.

She will open a meeting at Washington Holsey temple, Macon, on Sunday, September 16, and about 200 of her Atlanta followers are planning to charter a special train and attend the opening services.

AUTOMOBILE SEIZED, LIQUOR CONFISCATED

Activities of city liquor raiders Friday night resulted in seizure of an automobile and 50 gallons of whiskey and one arrest, according to police records.

Detectives J. A. Allen and Eugene Head seized the car and arrested Willis Sullivan, of a local hotel, at the intersection of Alexander street and Techwood drive. Sullivan was taken to Fulton tower where he is being held in default of $500 bonds on charges of violating the state prohibition laws. City officers also were instructed to hold Sullivan for federal authorities.

Sugar.

New York, September 7.—Renewed weakness marked raw sugar trading today. Sugars were available at concessions, or on the basis of 3.99 for spots, duty paid, lowest level since the season of 1926. A sale of 1,400 bags of Cuban, from store, at 4.02 was reported.

New low records for the season were also established in raw futures under heavy general liquidation and hedge selling, final prices showing net losses of 3 to 8 points. The principal depression occurred in the near deliveries, particularly September, which met heavy liquidation on the circulation of 200 notices, while later deliveries were off in sympathy and under European and Cuban selling. The market opened 2 to 3 points lower and for a while held around these levels with extensive covering, but demand was insufficient to absorb the offerings. Failure of demand to broaden in the spot market, discouraged buyers, and in the late afternoon renewed weakness developed, with final prices at the low of the day. Trading was active throughout the session with approximate sales of 105,500 tons. September closed 2.05; December 2.20; January 2.21; March 2.24; May 2.31; July 2.39; September 2.45.

Refined was unchanged at 5.65 for fine granulated, but demand was light, with buyers inclined to limit fresh commitments, owing to the weakness of the raw market.

DANIELS SPEAKS FOR DEMOCRACY AT FAYETTEVILLE

Fayetteville, N. C., September 7.—(United News.)—Herbert Hoover, President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon were denounced by Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy under President Wilson, in a speech here tonight. Daniels accused the republican leaders of dishonesty, courting special privilege and failure to expose Secretary Fall and others who robbed the American people of their oil reserve.

Daniels will support Governor Alfred E. Smith for president because he believes in religious liberty. Smith would not appoint a whisky distiller to enforce the prohibition law, Daniels said.

LITHONIA AUTOIST JAILED AT TOWER FOLLOWING CRASH

Arrested after an automobile crash, in which he was slightly injured, E. L. Ogglesby, 42, of Lithonia, was being held at Fulton tower Friday night in default of a $200 bond, under a charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated.

According to County Policemen Carroll and Wilson, Ogglesby was piloting his car along Marietta street, near Inman yards, early Friday night when he swerved and crashed head-on into an outbound Marietta street car. He suffered lacerations on the left arm and about the head. He was transferred to an ambulance and brought to Grady hospital and removed to the jail after treatment.

Following the birth Wednesday of twin girls, whose arrival made her the mother of six children at the age of 21, pretty Mrs. W. G. Westmoreland was improving rapidly Friday night, according to advice from Grady hospital. The latest additions to the Westmoreland family also were reported to be hale and hearty.

Friday found the mother and father still puzzling over the selection of names for the little girls.
